SELLING OUT!

SELLING OUT!

PRICES SLAUGHTERED!

Having tully decided to give up business in Markdale on Feb. 24th, 1886, that being the day on which my lease expires, I will offer at greatly reduced prices the whole of my very large and well assorted stock of General Goods, amounting in value to over "Twenty Thousand Dollars" ($20,000).

This is no humbug or advertising scheme. I am bound to sell out, and sell I will. No matter what other merchants may tell you, do not be humbugged by them. Don't you lay out even a ten cent piece until you have called and seen my stock and ascertained prices. I expect a tremendous rush for my goods during this fall and winter. I will make the prices right for you every time. Please call and see for yourself and be convinced that I will only sell you first-class goods at much lower prices than you can purchase the commoner goods for that are kept in other stores.

The Canadian Pacific.

The Canadian Pacific railway is now an accomplished fact. From one shore of the continent to the other the iron road stretches across interminable plains, over magnificent ruins, through savage passes, and up mountain ranges that were unknown before the pioneers of the line made their memorable survey. From Winnipeg to Calgary the work was easy, but the line of the railway from Calgary to Kamloops must be regarded as one of the engineering triumphs of the world. For the first time in the history of men the passage of the Silkirk range has been made as easy as that over Salisbury Plain. The benefits of this great undertaking to Canada will be inestimable. British Columbia has now been joined to the sister States. New Westminster is within a week of Ottawa. The great timber supply of Puget Sound; the Columbia fisheries; the Alaska seal industries; the agricultural produce of Vancouver's Island have now a new and speedy outlet to the devouring East. The population there now fear no longer, in the same degree, their want of coast defences. Within seven days troops, and artillery, ammunition may reach them from military headquarters. Portions of Asia, too, may find this new space of civilization a shorter and cheaper route to European markets. The work is a great monument to humane skill, courage, and endurance. It is the greatest work yet accomplished by Canada, and we join hands with our brothers across the Atlantic in celebrating its completion.—London Echo.

Fell Between The Cars.

Last Wednesday 14th, a brakeman named Wm. Jones was walking along on top of the way freight going north at Orangeville junction, and fell between the cars to the track. Four cars and the yan passed over him and cut his body in two. When his mangled form was picked up by his comrades a few moments afterward life was extinct. He was formerly a conductor on the Northern railway, and resided at Devonport, where he leaves a wife and small family to mourn his sudden demise. The remains were taken to that place the same evening.
