A stroke of lightning generally spares the rod and spoils the house.

A woman may not be able to sharpen a pencil, or throw a stone at a hen, but she can pack more articles into a trunk than a man can into a one-horse wagon.

A man at Des Moines hired his hired girl by mistake, and had to pay $800 to settle it. When he discovered what he had done he should have sworn he did it on purpose, and she'd have been tickled to death and worked to keep his wife from finding it out.

A kiss on the forehead means reverence, but there's no fun in it worth mentioning.

"The rich," said a Dutchman, "eat venison because it is deer, I eat mutton because it is sheep."

Maxwell.

Mr. Mark Madden formerly of this township, but now a clerk in E. B.
Nugent's Louisville Ky, left here to return to his place of business on Thursday 24th, after spending the previous ten days very pleasantly among his old school mates, and friends. It is very frequently remarked that Osprey has no attractions but am happy to find a proof to the contrary as he remarked to me when leaving that he never turned his back on his native place reluctantly as this time and if Osprey would only maintain him in his business he would rather stay than return to Kentucky, he tells some very ancient and amusing stories of the old Kentucky home.
His friends generally are very sorry that he could not stay longer among them. I think I am safely add that all the neighbors wish him a very pleasant trip and every success in his business life.

The funerals of the four young men, drowned in Brewster's Lake, took place on Friday, the 18th inst. They were all very largely attended, especially that of William Francis Wisdom, who was very highly esteemed by all who had pleasure of knowing him. The deceased was the only son of Mr. J. Wisdom con 3 Osprey. He was a young man of rare moral qualities, of more than average abilities, and of great promise. His friends and acquaintance fully demonstrated their affectionate regard to his memory, not only by following his remains to their last resting place—in the Presbyterian cemetery at Maxwell—in greater numbers than was ever seen in this part of the country, but by the expression of sympathy extended from all quarters to his bereaved parents and only sister.

On sabbath the funeral sermon was preached in the Maxwell Presbyterian church by the minister of the congregation. The attendance was so large that after all available space inside the church was occupied, large numbers remained outside.

Francis Winters, whose gallant effort to save the lives of his companions will always be spoken of in terms of the highest praises, has been very ill for some time after this terrible accident, but fully recovered.

This was crowded out last week.

Johnny's Composition on the Kangaroo.—The Kangrew ain't much of a recommend for the factory which made him, or maybe he knu in himself wen the rginal diagrams was in the safe, and rakin up such organs as wuz lef over he made his own self.
He looks in the face like a shaller goose, and when see him walkin on his narrative you don't blame nachur for giving him that expression. His legs mus been made on difrent moles, cause the last one, iz long as a torchlite perceshine but the front ones az got too mmch shortnin in. Sum Kangrews has their cloze made so tha kin carry thare familys round in their overskurts, but If I wuz a boy kangrew ide rather paddle mome kanew. Kangrew wears mustaches like cats, but a mule kin give em a yard start on the ear question an' beet em like honesty.
