MARKDALE, FEBRUARY 18, 1892.

Editorial Notes.

—Gen. Booth has returned to England from his trip to Australia and India.

—The Torrens system of land transfer has been adopted by the Elgin County Council.

—Mr. C. H. Waterous, the well-known Brantford Manufacturer, died on Wednesday of last week.

—Under the two cent rate for letters the United States Post-Office Department lacked over $6,000,000 of being self-sustaining, and in 1891 nearly $4,000,000 but it is expected to have a small surplus in 1893.

Mr. J. Herbert Mason deserves the thanks of the country as well as those of the Central Farmers' Institute for having called the attention of the latter to the benefits that would follow the general adoption of the Torrens system of land transfer. The adoption of this system throughout the whole Province is only a question of time, but it is surprising that so much time is needed to secure its substitution for the costly and cumbrous system which it is generally displacing. The advantages of the Torrens registration of titles, placing titles safe and for all beyond dispute, over conveyance by deed, or rather by a chain of deeds reaching indefinitely backwards, are so many and obvious that the wonder is that the old method has so long existed in such busy and practical a community. The obvious results of the Torrens system are, as pointed out by Mr. Mason, certainty of title, expedition in the transfer of property, saving of an expensive search, great saving of time, great reduction in the cost of the metal, lighting by magnesium may be made fairly economical.

PROJECTED RAPID TRANSIT.—The schedule time for cars on the proposed electric railway between Vienna and Bogla-Perth is expected to be 75 minutes for the entire distance of 150 miles. As planned, the road will have two main power stations, with 100 sub-stations, but only these four stopping places. Each car will be about 100 feet long, fitted with four 8 ton trucks, and an electric motor at each end will receive current through contact wires running in conducting rails. The cars, gearing, armature resistances, will be shaped like those of a ship.

POWER FROM SMALL BOATS.—The novel feature of a new electric boat, the idea of a French engineer, is a sea-water battery. The zinc and copper plates are near the boat, and can be raised or lowered by pulleys, serving as a kind of keel while at the same time driving a propeller by means of a motor.

THE MAGIC OF MODERN SCIENCE.—In a paper on "The Ionis Fatima of Photography," Mr. P. Adolphe mentions the following as among the scientifics which modern men of science are seeking as a means whereby their results may be indirectly turned into gold: 1. The artificial production of the diamond from carbon, which needs the crystal lization of carbon. 2. A prevention for cure for epilepsy and consumption. 3. The complete combustion of coal, of which but five per cent. is now available. 4. Photography in natural colors. 5. The direct utilization of solar heat, and the city and flood. 6. The production of "attar of roses" from worthless substances. Even the alchemist's original dream of direct and genuine transmutation is being revived, for the indications are increasing that the present elements are not the simple substances they have been supposed, and should gold prove to be a compound its artificial production would be but a question of time.

JAPANESE LACQUERING IN EUROPE.—The juice of the lac tree-tree (Rhus vernicifera) is the natural varnish upon which depends the famous lacquer work of the Japanese. Specimens of this tree were brought from Japan 16 years ago and planted in the Botanical Garden at Frankfort, where they have flourished and have yielded seeds from which thrifty young trees have sprung. This place now has 34 healthy trees 30 feet high. To determine whether the juice is affected by changed conditions, Prof. Rein has sent samples to Japanese artists for trial, and is having comparative analyses made by eminent chemists. If the reports are favorable, it is expected that the lacquer-tree will be quite extensively planted in Germany, and that Europeans will be instructed in the lacquering of wood by some worker from Japan.

WEIGHT OF LIGHT.—Prof. Oliver J. Lodge calculates that the impact of light-waves from the sun produces a pressure on the moon's surface of about 1000 tons. In a total eclipse of the moon this force is withdrawn, but since the total attention of the sun on the moon is to be estimated in millions of tons, this slight apparent diminution gives no appreciable effect. Upon a very small body, however, the pressure of solar light might be equal to, or even greater than, the attraction of gravitation. Such a body need not be in a size comparable with that of a grain of dust. It is conceivable that the dropping off of comets' tails on their approach to the sun is due to this action.

REMAINS OF DEAD GIANTS.—Bones recently found in New Zeland are estimated to represent 500 specimens of the moa. This immense wingless bird, now extinct, seems to have been hunted and eaten by the early inhabitants of New Zeland, and is believed to have stood at least 10 feet high. Madagascar had another giant wingless bird, whose eggs —10 or 12 inches in diameter, three times the size of the o-strich—have been discovered.

Public Improvements.

