An Accomplished Robin.

has a robin which whistles like a mockinghird. This is probably due to the fact that lars. it was raised in company with a mocker. The robin whistles "Jonny, Get your Gun," "Don't Leave Your Mother, Tom," etc, with all the sang froid of a Bowery actor. Its powers of mimicry are wonderful. One day recently a man went into a saloco, over the door of which the cage containing the robin is hung. The bird gave a quick whistle. A man on the opposite side of the street heard the whistling; and seeing a friend entering the saloon and believing that he had whistled to him to "come and take something," crossed the street. The man who first entered the saloon denied having whistled, but his friend insisted that he had, and succeeded ingettirg "something." In the early morning, when things are quiet, the whistle of the ird has been heard a quarter of a mile.

Origin of a Glove Fad.

Women who wear different colored gloves with full dress costumes know but little probably of how that fashion was first set. A charming French Duchess, so goes the story, had recently promised to be present at the festivity for some benevolent purpose at the Trouville casino. Being rather behind time, the lady put her gloves on while driving, and never noticed till she stood in the full blaze of the casino drawing room that to her black and white silk costume she had put on one white and one black glove. it appears that her maid had laid two pairs gloves ready for her mistress to choose from, and that the Duchess in her hurry had taken one of each pair. The mischief, however, could not be undone, and the gratifying result was that at the next fashionable assembly all the ladies at Trouville wore a glove of a different color on each hand-a custom which has become so general that at present all the ladies at Trouville have adopted it.

Canada's Great Fair.

Since its inception in 1879, the Toronto Industrial Exhibition has proved a continued series of successes, and the one for the pre sent year, to be held from the 10th to the 22ad of September, promises to again surpass in every respect those that have passed. Already applications for space in all departments are more numerous than ever before. A liberal Prize List and a long programme of first-class and novel special attractions is what the Toronto Fair offers. and succeess is always the result. Specia exhibits will be sent from Manitoba, British Columbia and many other sections of the Dominion. The special attractions already contracted for are the best that money can secure, and there will be plenty to see, both to instruct and amuse, every day of the Fair. Programmes containing full details will be issued early in August, and will be sent free to any one desiring them. Prize Lists can also be secured by intending exhibitors, on their dropping a post card to Mr. Hill, the Secretary, at Toronto. All entries have to be made before the 18th of August. The people of Ontario seem to have set down the time of the Toronto Fair as the occasion of their annual holiday outing, and the railway companies recognizing this fact have decided on giving cheaper fares than ever before for this great exhibition, which is so popular with all. It will be opened on the 11th Sept. by Lord Stanley, the new Governor-General.

Arrogance may break its neck where humility wins a crown.
