Address and Presentation.

Mr. W. A. Dayman, of Walter's Falls has been made the recipient of a purse and the following address from the Methodist congregation of Bognor. The address should have been read at the tea-meeting in Bognor on Christmas eve, but the absence of Mr. Day-man prevented this.

Dear Brother Wm. A. Dayman,—

On behalf of the congregation of Bognor Methodist Church, we desire to thank you for your unselfish and successful services on our behalf. We feel assured that the Master of our Lord is never without a reward, but can do not absolve us from the duty of doing all in our power by our sympathy and co-operation to strengthen your hands.

As we believe there can be no higher calling than that of winning souls for Christ so no duty can be more binding on the Christian than that of living in active sympathy and Christian love with those called to carry the banner of the Lord Jesus.

We pray that his grace may ever be sufficient for you and that you may walk day by day under an abiding sense of the overshadowing of the King's love, and when done with time that you may enter the courts above with many witnesses that your labor for the Lord has not been in vain.

Please accept the assurance of our sympathy in your work, and our best wishes for your temporal and eternal wellbeing, in which prayer we would include Mrs. Dayman and your children, and as the happy Christmas morn approaches may we all be filled with that divine love that made the king of glory a guest of men on earth.

We ask you to accept this purse as an assurance that the heart speaks as well as the lips.

On behalf of the congregation.

THOS. ABRA,
GEO. GARNET.

January brings the snow,
Election day makes all things glow;
But when election day is o'er,
The voters rank among the poor.

Eight miles from Maxwell lives a man,
And he, for reeve did run;
But when election day came on,
He wished he'd no'er been born.

For Gamey he defeated him,
And made his heart so sore;
That all night long he seems to "Sing"
I'll run again no more.

EASILY CAUGHT.

CROUP, Pneumonia, sore throat and many painful ailments are easily caught in this changeable weather. Don't neglect a cough or cold, but get Norton's Expectorant at once. Yellow Oil, for internal and external use, is the best of all. Many consider it indispensable for the cure of colds or pains.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam for a bad cold, and was cured by one bottle. My babe only two months old also had a cold and cough and on giving him some it helped him very much.

Hoping you have all spent a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Mirza intrudes his pen once more. Here is a short account of the School Meeting held in this section on Wed., 31st ult. It may be interesting, as I think there are few meetings conducted as ours was. Two worthy men were nominated to fill the office of Trustee, one from Artemesia, the other from Euphrasia. The method adopted was to pitch coin to go forward and pull in votes. Very soon the Euphrasia man's supporters saw they were in the minority and started out in hot haste for absent ratepayers; the other man's friends did likewise, and excitement ran high. We are sorry to say that one man in this section considers a School Meeting to be beneath his attention. Two other ratepayers were noticed to have taken quite a fancy to our friend Sammy, they stuck to him like glue, and appeared to be somewhat zealous. However, the Euphrasia man came out ahead. "Legree" was there, so was his next door neighbor.

Miss Lizzie Cooper of Osprey has been engaged as teacher of our school for the year 1891.

Mr. Jos. Sherwood had a wood-bee on Tuesday, 30th ult. There were several new arrivals towards evening, and very soon the sweet music of the violin was heard, time being kept by many feet. A very pleasant evening was spent, and Bill's temper remained unruffled throughout.

Miss Kate Kennedy left here on Friday, 2nd inst., to take charge of a school in Sullivan township.

Mr. Wm. Allan is dangerously ill, but sincere hopes are entertained for his recovery.

The following is presented for explanation:—How is it A can go and have dinner with his neighbor B, and take his family along to make a day of it, profess to be his bosom friend, and promise him his most earnest support on School Meeting day; but when it comes to a vote, he votes the other way—just the way the "Pointer" points out to him.

MIRZA.

Our Village Fathers.

Markdale Council held its last meeting for 1890 on Wednesday evening, the 31st ult. All the members were present. Mr. Bryden, the Clerk, being still confined to his house through a prolonged illness, and C. W. Rutledge, Clerk pro tem, rushed getting off the STANDARD preparatory to the holiday, Mr. Thos. Boland acted as scribe.

The Collector's roll, which was left with the Treasurer to be returned, was left over until the first meeting of the new Council, Mr. Whitby, the collector, being off to Oshawa to see his grandson.

The following accounts were presented and passed: D. G. McLean, lodging a tramp, 75 cents; W. L. Young, Treasurer, salary, telegrams, postage, expences re debentures, &c., $22.82; John Richardson, two cords wood, $2; John Whitby, salary and collector's postage, &c., $41.04; W. Wigg, [illegible] and survey, 2 cords wood, $4; Council Chambers, 50 cts.; G. Noble, refund of fine $5.

Ye editor entered at this stage just in time for the best part of the meeting. The Brass Band presented a request for a little something to replenish their coffers. The Reeve objected to the Council granting any and at this the last meeting of the old year but handed the treasurer of the band a V. The other members chip'd in and the band boys being present with their instruments played a few lively airs and withdrew $11 richer.

A resolution of sympathy for the Clerk in his prolonged illness was passed, with the hope that he would soon be restored to his wonted health and place at the Council Board.

After a unanimous vote of thanks to the Reeve for his diligence, courtesy and impartiality as head of the Council the meeting closed up the labors of the year and adjourned to the residence of Mr. McFarland where they heartily enjoyed the hospitalities of the Reeve and his estimable wife, each doing full justice to a splendidly gotten up oyster supper. Ye editor may not be able to fill the shoes of the experienced and painstaking Clerk, Mr. Bryden, in general, but he will play second fiddle to no scribe at an oyster supper such as Mrs McFarland furnished on this occasion.

Markdale Council thus wound up in a highly enjoyable manner the 18th and last meeting of 1890.

All that is now lacking to make the Standard a full fledged city office is steam power, which we expect to add shortly.

On in crowds, on in crowd,
On in crowds, onward!
Come they all out of breath,
Come they by hundreds.
Forward, the night evade;
Daytime's the best for trade,
So they come, out of breath,
Buyers by hundreds.

Forward the night evade;
Was there a man dismayed?
No! for each salesman knew
The firm hadn't blundered.
They knew the reason why
Each one their best should try
Buyers to satisfy.
As they came out of breath
In by the hundred.

Buyers at right of them,
Buyers at left of them,
Buyers in front of them,
Looked at and wondered
Viewing the goods to sell,
Noting the prices well,
Wonder they never more
Why people rush pell mell
There by the hundred.

There they see bargains rare,
Bargains that make them stare,
Bargains for ladies fair,
At the low price of which
HUSBANDS HAVE WONDERED,
Goods made in every clime,
Suited for every time,
Winter or summer,
All in their value prime,
Shown by the hundred.

Where are these goods displayed?
Where are these bargains made?
Folk oft have wondered,
Till they with McFARLAND trade,
Then on his store they raid,
Crowds by the hundred.
