MARKDALE, JUNE 23, 1887.

QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

Tuesday last was observed as a public holiday by the business men of Markdale.

A heavy rain fell in the forenoon which however passed off and the afternoon was beautiful.

BASE BALL MATCH.

A return match between the Blantyre Knockers and Markdale Stars was played on the beautiful Agricultural grounds and was witnessed by a number of our citizens, who manifested a deep interest in the play. The game was very friendly though hotly contested resulting in a victory for the "Stars" by 17 to 12 runs in nine innings. The home team provided a luncheon at the Markdale House after which the visiting Club took their leave highly pleased with the treatment they received.

GARDEN PARTY.

The English Church S. S. garden party held at the residence of Wm. Lucas, Esq., was largely attended and much enjoyed. Mr. Lucas has a beautiful place for such a party, and the large number present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The "operetta" Laila was well played and received the applause of the company.

The grounds were well lit with Chinese Lanterns; the ice-cream bar was well patronized and all passed off pleasant and satisfactorily.

With the exception of the above our village was exceeding quiet.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Queen's Jubilee was celebrated in a most enthusiastic manner all over the Empire and also in other Lands.

A young man named James Coult was killed and two gunners seriously injured by a premature discharge while firing a royal salute from the cannon.

The Presbyterian Review—published in Toronto by the Presbyterian News Co.—is enlarged and very much improved, being now the cheapest denominational newspaper for its size in Canada.

The Toronto Mail has recently been giving interesting illustrated sketches of various towns and their leading business men and business places, Churches, Schools &c. Their travelling agent was in Owen Sound last week on that business.

Manitoba is moving with the times. Following the example of the older provinces, the Legislature has passed an amendment to the municipal act, giving to all females who are property holders whether married or not the right to vote at municipal elections. This is but an act of justice. Women who pay taxes should have the same rights as men.

The question of "Sabbath Observance" has engaged the attention of the various Church "parliaments" recently, and the arguments have been logical, forcible and decisive in the direction of enforcing a strict observance of the "day of rest." The laws of nature, as well as experience and the commands in Scripture all say it is good, profitable and right to rest the seventh day.

The various annual Assemblies of the different denominations which have been convened in numerous parts of the Dominion recently have given no uncertain sound on the prohibition question, and though the fight against the great evil—the liquor traffic—is a hard one, and its supporters unscrupulous, yet the prohibition sentiment is growing, and will—it is hoped—be long sufficient to sweep the curse from our land.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada met in Winnipeg last week. Their next annual meeting will be held in June at Halifax.

The C. P. B. Steamer Athabaska ran upon a smooth sloping rock near Cove Island last week during a heavy fog. Messengers were sent to Tobermore where a boat was secured which took the passengers (some 75 persons) on to Owen Sound. The vessel was laden with 30,000 bushels wheat, part of which was thrown overboard. The boat was released from her perilous condition some days after with the assistance of a tug, and arrived at Owen Sound on Monday last none the worse.

Canon Demoulin, Rector of St. James' Church, Toronto, after touching logically on the moral and religious aspects of Sunday Street Cars—in the course of a sermon recently-wound up the following pertinent paragraph:—"We have said nothing of the argument about Sabbath desecration. No work which is really promotive of men's physical, mental and moral well-being can be desecrating whenever or wherever it is performed. Even under Judaism, "the Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath."

Berkeley

From our own correspondent.

James Gillespie strained his leg while peeling tanbark recently.

Joseph Gawley caught a Crane last Sunday. He let it go again and it went south.

There has been considerable weather this week and strong indications for more.

Meaford Road.

Mr. Thos. Dunlop has raised his new frame barn; Messrs W. Shores and D. Graham were the captains. Shores and his men came out ahead; no accidents.

The Trustees have gotten the fence around the school grounds repaired and a new pump in the well.

It has been decided to have the annual picnic in connection with the Sabbath School here, at "Bells Lake" on Dominion Day.

The Rev. Mr. Ayers will preach his farewell sermon in the Wesley Church next week.

Mr. R. Buchanan has disposed of several hay forks through this Township which he and Mr. Brodie are now busy putting up.

Mr. A. Johnston has purchased the old Hall farm.

Traverston.

Business has been exceptionally lively in Traverston during the past few weeks. Mr. Wm. Carney has been busy repairing the saugeen bridge. It is now completed and has been inspected by members of the council, who pronounced it an excellent sample of engineering skill.

Messrs Bliss and Elder have shipped during the past week several thousand feet of lumber to the Massey Co. Toronto.

Mr. Archie Robinson, met with a severe accident on Wednesday last; while engaged in loading lumber on the cars at Markdale, one of the cars moved away, causing Mr. R. to fall on his back across the rail, thereby giving his back a bad wrench. At latest accounts he is progressing favorably.

Building prospects are good this season. The stone work of Mr. I. Elder's barn is nearly completed and the framers will soon commence work.

Mr. D. Sweeny also intends building, in the near future, he has the lumber drawn on the ground for the purpose of building a dwelling house. Mr. Bess's excursion boat, "The Moonlight Wanderer" has been idle for some time in consequence of a lack of fuel, and the rocky cliffs no longer echo with her sonorous notes.

Our Chemist is at present grappling with the theory, that limestone can be used as a substitute for coal; if his researches terminate satisfactorily, the placid bosom of the saugeen will be ruffled once more by this nocturnal wanderer.
