MANTLE cloths, dress goods, black cashmeres, jersey gloves and cashmere hose directly imported from Manchester and London, England, opened this week at McFarland's.

As will be seen by the minutes of Markdale council in this issue the Glenelg Agricultural Society was granted $10 by Markdale council and a like amount from Glenelg council, and also a grant of $20 from the Markdale council to our brass band as soon as it appears in its new uniform.

On Friday evening last our brass band serenaded Mr. Jennings, of the Revere Hotel, and the treasury of the band was enriched thereby to the extent of a five dollar note, and on Saturday evening serenaded R. L. Stephen when $8 more was added to the band fund.

Our enterprising townsman, W. A. Brown, returned on Saturday from his second trip up the lakes. We are glad to hear that both trips were successful from a business standpoint. He reports finding everything in good order on his return. Herbert Hall is a faithful and efficient manager in his employer's absence.

Rev. Mr. WILSON, of Toronto, preached morning and evening in the Presbyterian church, and will occupy the same pulpit next Sunday. His discourse last Sabbath was very impressive and instructive and was appreciated by all who heard him. The rev. gentleman will lecture on Scotland in the church on Monday evening next.

JENKINS, editor of the Brussels Budget, is in trouble. He fell to writing libellous articles concerning one named Grant. An injunction was issued restraining him, but Jenkins heeded not the injunction. He now languishes 80 days in jail for contempt of court, and has the costs to pay. Just like the Jenkins who once ran the Durham Chronicle.

J. B. SPURR, of the Dundalk Herald, visited Flesherton last week. He remained over night at the hotel, and arose from his dreamy couch about half an hour after the bus had left for the station. When last seen by the denizens of Flesherton he was hooting it in a whirlwind of dust towards the west. We believe he overtook the train at Proton Station.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. George Stoddart, one of the prominent farmers of Glenelg. He has been indisposed for some time, and we regret to hear that the physician holds out no hope of his recovery. Cancer in the stomach is said to be the cause of the trouble. THE Dundalk Herald man rubs his pen in his woolly hair and writes thus: "Mr. Jackman, of the Markdale Standard office, visited us last week. He will likely follow in the same steps as the editor. They have been having a tight run to see who would go on their honeymoon first. The editor has come out ahead." To which Jackman replies, we thank you for those lines; you spur us to redoubled efforts. How are you getting along in the race, old fellow? If you get there before I do; look out for me, I'm coming too.

NEW UNIFORMS.—Our band boys, having got tired of discoursing strains of sweet music on the evening air attired in a variety of motley colored suits, have decided to purchase uniforms. The suits will be of dark navy blue; the fronts and cuffs of the coats adorned with gold trimmings and brass buttons; epaulets trimmed with gold fringe; the pants will be ornamented with a broad gold stripe so as to match the caps. The suits are to be made by R. S. Rae, of Markdale, at a cost of $182. The band boys have been very liberal with their open air concerts on Saturday evenings, and now an opportunity will be afforded our citizens to "chip in" and help them in paying for their suits. A series of serenades, and a grand concert are contemplated. Give the boys a lift.
