THE DEATH OF DAN'S DOG.
 Two lads of this town their names I'll not mention, To kill Treford's dog was their special intention; For tearing Maud's stockings, And Billie's blue britches. When Dan trotted off with the dog on a halter, And Tom with his musket came quietly after;
 So Dan tied the dog to an old rotten root,
 And Tom crept along and made ready to shoot.
 Says Dan, are you sure the gun goes off easy?
 For if Rover gets back little Jack will go crazy, When Dan he looked back and started to grin, While Tom to the gun trigger tied a long string.
 Tom stood around till he made a good figure, Took deliberate aim and then pulled the trigger, Click went the hammer but little exploded, Ah! sure muttered Dan, the gun is not loaded.
 Dan took the gun and picked up the powder, Remarking to Tom it would make it go louder.
 And pointed the piece in the proper direction, When off went the gun like a country election.
 Dan pulled on the trigger without any suspecting, While the force of the bullet spoiled Rover's collection; And Dan he went off in another direction, So Tom said 'twas better for Dan on the section.
 So Rover got loose by breaking the halter,
 And over he went right into the water, While Dan with a stick to kill him he tried, Till the blood of poor Rover did crimson the tide.
 But Rover was hardy and made his way out, And Daniel you bet he looked down in the month, Now Tom you steal around and drive the dog out, And I'll watch with a stick and give him a clout.

BLOOD.
 STRATFORD, Aug. 13th, 1885
 It is with pleasure I bear testimony to the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Jug's medicine from which I have received great relief. I have been using both the medicine and pills since last winter since which time I have been gaining strength daily and am now nearly fit for business, while during seven years previous have been entirely unfit to do any kind of work. I kept the medicine constantly on hand and cannot speak too highly in its praise. I tried numerous remedies but received no relief until I tried Dr. Jug's Medicine, and will be most happy to recommend it to all who may apply to me for reference.
 I remain, your yours truly,
 WILLIAM WARBURTON.

FREE TRADE.
 The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicine, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Doan's German Syrup as the reduction of twenty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottle containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size, the August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicine in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottle will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and of village civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size.
 E. O. W.

NOTHING LIKE IT.—"I was nearly used up with a heavy cold, from which I got no relief until I tried Hayard's Peppermint Balm.
 I found it a sure cure. There is nothing like it," says Edward Cousins, Ransom, Ont.
