MARKDALE JULY. 10, 1884.

Egypt.

The egitation for the formal annexation of Egypt to England is becoming more definite and popular in the mother land. Some of the prominent politicians have been of late speaking earnestly in its behalf. It would certainly be a great blessing der for the building of the new school thoroughly enjoyed, particularly by to the land of Egypt to have a stuble and honest government. It would also be in the interest of the commerce of the world. Egypt, because of its geographical position, and because of its agricultural resources, is of good deal of importance to the world ling in connection. of commerce—of so much importance that the great commercial nations friends in Toronto. cannot well afford to allow it to continue under anarchy and dissertion as it so long has under its present system. The Suez canal is of far grater importance to other countries than to Egypt, and its safety must come? not be imperilled. England may not desire to intermeddle in the internal affairs of that ancient land, but the interests of England, and of the rest of the civilized world, are so intimately identified with the great canal that it cannot afford to stand by and see anarchy rampant there. England cannot afford to go on, year after year, putting down the internal rebellions against the week government of Egypt. It looks now as though nothing but grasping permanent possession with a firm hand will prove a true solution of Egyptian difficulty.

The village of Markdale pays into Glenelg treasury about one eighth of the entire taxes of the township independent of that portion of what comprises Ward No. 3, (Markdale Ward,) and what return has she ever ing into our village a tew days ago received? Markdlae is justly entitled to a grant of at least from $50 to $100 a year for the past ten years independent of what other portions of the ward has received, and yet she has never received the first dollar, then we would say by all means petition the harness and waggon pretty well shak. council for a grant and if they will en up. not do the square thing, then there is another course open. We do not how ever anticipate any serious opposition from the present councils, they are composed of intelligent men who will we have no doubt, act conscientious in the matter.
