

Markdale Standard.

C. W. Rutledge, Proprietor.

MARKDALE, MARCH 30, 1893

Flesherton.

The sidewalk in town are nearly all clear of snow.

Our worthy reeve, J. Boland, Esq., gave us call on Monday.

Mr. Ben Patch, from Caledon, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Patch.

The Mechanized Institute held a meeting on Friday evening. M.R. Richard presided.

A slip of the foot may be recovered but that of tongue never—so look out you man.

A number of friends from town attended the funeral of the late Ed. Wright.

The lady Evangelist, Miss Williams occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday evening and delivered a most eloquent sermon to a large audience from the text, "Fight the good fight of faith." She has command of a vigorous flexible style choosing monosyllables more than polysyllables and the great question of antiquity, "What is the supreme good?"

Harkaway.

For the last three months there has been excellent programs rendered by the Patron here, under the command of Capt. Virey and Capt. Wright for who shall pay for the oysters. President Smith acted as critic and declared in favor of Capt. Wright's side by 32 majority. The oyster supper takes place this Tuesday evening 8:30, when a good time is anticipated.

Mr. Coburn has leased Mr. Vance's farm and moved thereto. Mr. Burnett has taken possession of Mr. Bonnell's farm. We welcome these families to this part.

Mr. W. Johnson and Mr. A. W. Morris attended the Patron concert and report an excellent program.

We were exceedingly sorry to hear of the terrible accident which befell Mr. Kinney a former resident of this place. Mr. Thos. D. Scott has been indisposed of late.

The phonograph concert in the church recently was a success.

Holland Centre.

Mrs. John Hawley is visiting friends in Menasha and last week.

Mr. Ward evangelized last Thursday morning in Toronto.

Mrs. Henry Silvey's neck is a victim to blood poisoning, in hand and arm.

Any persons who have escaped "la grip" thus far, may consider themselves grip-proof.

Mr. W. Thompson preached Sunday evening.

The fine weather has destroyed the sleighing and less snow would up the road leading.

We are anticipating great results from the bethelites when our kind friend from Beaverton comes to organize, and we hope he will soon get his new "turf." But "the way" if the tailors put it very down there just bring your material here and our tailors (which are many) will do your work in the latest style and quickest time, and some of them are "quicker" than others.

Mr. Hanmer and the minister had a break down between here and Berkley on Sunday and had to come home again the next day.

Look out on "all fall" day. Who can tell biggest? A story next week.

Walter's Falls.

Bountiful weather again after the monster that last week.

Miss A. Walter, and Miss Mary L. Calbridge, both of the Collegiate Institute, Owen Sound, arrived home the end of last week to spend their Easter vacation.

Mr. A. Campbell arrived home from Michigan lately.

Miss Lucy M. Delore, who has been visiting friends in Meritford for some time past arrived home on Friday, 24th inst.

Truly the magnificent time spent on Monday evening last by the Royal Templars was a fitting close to the excellent program contest of the last three months. The evening was all that could be desired and a large number were present. After a good program had been rendered all sat down to partake of the excellent treat, including oysters, etc., provided by the losingside, Then followed an amusement, music, games, etc., everyone enjoying themselves to the utmost. After this had been indulged in for a considerable time the merry company dispersed, well satisfied with the evening's enjoyment.

An incident occurred on Wednesday, 22nd inst., which showed the sympathy of one school children for a little friend in trouble. Finding out that Wednesday was Lottie Seabrook's eleventh birthday two of her companions, Maggie Findlay and Allie Barker, acting on a plan approved by their elders, collected from friends the sum of ten dollars. During the evening a number of the little girl's playmates assembled at Mr. Findlay's and headed by Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Findlay wended their way to the home of Mr. Seabrook where the money was presented to Lottie. She was greatly pleased by the gift from her little friends, and a pleasant time was spent.

HERCULAS WILKINSON, of Brownsville Ind., says, "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach; dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever done in my life. It would advise every weak person to use this valuable remedy. I consider it the greatest in the world." A trivial bottle will convince you. Warranted by W. Turner & Co.

Mouth-organs just received, big stock, large assortment at Turner's drug store,

Kimberley.

Since writing last we have had an entertainment by the Kimberley Minstrel Band, in the town hall. The attendance was larger than any we have had here for years and the expectations of a good evening enjoyment were fully realized. The singing was good, and the acting proved that the excellent reputation of this band was not at all exaggerated. The people here are so pleased with the excellence of that entertainment, and with the arrangements that likely will be made for another in the near future.

Mr. Thomas Bradley, our esteemed schoolmaster, has moved onto a farm in Artesia, leaving a good opening for another foot clother.

A slip of the foot may be recovered but that of tongue never—so look out you man.

A number of friends from town attended the funeral of the late Ed. Wright.

The lady Evangelist, Miss Williams occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday evening and delivered a most eloquent sermon to a large audience from the text, "Fight the good fight of faith." She has command of a vigorous flexible style choosing monosyllables more than polysyllables and the great question of antiquity, "What is the supreme good?"

Harkaway.

For the last three months there has been excellent programs rendered by the Patron here, under the command of Capt. Virey and Capt. Wright for who shall pay for the oysters. President Smith acted as critic and declared in favor of Capt. Wright's side by 32 majority. The oyster supper takes place this Tuesday evening 8:30, when a good time is anticipated.

Mr. Coburn has leased Mr. Vance's farm and moved thereto. Mr. Burnett has taken possession of Mr. Bonnell's farm. We welcome these families to this part.

Mr. W. Johnson and Mr. A. W. Morris attended the Patron concert and report an excellent program.

We were exceedingly sorry to hear of the terrible accident which befell Mr. Kinney a former resident of this place.

Mr. Thos. D. Scott has been indisposed of late.

The phonograph concert in the church recently was a success.

Holland Centre.

The roads in this locality are very bad at present. In a few days more there will be neither sleighing or wheeling.

Our usually quiet village was thrown into a state of excitement last Friday night, when the alarm was given that the residence of Mr. Wm. Watson, Sr., was in a blaze. With much difficulty a portion of the contents in the lower part of the house was removed. The fire must have originated from the stove. The members of the family were all away at the time.

Though some of our houses are being once in a while reduced to ashes, it is a satisfaction to know that others and finer residences are to be erected this coming summer. Among them Mr. Reilly is to erect a beautiful brick residence, which will, no doubt, be prettily arranged and completed.

Miss Maggie Ferguson left last Tuesday for Chicago, after spending the winter month, with her mother, Mrs. Ferguson of this town.

Mr. James Watson has been in delicate health for some time past. She is improving, but very slowly.

Mr. Lauchy McLauchlan left last week for the Western States. He thought he would try his luck in Uncle Sam's domains for some time.

Mr. John McLauchlan, of the Durham road Glenly, is busily engaged at present taking out timber for a barn, which he intends erecting this summer.

Mr. John McLeod, a neighbor of the above, had the misfortune one day last week of cutting off his foot with the axo. He was assisting in taking out barn when the ax glanced somwhat to another and made a very bad cut which will prevent him doing any work this spring.

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

How does Mr. Kells propose to provide for the deficit, upon the reduction of tariff on the line he mentioned, so that the farmer (say) should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?

As to damages: will Mr. Kells kindly name one company or combine in Canada which pays over six per cent dividends upon the capital invested and whose operation has not conduced to cheapen, to farmers and others, the articles produced?

Does Great Britain complain of the present Canadian Tariff?

What approximate proportion of the Revenue as now collected, does the farmer pay per capita? This question is most important one to know!

It is fair or otherwise, that all classes in the Dominion, should pay an equitable proportion of the Revenue?