-A freight train on the Manitoba road ran into a herd of cattle near (work of this Derby controversy indeed by Fort Buford, injuring five trainmen and killing a hundred cattle.

-Mr. E. S. Cox, the broker and bucket-shop man, who fled from consequences of the Central Bank wreck, committed two very serious blunders. One was having anything to do with Mr. Wright. When he pretends to quote bucket shop thieving and bank wrecking; the other was patronizing Sunday excursions. The first error caused him to run away from Toronto. The second caused his arrest at Niagara, and his return to Toronto this week. Perhaps he may now make restitution, or tell where the money went.

SIB,-Mr. Wright would like to make short getting it fixed his own way. He is actually offering to pay money if I will let him have two men and me one. Although I mentioned expenses, the principal object was to have it decided here where a disinterested third man could be got whose character is well known. I fancied Mr. W. intended a one-sided game, now he blabs it right out himself. I not only accepted Mr. Wade's decision last spring but it was me proposed that special prize would be left for him to decide; that was a matter here who would like to undertake it; this is simply a matter of comparing certificates with entries in S. B's, and any sane man who can read is just as competent as Mr. Wade. and Mr. W. is one of the last men who should have any say in this affair; he would be acting as judge of his own work. Mr. W. puts a yery simple question to me when he says where is the change and why? The answer is above. Give me a harder one next time, what I said in a former letter he is getting down on the same level with his B. M. I said the S. B's published by Mr. Wade were the highest authority. I will venture to say hat if I was to give the same challenge to Mr. H. King or Mr. Wm. Shepherdin reference to their horses, Dandy Boy or Galloway Laird, and propose the same way of deciding it they would plank down their certificates at once -Parnell's great libel suit against and say bring on your books; right here Tobaccos, Tobaccos, to prove them ; I dare not do it, they would have my money before I knew where I was. Or why don't they take me up on Just in and his B. M., because they don't deny that one is as much interested in their horse as the other. Come now, Mr. W., if there is any man about you I will give you a chance, will not ask you to run the risk of loosing your $50, you lift that and put it safe in a your pocket, pass in your certificates at once one vol. of Scotch and one of Canadian needed), Mr. B, has both and I am sure he will not think it any trouble to bring them with him; let them choose a third if requir-Mr. Young holds of mine. It is both nowardly and selfish for you to want to choose third man. You say you have set your horse before the public as a properly registered horse, Clydesdale horse; prove this a slanderous statement if you can. Do not get in a splutter about giving my proof, you know that part of the conditions on which this money was reasons for their decision and if we fail to agree on how it shall be decided there will be time enough for me to give my proof. You need not be afraid of Mr. Graham, he swerve one-tenth of an inch from what he thinks right for either you or me and he was costomers who expressed himself somewhat to this effect. You will need to send your B. DONE DAY AND NIGHT M. to school till he learns how a horse may
