MARKDALE, SEPTEMBER 17, 1901.

STRAIGHTEN UP.

Indications of a return of prosperity are not wanting. From every quarter we see and hear encouragement, and while this is a most gratifying state of affairs a little caution may not be out of place.

Both business men and farmers should straighten up rather than "gravel" but in prosperity it is well to prepare for adversity.

Good crops and high prices do not come every year; they are "the exception rather than the rule, and should be utilized in making a general clearance of old debts.

It will be found true as a rule that those who are cautious and economical when times are good are not overtaken injuriously by hard times.

It is of little avail to "kick the stable after the horse has been stolen," and now that prosperity appears to be setting in, a word of caution may be of service.

THE TORONTO INDUSTRIAL.

This great exhibition is in full swing and last week and tens of thousands have been attracted thereto from east, west, north and south.

The products of nature as well as the inventions of man are there exhibited in great abundance, variety and perfection.

There is the sublime and the ridiculous, and perhaps we are safe in saying that the latter attracts more spectators than the former.

You may call it a gigantic advertising scheme, a monster circus, a full grown and well developed agricultural and art exhibition; in fact it is each and all of the above, and it is also the means of leaving Toronto at least a million dollars a year, and is thus a very desirable necessity to the city.

No effort has been spared to make the exhibition a great educational institution, for no one in what direction one may turn he will find something to instruct, amuse and entertain ready and willing to impart information.

You may see the products of Manitoba without visiting the prairie province or inspect the more remarkable exhibits from British Columbia without crossing the rocky mountains.

Every building on the grounds is crowded with products of the farm, factory, forest or mine, and visitors are often bewildered with the "immensity and grandeur of the great show."

DUNDALK.

Business quiet this week, owing to the great industrial advancing citizens of town and residents of adjacent sections toward it, which is exciting.

Movements of citizens further and further, chiefly to the Exhibition, are too numerous to record this week.

Ward, the photographer who eloped with a girl, leaving his wife and family in a destitute condition, got off with three months' imprisonment.

A number of our citizens will attend the Astoria week in town. Several cases will have a local interest.

Some of the grain is still out, owing to unfavorable weather.

A successful Fair is expected on October 8th and 9th, which are the dates for Pylon Fall Exhibition.

Cheese factories report a prosperous year; farmers are finding out that dairying is superior in its results to grain raising.

HARKAWAY.

As our mail carrier and wife were proceeding to Markdale, a coil which he was driving, not caring for so much behind him, kicked himself clear of the rig while on the Saugevillie hill. Fortunately none of the occupants were injured.

The recent rains caused a small attendance at the Industrial from our vicinity.

Hello there! Look at the little black dog lying there? Where? Why, among the horses' feet in your pasture field. That's a good sir, say by old (old) Lead. Such a cloud of dirt is seldom seen as that which followed those marks.

As one of our neighboring ladies, just of herself about her domestic duties, day twenty she was started by unusual yelling, and feeling her house was on fire she rushed out to investigate, but found it was only a dog.

It was Mr. Robert Hallbert, receiving a hearty cheer from his well-wishers as he hastened to that blissful event.

Priceville.

There is a good deal of harvesting to be done in this locality yet. Owing to so much wet weather the grain is ripening much slower than usual.

The crops are all good, and those who have thrived around here report the yield to be unusually good. This is cheering to farmers as well as to the farmer.

There were not many out to our Fair, which was held last Monday. The most of the cattle brought out were sold at fairly good prices.

The Rev. Mr. Baskerville, of Flossier-ton, preached here last Sabbath.

There were not so many from the past visiting the Industrial Exhibition as at former years owing to the late harvest.

Mrs. Grier is down to the city this week taking in the Fair and also visiting friends.

Last week Jos. E. Frano and Alex. James spent a few days driving to Notawansaga and other places in the County of Simcoe.

The Baptist church here has been undergoing some repairs and is now about completed. They have been holding their meetings for some time in the Presbyterian church.

Don't You Forget It.

I will never forget that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved my life. Five years ago I had a terrible attack of stomach complaint and was given up by the doctor and my parents. A friend advised Fowler's Strawberry and the second day I was relieved and soon well as ever. - Maggie McGilivray, Falkenberg, Ont.

Lauriston.

Harvesting is over and the hum of the thrasher is heard in our village.

Samuel Dimmore had a sheep killed by a bear on Thursday night last. Sam determined to watch for his return, so the next night about 12 o'clock brim put in an appearance near the stable where Sam was. He gave him a charge of buckshot, which caused him to make a hasty retreat and to growl with rage and pain. He left traces of blood after him where he had crossed a fence but is still at large.

Mr. Quinn and sister Mrs. McEgan, Mrs. S. S. Marie, stayed off a couple of days with friends on their way to the Toronto Industrial.

Wm. Foster has moved into the house known as the Shannon property.

Harry Bell has accepted a situation in Chicago.

Miss Crookshanks, of Welley, visiting friends in this vicinity.

The Misses Torgy are visiting friends in Toronto.

Mrs. David Connor is visiting friends here.

Our lumber cutter is making the lumber by this week.

Alfred Hutton lost a valuable horse one day last week.

The Lauriston boys are getting their arms ready for a big hunt. Look out for bear stories.

Mrs. Tucker, of Fort William, spent a few days last week in our village.

Walter's Falls.

The good weather of last week allowed the farmers to take away a great amount of grain. Some have indicated while the greater number would require at least another week of good weather.

Mr. Nicholas Walters and Miss Olive Brown of this place have gone to the high school. Nicholas went to O. Sound and Olive to Meaford. We are glad to learn that both are getting along nicely.

