Standard Correspondence.

Bad roads and unchangeable weather are the greatest difficulties we have to contend with this winter. The last week has been more favorable. We hope it may continue to improve.

R. T. McGirr, of Feversham, who recently got his hotel destroyed by fire and obtained no insurance, is going to replace it with a more commodious one as soon as circumstances will permit.

Under the auspices of the Buckingham Grange a grand entertainment was given by the young people of that locality last Saturday evening, commencing at 7:30 and continued until 11:30. A programme consisting of recitations, dialogues, readings and vocal music, was successfully carried out.

Mr. James Inkster accompanied by his brother-in-law, John Kinghorn, recently took their departure for Ohio they bade a long farewell to their many warm friends. A few nights previous to this a band of jovial fellows with a violin received an invitation to spend an evening before their departure. They enjoyed themselves to the utmost degree possible while the violin made the rooms resound with its harmonious strains, and the boys tripped the light fantastic toe, very gently until the trempeter from his roost suddenly told them of the midnight hour when they departed wishing them success in their yankee career, and warning them to advocate socialism.

Lieutenant Coombs, head officer in S. A. Barracks Feversham, delivered his farewell address on the eve of Feb. 20th. He has spent eight months severe fighting in this vicinity with little or no effect. We wish him success in his new outpost.

W. J. McGirr and C. Neil have just returned from Toronto, from purchasing their spring stock.

There is going to be held an Association of the teachers of this township, Osprey, on Saturday March 10th. Mr. M. Mullin, of 12th con., Osprey an old pioneer in this township, has given up his present life and quit farming, and is going to live retired in a handsome cot on the banks of the Beaver, Feversham.

Standard Correspondence.

Mr. Jas. Foster had an addition to his family, a son. A gloom has been cast over our village by the sudden death of Mrs. Jas. Freeborn, on the 1st March. She was taken suddenly with inflammation which did its work rapidly, and in three days she was a corpse. Her husband was from home as well as some members of the family, he returned twenty-four hours before she expired while some of the family did not arrive until after. The bereaved husband and family have the warm sympathy of the whole community.

The funeral was largely attended on Friday when Rev. Mr. Thibadeau conducted the service assisted by Rev. Mr. Craig. Rev. Mr. Boyle was also present as a mourner. Mrs. Freeborn was a christian woman and died in the triumph of faith.

The entertainment held by the Presbyterians was well attended considering the state of the weather. Dr McCullough was called to the chair, which he filled creditably. Rev. Thibadeau was first speaker and gave a short and spicy address. The Howey choir rendered excellent service in music, also Miss Might; the latter gave a rendering accompanied by three children which was highly appreciated. Mr. J. R. Anderson, the famous scotch vocalist was highly applauded. He is a master vocalist. Rev. Mr. Wilson gave a stirring address which was very enjoyable and interesting concert. There were a few somewhat disappointed in not having the customary tea splash, and complained of a vacancy in the inner man.

Our village constable was brought before the powers that be on Saturday for having used improper language in the Queen's Hotel, and evidence went to prove that the landlord was guilty of the same offence. Squires Hamilton and Price could not agree and decided to call in a third J.P., so the decision was deferred until Thursday.

The fire was given and soon help was at hand but all efforts to save the building failed. The contents on the first and up stairs about two hundred dollars worth, where the fire originated, was destroyed.

Artemesia township council council chambers on Monday Regular routine of business through with, appointment of masters took up considerable time was gone through with in an orderly manner. A letter from J. W. Strong, Esq., present Treasurer of the township, was read, asking council for an increase of salary claimed the work done by him. Treasurer was much more and more than in some neighboring townships specified, and that his remuneration was twenty five dollars less than Treasurers of said townships, due consideration the council should that they could not grant the request.
