The Rev. Dr. Wild's Sermons.

"The Canadian Advance" is the name of a new 8 page religious, literary and home journal, published at Toronto by Yeigh & Co. Having succeeded to the Parkdale News it published the only authorized and verbatim reports of the Sunday-evening sermons of the well-known divine, Rev. Joseph Wild, D. D. Besides being a religious journal in a broad and unsectarian sense it represents the Canadian Congregationalists, and judging by the ability displayed in the number before us, editorially and typographically, it is an organ which reflects credit on such an influential denomination. The subscription price is only one dollar a year, and it is on sale at the newsdealers.

That Bad Man.

SOME OF THE INFLUENCES THAT MAKE SINNERS OF US INSTEAD OF SAINTS!

Moral characteristics are too often the outgrowth of physical causes. If so, should a man with a diseased body be trusted with armies, banks, railroads or other great enterprises?

In order to strengthen the mind we must strengthen the body. But in aiding physical force, certain muscles are frequently strengthened, because of their use, at the sacrifice of the parts of the body unemployed.

The carsman devotes the muscles that are brought into use in rowing, and by continually developing them he is prepared for the great event. The poet and the artist study nature to improve the mind and the eye.

To enable one to employ all his forces to the best advantage, the body must be in a healthful condition, so that all parts may fully perform their functions, and thus elevate the mind by strengthening the body.

The irritable man, the unjust man, the unsuccessful man, the woman in her duties of life, the counting room defaulters, and the thousands continually making failures, receive too little charity, even when the result is prostration by disease, or sudden death by suicide, or some terrible crime. For not until life is ended, and the result of the post-mortem examination is known, can the physician declare that the cause was organic derangement of the system. They pronounced it blood-poisoning melancholy, loss of vigor, or nervous prostration. These so-called diseases, nine times out of ten, arise from the kidneys, which are diseased so that they cannot expel the waste matter from the blood.

There are hundreds of thousands of people who do not know that the same quantity of blood that passes through the heart (this much favored and admired organ), passes also through the kidneys. If the latter organs are healthy, injurious matter is not retained, but the pure blood that has become filtered by the little hair-like tubes which fill the kidney goes to the heart to be diffused through the entire body producing health, and again taking up deadly waste matter, as it goes.

But if the kidneys are diseased, the uric acid attacks the weakest organ in the body, which must eventually give way. It is then that the physician and the patient treat what are really the effects, not the cause. The strong point that the proprietors of Warner's safe cure make is that their great remedy cures so many general diseases because it corrects the cause, leaving the effects to right themselves.

Now, nearly every one who becomes prostrated, is, if fortunate enough, able to secure the attentions of a physician, who seeks to make an analysis of the fluids passed. We have no doubt that the founders of this great Warner's safe cure, have awakened the medical men from their lethargy on the importance of urinalysis.

We are to-day in receipt of a little book, Warner's safe cure pamphlet, in which we find very valuable information in regard to diseases, the cause of their existence and their cures. It is very ingeniously put before the readers in conversational style, the reader asking questions, and the publishers in their answers make very plain some points but seldom understood. This matter will be received with much more interest than the mass of stuff which is floating about the country, proclaiming the various merits of pretended nostrums.
