STUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Tuesday the 5th, the lightning struck a stump a few rods from Mr. Hugh Smith's house, Euphrasia, shattering the stump, throwing pieces over 50 yards, and tearing up the ground, it also killed a pig the same time and place.

Yesterday, between the station and the village, on the way from the noon train, a man was smoking in the Revere bus, when a spark from his pipe lit up the clothes of a young lady in the same rig, setting fire to her parasol, a parcel and her clothes. Had it not been discovered in good time and extinguished, the damage might have proved serious.

Cattle and pigs are allowed to run at large in this village, and are a perfect nuisance. We would like to see the authorities put the law in force in this matter.

A disreputable specimen of dead beat, said to hail from Meaford, has been having a spree in Markdale, Great need is felt for a lookout for such characters when disorderly.

According to the Dundalk Herald the brass band of that place will give a concert on the 1st July. We think they ought to have it on a week day, the first being Sunday.

The Farmers Advocate for June is before us, and contains as usual valuable information to practical farmers. The independent and out spoken tone of the Advocate is a valuable recommendation in itself.

Mr. John Gardiner, Tinsmith and Hardware merchant, of Dundalk, has supplied two new cheese factories this season with milk cans, 86 in all.

ATTEMPT AT INCENDIARISM.—On Wednesday a dastardly attempt was made to fire the building occupied by G. W. Parsons. Mr. Parsons had been out, and returned about 11 o'clock, heard some noise in the shed. Proceeding to ascertain the cause, a quantity of paper thoroughly saturated with coal oil and some pine wood split finely, was found lying in the shed near several barrels of oil. Several burnt matches were found near. Had it not been discovered it is altogether likely the building, if not the contents would have been destroyed as the wind was blowing in the direction of the main building.—Dundalk Herald.

SAW MILL BURNED.—On Sunday last Colin Blyth's saw mill on the 3rd. con., Normanby was totally destroyed by fire. The direct loss will be about $1,000 for which there is no insurance. The men were all away from home at the time with the exception of Mr. Blyth himself, so nothing could be done to save the building. A great number of logs for the seasons sawing was in the yard so a serious loss will result from work being suspended. The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks carried from a smouldering heap of saw dust. Several men will be thrown out of employment, their occupation being gone there for a while.—Chronicle.

A Gorgia paper tells of a man down there who sneezed so hard he broke his back. This recalls the fact (alleged) that a large mouthed man in Kansas, a short time since, dislocated his hip joint by yawning. There is a man in Williamsport who is so round-shouldered that he has to use sticking plaster to hold his shirt on. The champion thin man lives in Wyandotte. Every time he shaves his face he nicks the razor. An old chap living on Blaud street has such a long nose that he has to take snuff in April in order to sneeze in July. The midget at a New York museum has such a small mouth that his mother kisses him through a pipe-stem.

COMMITTED.—Since January, there have been some six or seven cases of abstraction of letters at Hepworth Post Office, or going to or from it, and Inspector Spry has been at work trying to find out the culprit. The Post Master has been charged, the clerks on the trains have been charged, but still the thefts continued; until a few days ago, when a letter containing $100 was sent by the Postmaster himself addressed to Montreal. It disappeared between the Post Office and railway station and suspicion at once fell on a young man named Thos Burr, who carries the mail from the post office to the station. The Inspector had him arrested and brought before Justice Price and Rutherford in Owen Sound this morning, and sufficient evidence being given, he was committed for trial at the general Session.—O. S. Times.

MILLET.—A farmer who has long grown the ordinary millet, and having a large dairy of over 50 cows, says it is the best fodder of all he has tried, (sorghum, amber corn, or sweet corn, etc.), for making milk, whether cut green or soiling, or when first coming into bloom for hay. He gets two or three tons per acre, and will sow twenty acres this year. I have tried it repeatedly on my poor soil here, but never got a good crop—probably because not manured enough. Millet cultivated like Hungarian grass. June is early enough to sow the millet, as it matures in six to eight weeks. In latitude of 40°, sow early in May, and again every two weeks through June, and thus get a succession of crops from July 1st through August.—A. B. in American Agriculturist for June.

Henry Ward Beecher relates that once when riding on a circuit, he breakfasted at a house where Johnny cake was served. Observing a feather protruded from his cake he remarked: "Sister your Johnny cake seems to be feathering out." "Yes," replied the lady unabashed; "I told John no longer than yesterday that he must get a cover for the meal barrel or moove the hen-roost."

Osprey.

From a correspondent. If there is one thing more interesting than another in this township at the present time it is the Railway question. Though our neighbors who are better supplied with railway accommodation think we are not suffering any great inconvenience, we cannot look out in any other light than that the extension of the Credit Valley Railway from Orangeville through Osprey, would be the commencement of a new era in the history of this township.

There is a vast amount of timber, valueless as it is, which would bring thousands of dollars, and give employment to hundreds in the winter season who, as it is, spend the long winter consuming what they make during the summer.

We understand the Credit Valley company are considering the matter, and favorable hopes are entertained that the extension will be made at an early date. We assure you any information you can give through the STANDARD from time to time will be read with interest by your many Osprey subscribers.
