LATER.—Since the above was in type we have learned that Kells Lodge No. 1883 and Orange Valley Lodge No. 599 will also attend service at Christ church, Markdale, with Markdale Lodge.

HAVING had a few days outing since last week's paper we briefly called at Owen Sound, Tara, Chippawa Hill, Allenford and intermediate points. The appearance of the growing crops is fairly promising, the greatest deficiency being where poor land prevails and indolent farmers exist. As a rule the energetic, pushing farmer has healthy, promising crops. This rule holds good in every district, and the enterprising farmer can be pointed out by the appearance of his fields and premises generally by the observing traveller.

Lady Macdonald has been raised to the English peerage as an acknowledgement of her husband's long and distinguished service.

THREW HERSELF OVERBOARD.—The steamer "Atlantic" arrived here on her down trip yesterday, bringing the account of a peculiar case of attempted suicide. It appears that a Mr. Fleming, of Owen Sound, was taking his demented daughter for a trip around the lakes hoping the change would restore the young lady's mind which gave way lately. Just as the boat left Manitowaning, Miss Fleming, who was supposed to be locked in her state room, was seen by Capt. Foote to be descending a rope over the vessel's side to the water. Hastily running forward he attempted to grasp her, but was too late and in an instant she dropped into the bay. The life boat was at once lowered and the young lady rescued just as she was sinking, the rescue being made in the very quick time of only 4 minutes.—Wiarton Echo.

Barn Burned.

During the absence of Mr. Robt. Barclay and wife of the 10th con. Glenelg, last Saturday afternoon the children amused themselves by starting a fire in the loose straw in the barnyard, and in a few minutes the barn was enveloped in flames. The building was a substantial frame, and was built last summer. Nearly all the farm implements were consumed. No insurance. This is a case in which individual aid might be extended with a liberal hand, as Mr. Barclay is a hard-working, industrious citizen, and the calamity falls with double weight at the present time.

[The above came too late for last week.]

Bush Fire.

A few weeks ago fire was started in a stumpy field adjoining Black Creek, swamp, on the 12th con. Glenelg. No attention was paid to prevent the fire spreading to the swamp, and on Saturday last it spread to the newly-built crossway, and destroyed a large portion of it. Had it not been for the exertions of the neighboring farmers the entire crossway and the bridge over Black Creek would have been burned. Much valuable timber has been destroyed on the adjoining lots, and although the crossway is out of immediate danger, the fire is smouldering in the bush. It is expected there will be a raking up of the coals, on the careless delinquent's head.—Com.

Martin Bros. vs. Currie.

Some months ago Messrs. Martin Bros. of Mt. Forest sued Mr. R. B. Currie of this place for $300 damages for breach of contract, to supply five car loads of potatoes. The case was tried at the city of Guelph some weeks ago, and turned upon the question as to the quality of potatoes in the Markdale district. The decision was reserved for some weeks and was delivered by the late Judge Drew only a few days ago in favor of Mr. Currie, deciding in effect that the potatoes grown in the Markdale district are of a good standard quality and quite equal to those in other sections. The law costs in this suit were over $300 and we congratulate Mr. Currie on its successful termination. W. H. Kingston for plaintiff, I. B. Lucas for defendant.

Another Yaching Disaster.

OWEN SOUND, July 7.—A sad boating accident occurred on the bay here this afternoon, which resulted in the death of Thomas A. Taylor, one of the most promising young business men of the town. He with a party of young men went out in a yacht. When about four miles from town and a half mile from shore, the boat leaned over and Thomas Taylor, who was standing on deck, slipped and rolled under the fore boom into the water. As soon as the yacht could be reversed, William Murray jumped into the river and swam to Taylor's assistance. He succeeded in reaching him and kept him afloat for some time. Meanwhile, the boys in the boat came up again and one of them managed to catch Murray's hand while Murray had hold of Taylor's, but the weight was too much for him and Taylor sank.

Deceased was a nephew of Mr. D. Creighton, manager of The Empire, and was employed as manager of the drug store here of W. J. Manley of Youngstreet Toronto.

The body was found on Monday evening.

Latona Foot Ball Matches.

Editor Standard.

