

COUNTERFEITER CAPTURED.

An Owen Sound Soda Water Factory Contained.

DETECTIVES RAID THE FACTORY AND FIND A FULL SET OF COUNTERFEITING APPARATUS AND IMPLICATING LETTERS.

Owen Sound, June 17.—Detectives McGowan and O'Leary made a raid on the counterfeiting establishment in the Owen Sound, and secured the implements and a quantity of unfinished

Monday night last Detective McGowan well known here in connection with the Kepple murder case, was here in company with Detective O'Leary, of Ottawa, and at once communicated with the town

Up to a late hour last night they were busy in their search for an entire secret. About 4 o'clock they secured the premises, in company with Police Constables Spence and O'Leary, went to the residence of Jno. McGowan who runs a soda water factory,

SEARCH OF THE PREMISES, and found ladders, punches, counterfeiting blocks, metal, and other articles used in making counterfeit money. They had just finished the work when Smart came in and was placed under arrest. The detective and police left the place, and Smart in the lock-up. The work of securing the molds and other articles now had to be done. Detective McGowan

LAI A LITTLE PLAN. He believed there was more to be found by putting up a little job on the part of the parties a further seizure of articles was made as they were carried away to be destroyed.

Your correspondent visiting Detective McGowan's room this morning found a complete mint was found. Balls and queer looking machines and quantity of unfinished coin quarters and fifty cent pieces in various stages of completion were lying over the table and dressing case, making it look like a workshop. The tools were evidently of home manufacture, and much of the work was cleverly done.

Letters were also found in Smart's possession connecting him with this business, and placed things still more clearly. On coming before Police Magistrate Spencer this morning, the case was adjourned till the Crown Attorney was ready to proceed. Great credit is to be attached to the conduct of the detective in this job. Detective McGowan was well known and no doubt watched, but he managed very ably to ALLAY ALL SUSPICION all the time for action arrived. Suspicion has been attracted to this place for years, which, till now, has baffled all efforts at discovery, and everybody was astonished at the case being so quickly terminated. It may be stated that Detective McGowan has had an open eye toward this town since he was here on the Kepple murder case from having then seen some counterfeit money. Detective O'Leary, who is here for the Dominion Government, is greatly elated over the success of the capture, and Constable Spence and Daley are highly complimented for their work and especially in connection with the search of the premises and the working up of the clues.
