East Grey Conservatives.

The annual meeting of the East Grey Liberal Conservative Association was held in Markdale on Friday last when a good attendance was present. The chief business was the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows:

President, Thos. Kells; Vice-Pres., Thos. Gilray; Recording Secretary, Wm. McLoughry; Treasurer, James Brodie; Corresponding Secretaries, Dr. Johnston, Maxwell, and W. H. Dodson, Rocklyn.

TOWNSHIP VICE-PRESIDENTS:

Euphrasia, Wm. Brady; Osprey, John Clinton; Collingwood, F. Smeiser; Holland, A. Freeborn; St. Vincent, N. Reid; Sullivan, Jno. Sparrow; Meaford, Hugh Chisholm; Thornbury, Thos. Andrews; Markdale, William Douglass; Artemesia, R. Watson; McAnathon, J. Polley; Proton, J. Abbott; Dundalk, Thos. Hanbury; Shelburne, John Skelton.

Auditors, James Elliott and C. W. Rutledge.

After the business of the meeting was concluded Dr. Sproule, M. P., treated all the members of the Association present to a free dinner at the Markdale House.

NOTE.—The president received a letter from Joseph Forke, M. P. P. just after the meeting was over regretting his inability to be present.

Noteworthy Success.

Many readers of the STANDARD will remember W. M. Wright, formerly of Flesherton, son of Mr. Wm. Wright, of that village. He is now an M. D. in Bellevue Hospital, New York, and from the following clipping, from the New York World of the 23d November, his many acquaintances will learn with pleasure the distinguished success which he has gained:

"Little two-year-old Wilson Shiffer, whose life was despaired of a few weeks ago, yesterday left Bellevue Hospital cured. He is the son of Jules W. Shiffer, a compositor on THE WORLD. In September last a pet dog jumped at the little one, catching him by the nose and knocking him over backwards. Several Staten Island physicians examined the child. He barked like a dog and had other symptoms of hydrophobia, but would drink water. The doctors were puzzled, and said they could do nothing. Then the child was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Several prominent physicians became interested in the peculiar case, but could not fathom the trouble.

Finally young Dr. Wright, the house surgeon, solved the mystery. He discovered that the sections of the child's skull had not properly knitted in the rear where the bone is softest, and that the edge of one section overlapped the other. The fall had aggravated the pressure on the brain, and as the barking of the dog was the last thing impressed upon the little fellow's consciousness, he imitated in his delirium and so gave rise to the hydrophobia theory. Dr. Wright, by a system of compresses, forced the sections apart and maintained them in the proper position until the edges united. With the removal of the pressure on the brain the boy's improvement began, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Shiffer had the extreme pleasure of taking his little one home once more, rosy cheeked, well and happy. Miss Chichester, the nurse at Bellevue who has watched over the child in its sufferings, actually cried at parting with her tiny charge.

UPSET.—As Dr. Jamieson and J. P. Telford were returning from the supper in honor of Adam Turner, of Markdale, the other evening, in turning a corner too quickly the usual result followed. It looks as if the Dr. was making a job for himself, as Mr. Telford got the side of his head badly bruised and scratched. We hope to see him all right again soon.—Grey Review.

OYSTER SUPPER.—Mr. Wm. Milne, for the past ten years Township Clerk of Osprey, was entertained by his friends at an oyster supper at McIn tyre on the evening of Nov. 30th. An address was presented, to which Mr. Milne replied appropriately. The usual loyal and complimentary toasts were given. Mr. Milne intends leaving this section of country, where he has resided sixteen years, and removing to Portland, Oregon.—Dundalk Herald.

CHANGING THEIR RESTING PLACE.

Twenty years ago George L. Wright, father of Thorp Wright, and Mrs. William Wright, of Flesherton, died and was interred in the burying ground at Markdale. One year ago last summer his wife, and mother of the aforesaid parties, died and was buried in St. Louis. It was decided to bring the old couple to side in the cemetery here, which was accomplished on Monday last, under the supervision of Mr. Vanzant. Mr. John Gilchrist, who assisted in removing Mr. Wright's remains from Markdale, dug the grave for deceased twenty years ago.—Advance.

Bruin Bagged.

An army of one thousand men, more or less, congregated at Ormsby's swamp, 9th line, Euphrasia, on Tuesday last, fully resolved to capture the bear which has frequently of late been seen in that locality. But they were unsuccessful. On the afternoon of the same day Mr. J. E. Richards, of Rocklyn, in company with Messrs. John and Richie Gardiner, quietly wended their way to the woods of the latter gentleman, and in less than two hours returned with a good sized bruin. Mr. Richie Gardiner chopped him out of his den, while Mr. Richards and Mr. John Gardiner stood sentry and simultaneously fired the fatal shots. The two "whooped 'er up" in true Indian style when returning to the Capital with their "game," and there was big excitement for a time. Jack has purchased the claim of the Messrs. Gardiner and will ship his bruinship to the Queen City for Xmas, if he does not decide to open up a Zoo at the Capital.
