

ENTERTAINING A ROBBER.

A Wound of Man in the Backyard Fell into Good Hands. One morning just as daylight...

HE HAD A BULLET IN THE SHOULDER AND ANOTHER IN THE OLF OF THE LEG. Both were still in the flesh...

HOW TO DRESS HIS WOUNDS, and, notwithstanding the presence of the lead in his body...

ONE EVENING, as the three sat talking, there came a strange knock at the door.

THE MAN HAD DISAPPEARED, having opened the window and climbed down on a shed.

IT WAS NEARLY FIVE YEARS after the stranger left the farm house that Rush one day received a letter from the prison at Joliet.

CORN SOWING In a process conducted by the agency of tight boots all the year round.

THE GREAT REPUTATION of Briggs' Electric Oil is such that it has induced unprincipled persons to adopt other names as near like it as possible.

PATONS OF HUSBANDRY—WIVES. Don't use any more noxious purgatives such as Pills, Salts, Etc.

THE WORLD OVER.

The eight members of the Fraser family in Plover, N. B. are 597 years old. Their mother died recently at the age of 100 years.

A California cow swallowed a stick twenty inches long and nearly an inch thick, and in due course of time it worked its way out of her side without doing her much damage.

Five Chinese stowaways were found on a Pacific mail steamer at San Francisco on the other day.

A small boy in Bangor, Me., thought it would be fun to tie the paper and straw to his dog's tail and set them afire.

Joe Harris of New London found a fat pocketbook, and as soon as he could find the owner restored it to him.

On the first Sunday in August one of the employees in a tannery at Dexter, Me., sharpened his razor on a strap on which the carriers sharpened their knives.

A fine fish story comes from the Snoker State. It is that a Genesee man floating down the Illinois went to sleep, leaving a stout fish line dangling in the water.

Mary S. Martin of Philadelphia, a member of the Society of Friends, saw William C. Eisenhower beating his horse.

Continued dry weather near Danville, Ill., led Samuel White to dig a well. He bored twelve feet, and struck water that flowed so freely that the dry bed of a creek near by has been converted into a fine stream.

James Myer, Jr., of Kingston was raking hay with a wire horse rake drawn by a mule.

While the Bashwick Rifles, a crack Georgia company, was drilling the other evening a despatch, apparently from Washington, was handed to the Captain.

Loe Feng, a Chinese woman, brought to California as a slave for base uses, and sold to Ah Kee for a wife, has brought suit against him for divorce.

James Lyon of Elmira desired a photograph of his fine St. Bernard dog. When the dog saw the camera pointed at him he suspected that something was wrong and bolted out of the door.

A CURE FOR DRUNKENNESS. Opium, morphine, opal, tobacco, and kindred habits. The medicine may be given in tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it if so desired.

A Free Fight. The great reputation of Briggs' Electric Oil is such that it has induced unprincipled persons to adopt other names as near like it as possible.
