There are many so-called homes, and there are thousands of real homey homes. And I me that there exists a vast difference between the two. The so-called home may abound in richness. It may pessess velvet carpets, the costlicet of furniture and fittings, and yet except in name be nothing In many homes the inmates mean to try to especially delightful. be as unpleasing as possible. We may wonder at the cause, and yet if we look the matter squarely in the face in nine cases out of ten, we will soon find that the fault commenced with the heads of the house, the parents. When a young couple begins life for themselves in their new home, it remains chiefly wth them what kind of a house it may be. The husband may be a good man in every sense of the word. He may provide well for his family. His home may be a marvel of costly fittings, and yet if when he comes home at night he neglects to smile, kiss his wife as warmly as in their "courting days," if he buries his nose in the newspaper for the entire evening, vouchsafing scarcely a word to the other members of the family, he is not doing his duty as the head really-truly home. If the wife is so tak- Giers, who, freed from the oppression of en up with her dresses, and her concerts, Pan-Slavist party since M. Practical Recipes.

tomatoes will make one gallon strained.

Tomato Soy .- One peck tomatoes, one in slices; one tablespoonful each of ground quarter cup salt, one half pint vinegar. Boil one hour slowly altogether, cool and bottle for use.

Tomato Catsup.—One peck ripe tomatoes; cut up, boil tender and sieve through wire sieve; add one large tablespoonful all spice, one large tablespoonful cinnamon, one tablespoonful cayenne pepper, one-quarter pound salt, one-quarter pound mustard, one pint vinegar. Boil gently three hours; bottle and seal while warm.

COCOANUT PIE.—For A. M. One pint. milk, four eggs, one cup sugar, one teaspoonful extract lemon, one and a half cupfuls grated cocoanut, line well, greased pie plate one quarter inch thick, take ball of pasteflour it well and proceed with palm of left hand pressed against edge to push the paste from centre into a thick high rim on edge of plate, fill while in oven, bake in moderate oven twenty minutes.

The above is a good recipe for plain custard pie by leaving out the cocoanut.

WALNUT CATSUP .- Take green walnuts before the shell is formed (usually in a proper state early in August), grind them or pound them in an earthen or marble mortar, press weekly or fortnightly. squeeze out the juice through a coarse cloth and add to every gallon of juice, one pound of anchovis, one pound salt, four ounces cayenne pepper, two ounces black pepper, one ounce each of ginger, cloves and mace and the root of one horseradish. Boil all together until reduced to one-half the quantity. Pour off and when cold bottle tight; use in three months.

COCOANUT CAKE. Three-quarters 2 cup butter, two cups sugar, one and one-half pints flour, five eggs, one teaspoonful baking powder. Rub the butter and sugar to a white light cream. Add the eggs, two at a time, beating five minutes between each addition; sift the flour with the powder which add to the butter, etc., and the milk, spread between the layers grated coounus and pastry, cream in proportion of a cupful of the former to two of the latter. Better Feeling Between Germany and Bussia-Emperor William's Health.

Berlin, Sept, 8 .-- The prospect of a settlement of the Bulgarian imbrogilo is more hazy than ever. Nothing definite is known as to Prince Bismarck's policy. It is certain that official circles retain the belief that, whatever is happening the Austro-German alliance remains intact. It is believed that there is better feeling between Russia and Germany as a result of Bismarck's desiring to cooperate with the Czar in his present policy of securing respect for the treaty of Berlin.
