There has been good fishing in the Sauguenay and tributaries since the season opened. Not a pole in Markdale but was between a plough and a worm. What an unenviable position are the poor fish! We heard of one 150 pounder being hauled out dripping.

The official board of the Methodist church, Markdale, met in the vestry on Monday afternoon, when general business was transacted. The meeting adjourned till the 10th inst. in order to make up the deficiency in the pastor's salary.

Boots and shoes, Cooper & Smith's make, from a child's slipper to a No. 12 brogan. See them and compare in style and finish with other makers and if they do not suit you in quality and price we will give a pair for nothing and send them home. Butter & Rae.

The farmers adjoining the village are being troubled very much with village leas. Those who keep fowls would be doing nothing more than right if they would keep them in their own yards during the summer months, otherwise they may find some of them missing.

McKenna & Mason are turning out some of the finest work ever built in the county of Grey. For workmanship and finish they cannot be excelled. They have just received orders for two democrat wagons, one to be sent down near Barrie, the other near Toronto. Farmers, study your interest by giving them a call.

It is about time something was done to the yard of Markdale station. Its condition is about as bad as it can be, and a disgrace to the T.G. & B. It is no easy matter for strangers to find their way from the depot to the side walk, especially at night. It is somebody's duty to see to these things, and to display a little taste in keeping the road in a passable condition.

Mr. Geo. Richardson clipped last week of a yearling ram 10 lbs. of clean wool. We are pleased to be able to notice so many heavy clips in this section of country. Sheep are so profitable, if not more so, any kind of farm stock, and it costs as much to feed poor sheep as good ones. Too much attention cannot be given to improving the breed.

Medicine taken into the stomach in concentrated form such as pills and powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these unseasonable pills is Dr. Carson's stomach and constipation bitters. They cleanse the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as dyspepsia, and indigestion. In large bottles at 50c. A. Turner & Co., Agents, Markdale.

It is impossible to pass along the gravel road, up by the churches, without noticing the great improvements that are going on in the graveyard of the English church. The incumbent not only takes a great interest in the beautifying of God's house and God's acre, but himself labours therein to convert what a few years ago was a wild corner into quite an attractive cemetery. The Rev. J. Ward will be glad to receive flowers, plants to enable him to further beautify the grounds of the English church.

The following is the common sense treatment for a horse out of condition (in fact all horses require the same treatment this time of year) a good Purging Ball following by a course of strong tonic powder. These are both to be had in Zuck's Tonic Compound and Blood Mixer, as each package contains a thoroughly good, purging ball and over a pound of strong Tonic Powder, at your druggist about 10c. A. Turner and Co., Special Agent, Markdale.

"Ignorance" sends us a critique upon the poetry published in last issue. He wants to know what the poet means by children "withered by the blast of time," and is at great loss to understand a "ruffled river flowing gently." What natural phenomenon asks "Ignorance" is a "dumpling he?" and the critique concludes by saying it was a "woful extravaganza" wish of the poets that he might "grow to life sublime."

THE RECENT REVIVAL.
To the Editor.
SIR.—I have attempted to answer your question as to the report of the Markdale revival did not agree with those recorded in the Scriptures. But I think he has utterly failed to give any light on that question. Surely he does not think his talk about immersion following conversion, and that he supposes I belong to some Baptist denomination, nor yet his challenge to discuss infant sprinkling are answers to the question? Perhaps it has occurred to him that the original question cannot be answered very satisfactorily and therefore leaves it almost, if not altogether, untouched. W. says there is no account of any case of immersion following conversion in the New Testament, or for two hundred years thereafter. Now this is a fact that Methodists do not dispute such persons sometimes, (when they cannot help it.) Why do Methodists practice what is not scriptural? Surely they ought not to perpetrate an innovation. However he wants to discuss infant sprinkling. Very well, I accept his proposition, and as he is the affirmer I shall expect him to open the discussion in your next issue. I will deny his proposition. Your &c.
CONSTANT READER.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION AT MARKDALE.
A meeting of those interested in the sports for the 24th May was called for last Friday evening at Rev. Home's, but owing to the smallness of the attendance, the meeting adjourned till Tuesday.

