WEDDING AT MARKDALE.

Yesterday morning about after four of the clock the streets of Markdale were alive with people immovably engaged in one of the other. Halloo! what brings you here? However, the cause of the excitement and the flutter among the ladies of the village was not hard to find, for although it had been kept pretty quiet, the secret had oozed out that on Wednesday at five in the morning at the English church, Miss Douglas was to be handed to Mr. Wm. N. Haskett, for better, for worse, &c., and to witness this ever interesting ceremony, some 160 people, mostly of the fair sex, congregated at the church.

The bridegroom and the groomsmen—Messrs A. Turner and G. Haskitt—were at their posts a few minutes before the appointed time, and very soon after five the bride, leaving upon her father's arm, and followed by the bridesmaids—Miss Maggie Douglas & Miss Purvis. The bride's dress was of India cream muslin, and cream satin, trimmed with cream spanish lace. She wore a tulle veil, and a wreath of orange blossoms. Gloves to match. Her maid's dresses were of India muslin, and cream corded silk, trimmed with spanish lace.

At the reading desk the bride was married by the Rev. J. V. Ward, and the bride and groom walked to the communion table. The Rev. J. V. Ward awaited them, and in a very short time, the ceremony was gone through. After the singing of a hymn, they retired to the vestry, where Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haskitt, were made and registered man and wife. During the intervals appropriate music was played on the organ by Miss Ford.

The church decorations were supplemented by several beautiful flowering plants, giving the edifice quite a lively appearance. After the service, the party made their way to the house of the father of the bride, where breakfast was awaiting them. At the station quite a crowd congregated to bid good-bye to the pair, who set out on a tour up the St. Lawrence, thence they will proceed to New York, and thence up the Hudson river to Albany, and from that place return to Markdale. They bear with them wherever they go the best wishes for their future happiness of a very large circle of friends.

SAD DROWNING FATALITY AT PRICEVILLE.

Yesterday afternoon, a very sad and painful accident occurred at Cullin's Lake, about one mile south of Fleisherton. It seems that Mr. N. B. Grier, general merchant of the town of Priceville, went out fishing on the lake, in a small boat. He was accompanied by two others. By some means, not yet ascertained, the boat got capsized, and the three occupants fell into the water. One was enabled to catch hold of a log, and thus save himself. The second was also able to extricate himself. Not so the other. He was unable to successfully battle with the water, and he soon sank beneath the placid surface of the clear, smooth lake.

Search was made for his body, but so far it has not been recovered. We scarcely need say that Mr. N. B. Grier was very highly respected. He has been in business some 18 months, and prior to engaging in business, he was a successful school teacher.

LATER PARTICULARS.

Grier's body has not yet been found.