Miss Lillie Bull of Markdale and her younger brother, Charlie Bush of Chesley are visiting friends here. We hope they may enjoy their visit.

Mr. Henry Smith was visiting friends in Meaford last week.

Miss Maggie Barrs, tailress, has returned home, looking well and feeling hearty after visiting friends and acquaintances in Chesley and Peabody.

Our new saddler, Mr. Watson late of Priceville, has now got nicely started, and appears to be a first-class workman and a good citizen. We wish him every success.

Don't fail to remember that the entries for "speaking in the ring" closes on the 22nd inst. Quite a number of entries have already been sent in to the Secretary. Prize lists are demanded from all parts. In the last mail, the Secretary sent two-wheelbarrow loads of prize medals in the persons of Mrs. R. Walter, Mrs. S. Casswell, Mrs. J. Findlay, dressmaker, Mr. J. Findlay, dressmaker, and Mr. J. Findlay, dressmaker. There is every prospect of this being a greater show than last year. If you had not the opportunity of attending the Toronto exhibition this year you will be nearly well satisfied after attending the Walter's Falls jubilee fair.

Learn a Trade.

A Chicago correspondent writes to a contemporary as follows: "There are an enormous number of unemployed Canadians in this city. They would be far better off at home than here. There are thousands of them, and most of them with good educations. In my opinion the so-called 'higher education' of your people is being overdone. When they leave college they are of no account to us for business. I could write you a book about the men who have gone working for thirty dollars a month.

I got an advertisement in the paper here on Sunday for a bookkeeper, 'Canadian preferred,' and the one insertion of this brought me 508 replies, and out of these 182 had been through the Toronto University. This was last fall and the state of things is not much better now than it was then, and yet in all this interesting panorama of magnificent business and plenty of work, we cannot find good practical men with mechanical skills as salesmen, to whom we would willingly pay a good salary; and who, if not so simply for hire on the part of the young man who has a so-called 'higher education' rather than the old-fashioned fingers with a mechanical training which would fit them for lucrative positions in the future.

When to stop Advertising.

A trade journal once requested ten of its largest advertisers to give their opinion as to the best time to stop advertising. The replies were:

"When population ceases to multiply and the generations that crowd on after you and never heard of stop coming on."

"When you have convinced everybody whose life will touch yours that you have better goods and lower prices than they can ever get anywhere else."

"When you perceive it to be the rule that men who never advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business."

"When men stop making fortunes right in your sight solely through the discreet use of this mighty agent."

"When you can forget the words of the shrewdest and most successful business prosperity."

"When every man has become thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year."

"When younger and fresher houses in your line cease starting up and using the newspapers in telling the people how much better they can do for them than you can."

"When you rather have your own way and fail than take advice and win."

"When nobody else thinks 'it pays to advertise.'"

"Judicious and persistent advertising is the keystone of success; therefore, don't stop, or others will get ahead of you."

Trust The Children.

Written for the Standard by "Ricordo."

Fathers and mothers trust your boys and girls. While they are still very young let them see that you trust them to do right, not suspect them of doing wrong. Begin by trusting them in small things, then gradually as they become older trust them in larger matters. Mother, if you go away for a day leaving your little child in the house instead of saying "Oh it is so hard to be away for I shall have so much work to do when I come back" let that miniature woman feel that you are away trusting her to keep things "just as mamma did" depend upon it you will find the household duties have been performed far beyond your expectations; and perhaps a little surprise for you something you little girl never dreamed of. And all that all their little attentions should receive their meed of praise. And fathers trust your boys, console them about the work, talk over your business with them, let them see you value their opinion, and you will find that they will study out "Cause and Effect" in order to be able to give a reasonable opinion. And I am speaking to the father when I say, for instance if the butcher comes to buy a fat cow from you (you and "the boys and girls" will previously have consulted over the value of the beast); let your fifteen year old son go out and sell the cow, while you remain out of sight. Then when those boys and girls go out into the world to gain a livelihood they will be capable of holding opinions of their own and will not be prone to be swayed first one way and then the other by the varied opinions of others. When our young folks are far away from home it is the time they will value the business training you have given them as well as that obtained from books, for theory without practice is of little use. The satisfaction will be yours of knowing that your grown up sons and daughters will have some idea how to cope with the difficulties that are sure to come in their way; and also that you have done your part in educating the good and useful men and women of the coming era. I have actually seen farmer's sons, long since out of their "teens" who had not the least idea how to transact the simplest business without first asking "pa"; and young ladies who, when buying a dress, would say to the lady next her at the counter, "I don't know that to be worth the yard? I don't know because you always bought my dresses." Of course there are numerous exceptions to this rule, but nevertheless among our young people there are many of the non-business type, and when these are far away from "pa and ma"; as the majority need be in this world of "Work for Money" what is to become of those poor dependents? They will find that the advice of a stranger is not always to be depended on, and then, perhaps by bitter experience they will learn the lesson they should have been taught long ago "That of forming a reasonable opinion and acting on that opinion."

Markdale Pump Works.

J. ARTLEY, Proprietor.

It has been my aim since commencing the business in Markdale, about 6 years and a half ago, to make a pump superior to any heretofore manufactured in those parts, and not excelled if equaled elsewhere.

The verdict of the people who are using my pumps show whether I have succeeded or not.

Knowing that a certain amount of discount is made for a pump says concerning his own product I appeal below a few of the testimonials received by the Markdale Pump Works, all of whom have significant, and will be glad to pay for any person who will prove the contrary as far as his knowledge of the matter is concerned.
