The Salvation Army still "hold the fort" in Faversham, where they are going to build a barracks 80 x 50 feet.

Rev. J. Chisholm returned from Europe last week looking none the worse for his extended trip. Mr. De Argent, who filled his place while absent, will leave for "Queen's College," Kingston, next week.

Bush fires are numerous owing to the continued drought, causing considerable damage in some cases.

R. T. McGiff is exhibiting his Clydesdale Stallion at the Industrial Fair this week.

There is a new shoemaker at Maxwell. Capt. Ned is in Toronto this week.

Williamsonford.

From our own correspondent.
Mr. Jas. Ireton has opened out business, after his late scorching, in the premises recently occupied by Jas. Foster.

Mr. Young, tailor, has also opened in Handly's building, opposite the Queen's Hotel.

Mr. Thos. Spears has purchased a lot, where he will erect a large stone blacksmith shop.

D. C. McLogan, our station agent, has left, and Charlie — takes his place. The latter is very popular, especially with the gentler sex.

Mr. C. Price has his new store up and closed in and is pushing it towards completion.

Mr. H. Foster has commenced buying grain, which makes things more lively.

Our fall show which takes place here on the 8th October is likely to be the best yet held; entries are now already coming in and a large exhibit is expected. The directors are highly pleased with the posters, which were printed at the STANDARD office.

Priceville.

From our own correspondent.
Priceville fair, held on Monday, 15th inst., was a success in both quantity and quality. The number of cattle brought out was large and quite an improvement in flesh was noticeable. The sales were numerous, over one hundred head changed hands. Prices were low, 3 year-old steers and heifers selling from $25 to $35 per head. Several horses were offered but no sales reported. Proceeds of fair laying between $2,500 and $3,000 in the hands of the farmers in this vicinity.

Miss R. Nicholl, dressmaker in this place, is about leaving for the North-West. "We shall meet and we shall miss her" in the Sunday School and elsewhere.

Mr. John McLeod is building himself a new house. It has been said "New stoves mean new cooks." Tell me whether this holds good in houses (Batchelors I mean).

Dr. Hixon is working into a good practice. His success with the various cases with which he has had to deal, shows him to have a thorough knowledge of his profession. This, with his upright, manly principles, pronounces him a man in whom his patients may feel the utmost confidence.

The Priceville Public School is quite a busy place this session. The two departments, under the instruction of Mr. Dixon, Principal, and Miss M. Nicholl of the junior, are making rapid improvements. We understand two of our citizens have offered a special prize to be given in each department to the pupils making the best progress during the year; and we are having an active, live school right along.

The farmers have commenced threshing. All agree that the grain is turning out well, is of good quality and will compare favorably with other Counties.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup will remove worms and cure, quicker than any other medicine.

Traverston.

From a Correspondent.
Times are lively here at present. Cliff and son is doing an extensive business in the woolen mill. We understand they have lost one of their best knitters in the person of Miss Martha Banks, who is gone to Amaron to visit friends. We expect her to return this week if some lucky young man does not make her his own. Miss Esther Pearth has also gone, to Hamilton. We wish them a pleasant trip.

Harvest is over and threshing commenced.

There was a fine shower here Tuesday.

There is talk here of a grand wedding shortly.
