WE are in receipt of a complimentary press badge and an invitation from both Meaford and Mt. Forest to attend their Dominion Day demonstrations. How can we attend both? WHILE working at Chas. McCutcheon's in Euphrasia last Friday, Wm. Freeman, of Artemesia, accidentally trod upon a large garter snake three feet long. It suddenly coiled itself about his leg and showed fight. A MEMORIAL sermon for the late Alexander Kay was preached by Rev. Horace E. Bray in Christ Church last Sunday evening when the C. O. O. F. and A. O. U. W. lodges were in attendance in large numbers, having met in their lodge room and marched in a body to the church, returning in same order after service. The church was filled to the doors, and the sermon practical and appropriate.

FOR the past three years E. B. Biggar, of Montreal, has been gathering anecdotes and facts relating to Sir John Macdonald, and the result is an anecdotal life of Sir John, which will be issued in a short time. Before going to press Mr. Biggar will be glad to receive any authentic anecdotes or reminiscences on the subject that have not yet appeared in print. Mr. Biggar's address is the Fraser Building, Montreal.

A CURIOSITY.—W. J. Cunnington, V. S., brought home from Mt. Pleasant, Holland, on Friday last, the head of a calf which was more than double the natural size. The enlargement commenced between the nose and eyes extending over the skull from ear to ear to the back of the neck giving the head the shape of a foot ball and fully as large. The mother of the curiosity has survived, which is a feather in Cunnington's cap.

TOE CUT OFF.—On Friday last while showing his elder brother, Sam., (who didn't understand the business) how to cut tan bark, Alf. Greenaway, of Holland, had the misfortune to cut the great toe off his right foot with the axe. His brother, with commendable nerve, stitched on the severed number, and took him to Markdale where Dr. Ego dressed the wound, but owing to the bone being badly shattered found it necessary to remove the part which had been severed. Alf. is doing as well as could be expected.

A LARGE gathering is expected at the lawn social at James Foster's, back line east, this Thursday evening. This is the first garden party of the season around here, and Jim Foster is a very popular and hospitable man, and consequently a good time and a great crowd is expected. The ladies of the Methodist church are at the bottom of it which ensures success. The whole surrounding country is cordially invited, including Markdale. Teams will leave the post-office corner about 7 o'clock to convey those who desire to go.

THE SATURDAY GLOBE.—The enterprise and artist to skill displayed in the Saturday Globe from week to week is indeed commendable. The portraits of public buildings and prominent persons together with historical sketches and select literature are highly creditable and far reaching in interest. Last Saturday the first page contained eleven fine cuts of the following: The late Premier, Sir John A. Macdonald; Lady Macdonald; Hugh J. Macdonald, M. P., son of the Premier; Earnscliffe, Ottawa, residence of the late Premier, and that of his summer residence at Rivere Du Loup; also the three physicians who attended him through his late illness, Drs. Wright, Powell and Grant; Sir John Thompson; Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. J. J. C. Abbott.

THE contract has been let for 200 of the telephone poles for this section.

"WIVES AND DAUGHTERS" FOR JUNE.—The June number of this excellent publication for women proves a pleasant surprise to its thousands of readers. Its contents are unusually interesting, and it now appears in neat sixteen-page form. The subscription price is only 50 c. per annum. It is included, without extra charge, only with that popular "Double Weekly," the Western Advertiser, which is issued twice a week at the liberal rate of $1 for each eight months. Sample of each paper free by addressing—Advertiser Printing Co., London, Ont.

EXCELSIOR.—J. H. Brown, son of Wm. Brown, Esq., of this village, has again carried off the highest honors at the Toronto University, having taken at first year University Examinations, first place in Classics, with the Moss Scholarship for same, also first in French, German, English and Italian, being all the subjects in which he wrote for honors. This is a most creditable record for our young townsman and may be viewed with pardonable pride by citizens as well as the relatives of our clever but unassuming youth.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.—The Rev. R. I. Hosking's many well-wishers will be pleased to learn of his great success in Church work since leaving Markdale (Euphrasia Mission) two years ago. As a result of his faithful labors, together with that of his colleague, over three hundred persons have been converted and added to the church. The various connexional funds have been greatly increased and the appropriation for Minister's support raised from $600 to $900, thus raising the Mission to an independent circuit. This speaks volumes for the indefatigable and well-directed efforts of Rev. Mr. Hosking.

HOW TO USE THE MAILS.—By direction of the Postmaster-General the Chief Post-Office Inspector, Mr. Sweetman, has lately been making special enquiry into certain cases in which letters and packages of more than ordinary size had been broken or torn in course of post. The chief inspector's investigation lead to the conclusion that, in the great majority of cases, the damage has been the consequence of the inferior coverings (envelopes, paper boxes, etc.) used for the articles in question. He thinks that if the public would enclose their large letters in envelopes of sufficiently good quality and of a size adapted to that of the contents, and if in making up packages they would use good wrapping paper and tie up the whole securely very few breakages would occur in course of post. It should be remembered that every letter and parcel cannot be laid in the most careful manner in the bag or box into which it has to be sorted. Post-office clerks would never get through their work if they had to adopt this mode of treatment for the vast quantities of matter passing through their hands. At the same time the chief inspector, by Mr. Haggart's directions is renewing the instructions to post-office clerks to do all in their power to avoid damage to mail matter, and this doubtless, will have a good effect. If the public would work with the post-office to the extent of seeing that the articles they post are in good shape and well secured, the number of complaints would be very materially reduced.

My Native Home.

Long years of toil and wandering have passed
Bound home at last I'm nestled at last
My heart's desire is now mine at last
My Native Land at last.

How beautiful to gaze upon
The place of childhood years again
How grand it seems to please again
Of my first days that were.

How splendid to look upon the cloudless sky
That arch'd this lovely scene of old
And in the evening's quiet hour
The freshening breeze that blew.

Some dear old friends of mine I saw
And joy to see they were
But some the distant grave has gone
And some from me have moved.

That dear old cot that stood on birch
With hawthorne decked around
Some times I'd watch the children playing there
The place is now unsound.

But now the cot is gone.
The grass grows where it stood of yore
The place of early days is changed
The dearest spot on earth.

And towering high above the adjoining hills
The village church with its spire is found
Where many a weary pilgrim found rest
And many a vow'd to God.

And still the rolling river is found
Before the kitchen door
And slowly on their course it flows
Just as in days of yore.

But then, the place of once was ours
By strangers now is held
That cot I once could call my own
To leave I was compelled.

But, Oh! I long to see those fields
Who caused such memories
But 'tis a blessed thought
In Heaven again we'll meet.

Breaking in isn't needed with the Ball corset. It's easy from the start. Coils of tiny wire springs in the sides make it so. Try it, and you'll like it.

If you don't, after a few weeks' wear, just return it and get your money.