Allow me a small portion of your valuable space to correct a false report of the recent foot ball matches at Latona, that was circulated by some of the Markdale team (others admitted the truth) upon their return home, and which found its way into print. I now refer to the game Markdale vs Latona. The referee, Mr. Neil McFarlane, as both teams well understood, decided "no goal". His decision is final. Neither have they a moral right, for out of a crowd of men, who stood just behind the goal, all said positively that the ball passed over the string. At the close the score stood 0—0: although all spectators admitted that Markdale were much the superior team.

Again, it would have been doing only justice to the Lake team to mention the disadvantage under which they played Markdale, viz. after playing Latona (which game the Lake won 1—0,) taking only about five minutes rest, they played Markdale. They the Markdale team played Latona, which team had rested during the second match: thus, Markdale were at a disadvantage. Each game lasted one hour. I hope this does justice to all parties concerned.

Yours truly

Patrons of Industry.

The first meeting of the above named association in the county of Grey was held in Meaford on Saturday, June 27th, when the following officers were elected. President, A. Gifford, St. Vincent; Vice-President, R. H. Skinner, St. Vincent; Secretary, Wallace Patton, Euphrasia; Treasurer, Wm. Milson, Euphrasia; Executive Committee, Jas. Patterson, John Anderson and W. J. Black; Auditors, J. Jamieson and Thomas Douglas. There are at present 5 lodges formed in the county since the 20th May, which is undoubtedly a source of gratification to all interested in the welfare and prosperity of their country. There are at present 700 patrons in the county of Grey, 60,000 patrons in Ontario, and the order is rapidly spreading. It is only one year since the first association was organized in Canada, and by the way farmers and laborers are joining the order it will not be long in achieving those results which the association aims at, namely, that labor should receive a fair reward.

Four Weeks Dying.

DETAILS OF A SHOOTING AFFRAY AT GLENELG.

WIARTON, July 2.—A sequel to the terrible shooting affair which occurred at Oliphant on Thursday evening, June 4th, occurred on Tuesday evening last, when Johnston Abercrombie, the victim, breathed his last. Amputation of the leg was performed on Sunday following the shooting and it was hoped for a time that Abercrombie would recover, but he had become much worse the past week until death resulted. J. C. Cook, who fired the fatal shot, is now in Walkerton Gaol. The particulars of the case, as near as can be learned, are that Cook had a dog which Abercrombie claimed was worrying his cattle continually. He went to Cook's house on the night before the shooting took place and told Cook unless he kept his dog away from the cattle he would shoot him. On Thursday Abercrombie came to Wiarton to see if he could not get law to prevent the continuance of the offence. On his return home he found that in his absence a repetition of the worrying of his cattle by Cook's dog had taken place. In a fit of passion he grabbed his gun and went in search of the offending brute. His little son Oliver, a boy of about fourteen years of age, followed him. They went to Cook's house, which is near a mile from Abercrombie's, and there found the dog in his owner's yard. Abercrombie rested his gun on the fence and fired, but the distance being so great and having only fine shot in the gun it injured the dog but little.

THE FATAL SHOT.

As soon as Abercrombie had turned to walk away, when his boy warned him that Cook was going to shoot him. Suddenly the report of another gun was heard and Abercrombie fell to the ground wounded. He was taken home and a messenger sent to Wiarton for a doctor. Dr. M. Fraser and Mr. B. B. Cooper were soon in the way to the scene of the tragedy. On arriving at Abercrombie's house they found the victim of the shooting suffering terribly. On examination they found a terrible wound just above the knee. The bone was shattered for seven or eight inches from the knee joint up, and the flesh mangled in a shocking manner. The wound was dressed as well as it could be under the circumstances, but it was apparent from the first that the leg would have to be amputated as soon as the poor man had recovered from the shock. Dr. Fisher returned accompanied by Dr. Wigle and held a consultation over the matter, and amputation was decided upon the most advisable and decided upon the next day.

THE TRIAL.

In the meantime information was laid before his Worship, Magistrate Cook for attempted murder, and a warrant was given the constable at his mill on the 4th line, a short distance from the scene of the shooting took place very coolly and quietly. Magistrates Kyle and Cook then proceeded to the house of Cook's father, where Cook was found. He was then arrested on the charge of shooting Abercrombie with intent to kill, and appeared for the defence at the trial. Oliver Abercrombie, a boy of about fourteen years of age, followed him. They went to Cook's house, which is near a mile from Abercrombie's, and there found the dog in his owner's yard. Abercrombie rested his gun on the fence and fired, but the distance being so great and having only fine shot in the gun it injured the dog but little.
