Mrs. Robert Hooper, of Kinloss, county of number of years, and am glad to say to public as well as friends that McGregor's EAST GREY FALL SHOW.

The most delightful weather favored this exhibition throughout, but, owing doubtless to the fact that Collingwood and South Grey fall shows were going on at the same time. The exhibit in many respects fell below that of former years, yet the attendance was well up to the average, the gate receipts being $194. The show of horses were fair in number, but below the average in quality. In cattle there was a very large exhibit, chiefly grades. Mr. Jake Halley lost a fine cow on the heated. R. Oliver had a fine herd of Devons, and O'Brien Bro's had a good herd of Shorthorns. The exhibit of son was the chief exhibitor, having 37 head of very fine sheep. There were but few pigs. In the agricultural was an almost entire absence of either. WE had a pleasant call last week Mr. J. H. Heard of Flesherton, showed a large gate which is well worthy of favorable mention, and should be seen on every farm. We will give further details and prize list next week.

THE Grey Review speaks disparagingly of the quality of the reading matter badly whipped in quantity, but the editor of that paper knows well that the class of reading matter served up to the STANDARD readers is infinitely superior to that of his paper, which is to a great extent a rehash of silly personal twaddle against his more successful town cotem. The STANDARD is second to no local paper in the district for local news, and that which is not of a local character is both deeply interesting and instructive. We do not believe in puffing ourselves, bat we must rise in self defence.
