MARKDALE JULY 17, 1884.

The Boom Continues.

Our enterprising townsman Mr. Hull, has purchased and is putting into his steam stove-factory a shingle machine and header, both of which will be in full operation the first of next week. Mr. H. has engaged two more hands in the cooper business. He is doing an extensive business this summer and expects to greatly enlarge it when the two roller mills get into full operation and commence to ship flour.

Mrs. Alex Kay has almost recovered her recent protracted illness.
Dr. Armstrong arrived from Port Arthur Wednesday.

The 12th at Williamsford.

Notwithstanding the dreary and threatening aspect of the weather during the first part of the day, a large number turned out at Williamsford station to celebrate the Battle of the Boyne. Early in the afternoon close to one thousand people had gathered; the Orangemen as well as others were highly pleased with the treatment they received at the hands of mine host, Mr. Vogan, who had made ample provision for the wants of the inner man. The majority of the crowd repaired after dinner to the grove adjoining the village, where John Lyons, Esq., of Markdale, gave an able and comprehensive address on orangeism, Mr. _____ of the Sauble also addressed the audience with a few well chosen remarks. About 4 o'clock the company dispersed after an orderly and enjoyable day's outing.

To the Editor of the Standard.

DEAR SIR.—The Priceville Public School Examination took place on June 27th. The school room was tastefully decked with flowers and green boughs, by the pupils and teachers. A lengthy programme was successfully carried out under the direction of Mr. Dixon, Teacher, of Sr. Department; and Miss Nicholl, Teacher of the Jr. Department. The larger pupils were examined at length in the various branches of their studies by Wm. S. ell. ex-Teacher, Revs. Edmonds and McLoud, the afternoon closed with recitations, dialogues, singing &c., by the children of both departments. The attendance of parents was tolerably good, quite a number turned out and were much gratified with the progress being made by the school in general, which reflects great credit on the teachers. Several short addresses were made by the gentlemen present, encouraging teachers to further efforts and scholars to greater progress, and during the next half year we expect a much greater advance. The next examination, we hope to see a larger turnout and a real good time, and Priceville school will stand second to none in the Township.

JUDSONVILLE, July 17th.
To the Worthy Master, Officers and Members of Grey Division Grange No. 2.

We your com., on Temperance beg leave to report. That in view of the Scot Act being about to be submitted to the Electors of this County, and from our opinion of the said act in the Counties in which it has been passed, your com. would recommend that this Division, pledge their support in favor of said Act, and that the Secy. be requested to furnish the leading papers in the County with a copy of this report. Adopted.

J. J. GRAHAM,
Chairman.

Dundalk.

From our own correspondent.

Proton and Osprey appealed against the County valuation. The investigation begins to-day in Owen Sound before the County Judge.

We had a frost on Monday night, but no damage is reported.

Rev. E. Shaw, the Jr. Minister for the Methodist church on this circuit, arrived on Saturday last.

At the Shrigley pic-nic on Thursday last, Mr. Bailey, Junr., met with an accident by falling from the merry-go-round, breaking his leg at the ankle.

On Wednesday night of last week an infant child, abandoned by its parents, was left at the door of Rev. Mr. Burwash of Horning's Mills. The Reeve of Melancthon, promptly gave it in charge of a nurse. It is thought that the mother wishing to abandon it left it there in the hope that it would be kindly cared for.

355 persons left Dundalk station to take in the celebration of the 12th in Shelburne.

Pic-nics are the rule. The thing is now getting stale, and no doubt will soon give us a rest.

Flesherton.

From our own correspondent.

The 12th of July passed off quietly in this place this year, the sound of Fife and Drum and the march of the Orangemen enlivened our streets for a while in the morning and as it was almost midnight e'er the men and music returned, but few were out to witness the procession pass through. One good brother with the fife whose wind we suppose had failed him had ceased from his labors and fallen from the ranks, but his companion with the Drum sticks failed not in his duty and it could not be said, not a sound of the Drum was heard.

The Ice Cream Social under the auspices of Flesherton Division Sons of Temperance which was held in the Town Hall last Wednesday evening, was fairly successful, there was ice-cream in abundance, an interesting program was gone through with, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Dr. Christie occupied the chair. Temperance is on the march forward in this locality and that order which is welding a mighty influence for Temperance, and for good throughout the world to-day; The Sons of Temperance has one of its flourishing and successful divisions sustained and efficiently worked in our enterprising and temperance village. Weekly, members are being added to the Society, and the practice of the principles of Love, Purity and Fidelity are daily being demonstrated. W. K. Flesher Esq., after a long absence from our village, in the old country, arrived home here safely on Monday last. He looks hale and hearty as ever. We welcome him back to our midst again.

Miss T. Hind has opened up an Ice Cream parlor in this village, and is now doing a flourishing business. All the refreshing and cooling beverages of the season can be had which is very pleasant and convenient during the sultry Summer.

R. M. Commings Esq., Carpenter of this village leaves this week for Atcheson, Kansas, he is going to join some of his fellow tradesmen who have gone before, and report pastures very green in the west we. Wish friend Commings a safe journey and every success when he gets there.

The Chatsworth correspondent to the O. S. Advertiser says: "On Thursday last a thievish old tramp struck the village, and before any notice was taken of him he had stolen a number of small articles from different places and disposed of them in others. About thirty of the young men of the village caught him near the station, dragged him over to the slaughter house, tied the cattle rope round his middle, and swung him up to the roof with the windlass. After alternately swinging and questioning him for about an hour, and exacting a promise from him never to return and to caution all tramps against visiting Chatsworth, he was allowed to go, whic he did in double quick time. Mr. Joseph Duffey superintended the hanging."