At the adjourned meeting, Mr. Henry having been voted to the chair, the officers for the year were elected as follows: Dr. Sproule, president; Mr. A. Turner, secretary; Mr. Lucas treasurer; Messrs W. Hasket and Young, collectors. The committee to consist of Messrs Mullarky, Large, Noble, W. Hasket, Sarjeant, and ex-officio, Mr. A. Turner.

A little discussion took place as to the day on which the sports are to be held, but with one dissentient only, the meeting was unanimous in favour of May 24.

There is no doubt but that in the hands of the committee appointed a good time may be expected.

We ought to be able to have in this town, once a year at any rate, a grand Gala and Fete Day; and all that is now required to accomplish this is a little liberality on the part of the subscribers.

METHODIST QUARTERLY MEETING.
The fourth quarterly meeting of the Methodist church, Markdale, was held on Sunday, the Rev. N. A. McDiarmid said that the past year had been one of spiritual and temporal prosperity. During the quarter many had been added to the church, and though death had broken their ranks and disease had brought others to the point of death, still there was great reason for gratitude. He also spoke of the peace and harmony existing between pastor and people. Both morning and evening services were well attended.

A LETTER FROM MONTANA.
By Frank Beattie, late of Markdale.
Big Horn River.
Since I wrote you in September, I have left the district of Miles, and am now 100 miles farther west. Miles—though called a city, has but 1000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Yellowstone river, and was founded by Gen. Miles in 1877.

Miles is the great centre for buffalo hunters, and gamblers. Sunday is its best business day, when merchants do a roaring trade, saloons are in full swing, places of amusement and auction sales roaring away. I have not heard of any 'good' people in the city.

When I wrote before I was 'dishing up the hash', I have since tried contracting on a small scale on the N.P.R. and so far have been successful. I like the country better as I go west, the valley widens and becomes more fertile. There are only a few settlers, and the yield of grain last year was small. It will never be much of a grain country, I fear, for during the 8 months past there has not been 2 hrs. rain. I think cattle raising would pay for the cattle fed on buffalo grass, though dry pastures are very fat. Sheep would do well, but would have to be protected from bears, mountain lions, &c. Only an inch of snow this winter, and excepting 3 weeks in Jan. when the thermometer jumped down to 32, the weather has been very mild indeed.

A tribe of Indians under Long Elk and Big Ox camped close to us and visited us. Three of us accepted an invitation to their camp. I imagine there were over 1000 dogs in the camp and they made a terrible noise, barking furiously. The Indians consider dog flesh good eating.

The chiefs shook hands with us and offered us seats on the buffalo hides. Long Elk has papers showing he has been to the White House at Washington, and permits to hunt buffalo. He is a tall man, and intelligent looking. Big Ox is a tall stout Indian who looks as if the affairs of state did not trouble him. Most of the Indians smoke long-stemmed pipes. The squaws were making moans. I tried to buy but thought them dear. Our conversation was limited, as our knowledge of each other's language was nil. One wished to work for money, so I set him on, gave him a wheelbarrow to move some broken rock. He was as awkward as a girl with a plough. After his first barrow-load, he came for his pay, and when I made him understand he must work till night, he angrily gave up rattling in great disgust.

Geese and ducks innumerable fill the land. Markdale sportsman could shoot game till they were weary, and then for a change go out a few miles where 4-footed animals from buffaloes to mountain rats await the gun of the sportsman.

Buffalo are fast being killed off by the hunters. Last summer I crossed prairies literally covered with carcasses the skins from which had been taken by the hunters.

Men are getting $2.50 per day on the road. Board $6 per week. Flour $14 barrel. Oats $1.25. Potatoes $3.66. Butter $1.50. Eggs $1 doz. Lumber as high as $100 per 1000 feet.

Hoping to find a better country further west, I am, Yours, &c.,
FRANK BEATTIE.