EDITOR STANDARD.—It is the duty of the public, tho' its representatives, either in Council or in Parliament, to provide such public conveniences as cannot be promoted by individual effort, and which shall be beneficial to all rate-paying interests. A case in point is a Town Hall. True we have two public halls, but neither are suitable for public entertainments. While Haskett's is comfortable in the most inclement weather, the same cannot be said of Marsh's hall; besides, it is fitted up with an execrable substitute for a platform, and devoid of chandeliers or other suitable apparatus. Another ample reason why a town hall should be erected is, that the public are liable to extortion under present circumstances, according to the caprice or whim of the owners of private halls. Recently the young men of the town held an assembly, and as Haskett's hall was not suitable for such festivity, Marsh's hall was the only alternative. The latter worthy gentleman at first demanded twenty dollars for its use; but, after considerable parleying, reduced the figures to the modest sum, of eight dollars. Similar treatment may be accorded the public under other circumstances than the foregoing, and it is due to themselves to guard against imposition.

Yours truly,

PROTECTION.

Markdale Feb. 15, '92.

Press Notices.

The following are a few of the many press notices given to Miss Jessie Alexander:—

"Not an empty seat was to be found in the hall, and the large audience was composed of that refined class of people who turn out when there is a high-class concert, or a pure and elevating entertainment on the card."—Toronto Empire

"It was encouraging to her when she appeared on the stage to find before her the largest, and perhaps the most select, audience which ever met in that vast edifice."—Toronto Globe.

"The audience was enthusiastic and appreciative. So many were turned away in consequence of the assembly room not being elastic that the entertainment is to be repeated on Monday evening, when several new pieces will be introduced."—Toronto Mail (Annual Recital.)

"After her return from the West, Miss Jessie Alexander received a royal welcome on Friday evening last. The popularity of this young lady needs no better testimony than the fact that she was obliged to repeat the performance on Monday last, and that hundreds were turned away from the doors at the first entertainment"—Toronto Saturday Night.

"Miss Alexander seems to have a remarkable faculty for bringing to the surface the gems of literature that have been passed over by other professional readers, and burnishing them with the brightness of her varied talents. The programme was all that could be desired in variety; the humorous, the pathetic, and the emotional being most tastefully arranged."—The Globe.

"The entertainment was in every point an undoubted success. This is the fourth time Miss Alexander has appeared in Owen Sound inside of a year, and it is safe to say that there is not a single elocutionist who ever visited our town who has so completely enthralled her hearers and can attract as large an audience as Miss Jessie Alexander."—Owen Sound Times.

Fire Insurance Risks.

EDITOR STANDARD:—It is an old and established maxim, and no less old than true, that he who receives value in a business transaction, should give value in return.

The readers of the STANDARD will remember the destruction by fire of the dwelling house of Mr. D. McCormack, con. 10, Glenelg, last December. The building and contents were, and had been during the past 15 years, insured in the London (Ont.) Mutual. In due course of time the Company's Inspector came along, and objected to payment because there were not brick chimneys on the house! Yet, during the past fifteen years, those sharks have been taking money from Mr. McCormack under the assumption of protecting his premises in case of accident by fire, and when the calamity occurs, evade their just responsibility upon the above contemptible subter-fuge. Why accept the premium money in the past if it was an absolute necessity to have brick chimneys erected?

It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. McCormack were at church on the occurrence of the accident, and only helpless children in the dwelling; and the only contents saved were due to the friendly efforts of distant neighbors.

Mr. McCormack is not financially able to cope with the Company, otherwise he would test the matter in the courts.

Yours, etc.

W. A. BROWN,
Clerk.

A Glenelg Boy.

Rev. W. H. W. Boyle, B. A., whose parental home is a few miles from Markdale was converted early in life and when but a young man, in his student days labored on the Berkeley mission and preached with his wonted earnestness and with acceptance to many neighboring congregations. He lives in the hearts and is held in high esteem by many readers of the STANDARD, who will be anxious to know something of his work while separated from them, and his present affliction. Graduating from Knox College Mr. Boyle was called to the pastorate of a large congregation in Paris, Ont. After four years of successful ministry there, he then accepted a call from the church in St. Thomas with two years of joyful ministry there. During his pastorate of these charges nearly four hundred souls were led to trust in Jesus their Saviour. In the midst of happy toil came the collapse like a flash of lightning out of a clear sky upon the over-worked young pastor; thirty-five successive attacks of bleeding from the lungs, leave of absence to Colorado Springs for nearly a year, then resignation, being advised by his physician that he would not be able to use his voice for public speaking for another year, if then. Being unable to witness from the pulpit Mr. Boyle resolved to use his pen praying that in this way the Lord would make him instrumental in winning souls for Himself. His first book, a neat little volume now out of the publisher's hands entitled "Footholds for Faith's Feet" contains six sermons on famous hymns and their authors and succinct account of the authors lives followed by a practical discussion and relation of incidents associated with the history of each hymn. The little volume is intensely interesting, being stimulated and benefitted by reading its pages of song and story, we commend it to others, praying with the author that it may be made instrumental under the blessing of God, in the awakening, quickening and comforting of souls. Mr. Boyle at present reports some improvement in his condition.
