engineer conceived the notion that hot water would be more effective than lead.
Pipes were instantly run down to the boiler room, the pumps then started up, and a watch of firemen took the nozzles with orders to boil every mother's son of them they could see. The hot water settled the pirates. The moment it was turned against the pirates they began to retreat, and they went over the rails into the sea as if the boat was afire. A good many of them landed on the decks of the junks, and those who were unimpaired lost no time in cutting loose from the San Pablo and getting away."
PERSONAL.
Boulanger was lately accused of wearing a wig, whereupon a correspondent called upon him, and he submitted to having his hair pulled to show that the story was a slander.
Bismarck received 101 plovers' eggs on his recent birthday. Plovers' eggs are a favorite delicacy with the Chancellor, and every year on his birthday a large number are sent to him from the country.
One of the handsomest and richest and most fashionable young men in Austria, Herr Stephan von Kegel, has just committed suicide. He was particularly joyous before the act, and no reason can be found for it.
Experiments at Cape Town in signalling with electric light reflected from the clouds, were a complete success. Experiments were also made with a vessel at sea with the result of flashing a signal fifty miles away.
A memorial to the late Dinah Maria Craik is to be erected in Tewkesbury abbey, a Tewkesbury was the home of her world-famous hero, John Halifax, Gentleman. The memorial will take the form of a marble medallion.
The missionaries of the Pacific have lost one of their most devoted friends in the death of Pomare, the Queen of Tahiti and Monea, in the Society Islands. For over fifty years this woman led a simple Christian life. When she was born, 70 years ago, the missionaries had not made a convert in the South Sea Islands. When she died more than three hundred islands had been wholly evangelized, and civilization is fast spreading in all the islands of this part of the Pacific.
M. Louis Nobel, who died in France the other day, was not the inventor of dynamite, but Alfred Nobel, his brother, who is still living, was. M. Nobel is a strong advocate of peace, and regards with horror the use to which his invention has been put by assassins and political conspirators. The only time when he shows a warlike spirit is when he reads of the misuses which are made of dynamite. Then he feels like putting all these miscreants into a storehouse of dynamite and blowing them up.
An Objection to Electricity.
Jones: "I don't believe in executing criminals by electricity."
Smith: "What's your objection?"
Jones: "You see, no matter how willing a man may be to die, if he is executed by electricity he can't be said any more to die of his own free will and a cord."
A Successful Affair.
"I say, Bobby," said Featherly, "did you hear your sister say if she enjoyed the exhibition we gave last night?"
"She was pleased with your part of it, Mr. Featherly. She told me that you made a perfect exhibition of yourself."
Not a Hare.
"Snagby, you are presuming upon my credulity. You never killed 150 rabbits in one day."
"Wilkins, I assure you I have not deviated a hare from the truth."
Consumption Curable.
Since the fact that consumption is both preventable, and in its earliest stage curable, it has lost much of its terror. If the first symptoms are at once recognized, and the proper remedy applied, very few, if any one, need die of consumption, which is really lung-scrofula. Like many other diseases this formidable one grows out of impure blood, and this, in turn, from a diseased liver. Hence, we have the hacking cough, the pains in chest, the inflamed lungs, and all the symptoms of hastening consumption, all the result of depraved blood and a diseased liver. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will arrest all such symptoms, restore the liver to healthy action and send streams of pure blood into every organ. Of druggists.

Aubertin, the man who shot Jules Ferry, has been declared insane and put in an asylum.
Little, "But Enough," as Mercutio said of his wound. We refer to Dr. Pierce's little Pellets, which are small, swift, and sure, in cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, and indigestion.
