Total amount being $22.00. The reeves orders were issued on the treasurer to pay as follows, viz:— John McKenzie, $10.00, relief for R. Opening of the New Methodist Church at Epping.

(FROM THE MIRROR.) The opening services in connection with the new Methodist church at Epping were commenced on Sabbath last, Rev. John Patts, D. D., President of Toronto Conference, preached at 11 a. m. and 6 p. m. The church was crowded to overflowing at both services. In the morning the reverend Doctor took for his text: "I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the house of the Lord." Psalm, cxxii, 4; and in the evening he preached from Ephesians iii, 8, "Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ."

The new church, which is of solin brick, and which is known as the Mount Hope Methodist Church, stands on the south west corner of lot number 19, con. 4, Euphrasia, (one of the Epping corners), the site, which is a very pretty one, having been generously donated by Mr. Wm. McConeill who also contributed by a large cash subscription toward the erection of the building. The church is 28x44 with a basement the full size. The architectural design is of the most modern, and the interior fittings throughout are cheery and attractive and are suggestive of comfort and convenience. We feel safe in saying that though not the largest it is by far the neatest church in the township if not, indeed, in any country place in northern Ontario. The bricklaying and plastering were done by Messrs Sparling & Son of Clarksburg, the wood work by Mr. James Thompson of Meaford, and the painting by Mr. George Marshall of Griersville. The work of each of these contractors is highly creditable to them and is most satisfactory to all concerned. The cost of the building so far (the interior of the basement not being yet completed) is $1346.44, but of course this does not include the hauling of material and other labor performed gratuitously by the members and adherents. Of the above amount $207 was subscribed on Sunday morning, $700 had been previously subscribed and it is confidently expected that with collections of last and next Sabbath, when the dedication services are to be continued, Rev. P. D. Will and Rev. Richard Clarke to preach morning and evening respectively, and with the proceeds of the tea meeting to be held on Monday evening the amount unprovided for will be reduced to considerable less than $300. We heartily congratulate the good people of Epping and vicinity upon this excellent showing, and upon the erection of so beautiful an edifice, and in the words of one of the hymns selected by Dr. Potts we pray: Here, Lord, display thy saving power, While temples stand and men adore.

Letter of Condolence.

The following resolution was unanimously passed at the last meeting of Lodge No. 141 A. O. U. W., Markdale, Dec. 12th, 1887. To C. W. Rutledge,

DEAR BROTHER.—We the officers and members of this lodge learning of your affliction in the death of your beloved wife, desire to convey to you our warmest feeling of sympathy in this your time of sore bereavement. We recognize in this sad event the hand of an unerring father, on whose almighty arm and all sufficient grace it is your privilege to rest. And as you journey life's pathway alone and grieve for one who was ever a kind and faithful wife, be comforted in the thought that she reigns among the blessed in the better land, that her removal was an act of infinite love, and that the separation is but for a little season. To His sure word of promise we commend you and the dear ones left, praying that he may be a father to the fatherless and that he may pour into your sore and wounded heart that needed balm which we in our fondest sympathy are unable to give.

Signed in behalf of the members of Lodge 141, A. Wilson, H. Forster, H. McKay.

IMPROBABILITIES SOMETIMES BECOME REALITIES—A TRUE WOMAN'S FIDELITY.

Several works bearing unique titles, written in fascinating style, and giving evidence of wonderful imaginative power have lately been received by the reading public with much popularity and pleasure.

Perhaps the most striking of them is the book bearing the odd title of "She." In this the author has fairly outdone himself in his popular line. Ayesha and her beloved Kallikrates are unique characters in fiction. Ayesha, the heroine, is a beautiful creature who tasted of the essence of nature's forces at the fountain head, and became immortal. Her patient waiting for the coming of Kallikrates, the beloved of her youth, whose individuality was maintained through centuries, though the change called death regularly occurred, only to be followed by rebirth, is a fine illustration of woman's fidelity.

The closing scene, when she conducts Kallikrates to the very centre of the earth, the birthplace of all life, in order that he may taste of immortality, is a fit climax to the fine creation. The question naturally suggested by this strikingly original story is whether there is not somewhere in nature, a potent force whereby life may at least be temporarily prolonged.

Mrs. Annie Jenness Miller, editor of "Dress" says: "In every instance Warner's Safe Cure has the effect to give new energy and vitality to all my powers." Mme. Gray, teacher of Oratory and Physical Culture at Syracuse, declares: "Before I tried physical culture and Warner's safe cure, I was a confirmed invalid. I owe much to that excellent remedy, and do not hesitate to acknowledge it."

Human life seems too short, though men in former ages lived longer than those of the present. History tells us that they lived more in accordance with nature's laws—their mode of living was extremely simple, and in their daily life they followed the dictates of human intelligence.

If sickness comes, we of to-day, seek the remedy among the artificial forces instead of resorting to the field of nature.

If when diseases come, we would consult nature, the chances are that we would then treat the cause of such disorders. Modern research has shown that most of the commonly known diseases owe their origin to the unhealthy state of the kidneys, the blood purifiers of the system, and if they are kept in a healthy state by the use of Warner's safe cure, a vegetable compound and simple production of nature, much of the prevailing sickness would be happily averted.

It is probable that the author of "She" derived many of his beautiful imaginings from close communings with nature, for we are all agreed that whatever is of or from nature, is more beautiful and wholesome, than that which is artificially constructed.

The quarterly meeting of Grey District Lodge No. 28, Independent Order of Good Templars, met in Markdale on Monday the 19th when seven subordinate lodges were represented. District Chief Rev. J. J. Noble of Hepworth presiding. Several committees were appointed so that the work of District might be systematically managed, it being but recently organized. The visiting delegates were cordially entertained by the members of Jubilee Lodge here. This lodge gave an entertainment in the evening and the hall was crowded to the doors. The programme consisting of readings, recitations, vocal and instrumental music and addresses by Revs. J. J. Noble, A. Wilson, Hosking and Buggin was ably rendered and a very enjoyable and profitable time was spent. This lodge which has been only a few months organized is to be complimented on the grand success of this their first concert as also for the strength and influence to which they have already attained.
