DISTRICT DOTS.

The Warton Echo says it would not be far astray if it said that the town was better lighted when using coal oil than at present with electricity.

While A. M. Tyson of Warton was out fishing one day last week a large black bear came along. Tyson very much desired his gun in place of the fishing rod for the time being, but he had to grin and bear while the bear grinned and walked off.

To FORT WILLIAM.—Will Rauldage, once foreman on the Herald staff, has been running a grocery store in Markdale for the past few months. Since leaving us he worked for some time on the Fort William Echo. Sometime ago, the proprietor of the Echo died and now his widow has written for Will to come and run the Echo, offering him $14 per week; we are informed that Will has accepted the situation. We shouldn't be surprised if Will made the widow an offer and became a partner in the concern. Of course we don't know that there is any probability of such a thing, but one good turn deserves another, and stranger things have happened. Success Will; your uprightness and industry deserves success.—Dundalk Herald.

Waifs.

Why are pretty girls like wild cherries? Because they make you pucker up your lips.

The difference between a blonde and a locomotive is, that one has a light head and the other a headlight.

Girls should be careful how they are vaccinated with virus taken from a lover's arm. One at Montreal has taken to swearing, sitting cross-legged, and smoking a brier-root pipe.

A Muskoka woman who was lost in the woods for three days says she didn't suffer so very much, but was greatly annoyed by her absence of mind in not bringing along a small looking-glass.

A Minnesota preacher fainted away after marrying a couple, and had to be worked over two hours before he was restored to consciousness. If it acts that way on the preacher, just think of the poor bridegroom!

A Toronto man contrived to teach his parrot to talk so well that he had to pay $1,000 damages because the bird slandered the character of a lady in the neighborhood. He ought to present the bird to a sewing society.

"Yes," said the practical wife, "I'm looking for some dashing sort of a girl to coax my husband to elope. He'll probably stay away two weeks and so be out of the way until I can get all through house-cleaning."

Amelia: "You may talk about your city fellows, but give me a bean from the country." Juliet: "And why do you want a country bean, I should love to hear?" Amelia: "Because, sis, he's very likely to become a husbandman."

Obituary.

We learn with regret of the death, in far away Dakota, of Eva, wife of Mr. Thomas Bell, and daughter of the late Joseph Gimby, Esq., of Brookholm. Mrs. Bell was peculiarly attractive and winning, both in person and character, and outside the circle of her immediate friends here, there are many graduates of our Collegiate Institute who will bear with pain that the gentle life of their former favorite fellow-student has been so early cut off in a distant land. Mrs. Bell was a victim of consumption. To her relatives here who have within the past few months sustained a double bereavement we extend sincere sympathy.—Owen Sound Advertiser.

ONE LITTLE PIGGIE.

I owned a litter of pigs. They threw well until a month old, when their throats swelled, and spite of all remedies they all died except one, which was nearly dead. Laughingly I said I would try Yellow Oil, and gave it a thorough application. He improved at once, and soon was all right. William Windsor, Brinsley, Ont.
