Mr. W. T. Rundle has forsaken the ranks of the batchelors. We feel lonesome now without him. Dear me, what will become of the rest of us. Council met on the above date for anxious, (we had almost said spoiling) approved.

"Some one to love and cherish them"

The bride and groom arrived home on Monday evening, when the band serenaded at their residence. It said "Walter" is getting over his bashfulness, and now thinks it foolish to be faint hearted, the probability is that there will be another wedding before lcng.

Mr. Clark has the brick work of his new stores completed. Messrs. Hanbury & Bell are bricking the stores occupied by G. W. Parsons, and the Post office. Mr. Gardiner is veneering his house and shop. have been made in the appearance our village this summer.

Dr. McWilliam's new residence will be late before completed as the brickwork is not yet begun.

The Council of Royal Templars has to join shortly. We hope it will prove permanent. It should, as a number of our best men are at the head of it.

Ratepayer has been trying to "lay out" the teachers through the columns of our local paper, for carelessness with regard to the miserable old shell known as a school house. The prevailing opinion is, that in view of a new building, both trustees and teachers have been rather careless about the old one. It is really no wonder that the trustees do not care to repair, but still the teachers might have preyented it from looking uninviting and uncomfortable.
