MARKDALE, DECEMBER 8, 1892.

CAPITAL IDEA.

A number of local papers are adopting the strictly cash-in-advance system for all newspaper subscriptions for the coming year. This is a feature if systematically carried out would prove a benefit to subscribers as well as a decided boon to the publisher. City papers adhere to this system, and why not make it universal? The great difficulty with the country paper editor is right here; he meets the majority of his patrons face to face and becomes personally acquainted with them, and to tell them to their face that if their subscriptions are not paid promptly in advance their paper will be stopped, appears to them like questioning their honesty, or ability to pay later on, while in nine cases out of ten they are as good as the wheat. If subscribers would look upon the cash system as a move in the right direction, and remember that in order to make it a success it will be necessary for every subscriber to promptly fall into line, the principle would be comparitively easy to carry out.

The STANDARD has decided to adopt this system, and will give to the 15th of January to renew for 1893, and we hope our patrons will every one respond before that date. This is a reasonable request and we will look for a hearty response.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

A public meeting under the auspices of Markdale cheese factory was held in the council chambers on Saturday last, and tho there was a fair attendance, it was not what it should have been when we consider the importance of the dairy question. Mr. Robert Cornett, assistant Dairy Commis. was present and delivered an excellent and thoroughly practical address. Mr C. has been 22 years personally connected with the manufacture of cheese in Ontario and is consequently thoroughly posted on his subject.

The question of increasing the profit in dairying was Mr. Cornett's theme, and to this end he strongly advocates the keeping of good dairying cows only, keep more of them, feed better, and cooperate in making a high grade of butter after the season of cheese making has closed, by adding to the cheese factory the necessary plant for making butter, and thus producing a quality that will command the highest price in the English market. The speaker gave instances in Ontario where this system is being carried out with great satisfaction to the patrons.

Dr. Sproule gave a stirring address on the same subject. He quoted statistics showing the large and constantly increasing quantities of Canadian cheese which had a ready sale in the English market at the very highest prices as compared with the meagre quantity of butter exported to that market, and the low price of the same. The Doctor justly claimed special advantages for Ontario as a dairy country, its excellent pasture lands, pure water and healthful climate, all very essential in dairying operations. What is wanted, the speaker claimed, is enterprise and cooperation all along the line and get the same system into practice in butter making that now prevails in the manufacture of cheese.

Such meetings as this cannot but prove helpful, and those who fail to embrace the opportunity of being present are the losers by the losers.

A vote of thanks was passed to the speaker after which the factory management proceeded with their winding up meeting.

The secretary's books showed that 711,571 lbs milk had been supplied this season which made 66,532 lbs cheese, and to each 9.8.08. 10½ lbs milk to the lb cheese was the yield, and $10.25 per cwt. for the four and a half months the average. The price realized for cheese for the season was a fraction over 9½ cents per lb. The meeting passed a unanimous vote of thanks to the Markdale Council for the use of the hall for their public meeting.

GREY PARLIAMENT.

The session for 1892 of Grey county council was held in Owen Sound last week. There wasn't a vacant seat, every member being present. This was gratifying, and speaks well for the health of this august body, as well as their fidelity in the discharge of duty; doubtless the social attractions and ample remuneration had also something to do in the full attendance. Before another meeting comes around an election campaign will take place, and it is well to recount the vigorous efforts of the outgoing parliament in the direction of economy and retrenchment. Take the Thornbury bridge for instance; Our county legislators spurned the idea of assisting that town to erect a bridge. Why should the county lay down a precedent of unnecessary expenditure? They also refused to appoint a committee to investigate the necessity or requirements of such, and furthermore declined to appoint an arbitrator in the matter. Grey county council is too experienced to be so easily entrapped or in any way committed to such costly entanglements. Thornbury would have been pleased to have secured $1,000 from the county treasury to assist them in the erection of a steel bridge over the river in that town, would have even accepted $800 of a grant, but no, the county treasury must be protected. What was the result? you say. Just this Thornbury pursued the only course open namely: law, and the result is that between the amount put upon the county as its legal share of the cost of the bridge and the law and other costs connected with the same, our county treasury is depleted to the amount of nearly $3,000. So much for economical government on that question. Again, three sessions of six days each have been occupied during the year deliberating and making laws, and, all at once at the closing session schemes are proposed for reducing the representation in the county council and thus make the cumbrous, unwieldy and costly concern more practical and less expensive. A couple of days are thus utilized, and a host of schemes set forth but no definite result arrived at. The anxiety of the members for economy and retrenchment is thus made manifest to the electors from whom support will be courted in a couple of weeks, and this is an important point which should not be lost sight of. It costs $150 a day to run this parliament. How would it work to introduce new energy and system into the concern so that each session would be shortened at least two days, which doubtless could be done, and thus save in the year $900.

"JOE SKIPPED"—A paragraph appeared in last week's Advanco, which has created some stir. Ye editor allowed his zeal to overcome his descression. However deserving Joe may be of the hard hitting administered in said paragraph, we do not think the public press is the proper channel for such violent attacks on the character of anyone even although they should be financially in deep water. An apology will be no doubt forthcoming.

THE MOUSE WAS SCARED.—This is another wonderful paragraph from the same pen. Was it intended for taffy or sarcasm, or what? The young lady referred to must feel highly flattered, provided always that the author could be relied upon as being in dead earnest. There are Vile Imitations.

"The Diamond Dyes always give richer, faster and brighter colors than any other make of dye." This is the popular Canadian verdict. No other dyes now before the ladies have such a record of brilliant and satisfactory successes as the Diamond. Imitators are in the field introducing new makes of dyes which cannot possibly give the honest and true results guaranteed by Diamond Dyes. When buying dyes beware of imitations; buy only the genuine.

"IT CURED MOTHER."

GENTLEMAN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and had no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured and when I went home I told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house a week before we could induce her to try it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well

A REMARKABLE CASE.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. They are never without Hagyards Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girle applied it to one of the warts. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hand with snow, and finally the warts dropped off and I have never been troubled since.
