W. S. JOHNSTON, formerly of Port Elgin, has entered into partnership with two gentlemen in Toronto and purchased the book-binding business of the Barber & Ellis Co., Toronto.—Tara Leader.

THE R. C. church in this place is being roofed and the brick work complete with the exception of the finishing of the tower. The workmanship is good and reflects much credit on the contractor, Mr. Whitton.

BERKELEY takes the bun for successful garden parties. There was two held there last week, only two days apart, the receipts of which amounted to $16 ninety and seventy-three respectively.

MR. WM. HASKETT has decided to erect this season a brick dwelling on his park lot on Toronto Street and is arranging to have the work pushed forward with all possible speed. This will be another ornament to this flourishing village.

A GARDEN PARTY will be held on Wednesday evening next, August 9, at the residence of Mr. Wes. Rutledge, back line west, to which a cordial invitation is extended to all. The Citizens' Band is expected and a good time promised. Admission 15c.

A PLEASANT countenance, quick to hear, sharp to see, genial and courteous with carefulness and integrity are all charicteristics necessary in a postoffice clerk; and while Mr. McFarland has been successful in having such in his employ in the past, the new assistant, Miss Graham of Vandeleur, gives evidence of being admirably suited, and with a little practice, a competent official.

NEARING COMPLETION.—The brick work of the Stephen-McCullough-Young block is completed and presents a very respectable appearance. The front is built of pressed brick from Toronto and when completed with plate glass windows will be the most handsome front in town. In about six weeks they expect to take possession, one department by McCullough & Young's bank and the other by Stephen's drug store, telephone office and Division Court clerk's office.

DEATH OF ELIJAH JONES.—The many friends of Mr. Elijah Jones will exceedingly regret to learn of his premature death, which took place at Cape Croker on Sunday the 19th July. Elijah was well known and highly respected by the young folks and citizens of Markdale generally, while attending school here some years ago. His admirable social qualities and good morals made him a decided favorite. He has been battling with consumption for some considerable length of time, but succumbed to the dread enemy as above.

GONE TO MANITOBA.—Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and daughter Miss Ida, left on Tuesday for Elkhorn, Man. A more scrupulously honorable and fine principled family have not lived in our midst and it is with many regrets on the part of Markdale citizens that they have taken their departure from among us. The two sons, Wm. and Fred, and Miss Mary (now Mrs. McLoughry) have previously settled out in the prairie province. On the evening prior to their departure the teachers and officers of the Methodist S. School presented Miss Stevens, who has been a faithful worker in the school for many years, with a bible and an address. The STANDARD but voices the sentiments of all who had the pleasure of their acquantance, in wishing the family one and all abundant success.

Successful G. Party.

The annual garden party under the auspices of the English Church was held on Friday evening last at the premises of Mr. James Wright, Berkeley, and was a genuine success. The moon was full and the atmosphere clear, the somewhat chilly. There was a large attendance and a most sociable evening was spent. Ample provision had been made for the wants of the inner man and full justice was done to the toothsome viands. Markdale citizens' band furnished excellent music and were not a bit stingy about it either. Short addresses were delivered by Revs. Horace E. Bray, the Rector, R. J. Husband, Mr. Milne and an interesting and amusing chalk talk by Rev. Mr. Hill, M. A. of Chatsworth, also music by the Bush family orchestra. Receipts of the evening $73.

Editor Standard:

DEAR SIR:—Will you kindly let the public know if the cow By-law is still in force or has it been repealed. If it is still in force why is it not enforced as it is a well known fact that not one half of the cows that are owned in the municipality are kept enclosed at night, but are allowed to run on the street both day and night. Also, why are horses allowed to run on the streets loose smashing up our sidewalks, breaking down fences, etc. Also why is it that wholesome are compelled to purchase tags for their dogs that others are allowed to run without having any tag on. I would like to know whose fault this is. If the council have employed or appointed a constable to enforce their By-laws who is he and why does he not look after this business? As a rule private citizens do not like to look after this kind of business when they are taxed to pay some one to do it for them but who does not appear to show up except when he appears at the council chambers to demand his pay for doing simply nothing.

"Weighing Stock."

Mr. Editor:

Were it not for the personalities and mean insinuation of Mr. J. I. Graham's communication of last week I would not notice it, but lest it might mislead some one who does not know the man I will give the facts of the case.

I bought three cattle from this man, by the pound; they were delivered at Flesherton Station where they were weighed by Mr. S. Hemphill, proprietor of the scales at that place, Mr. Graham, his men and myself putting the cattle on the scales and then turning them into the yard with any other stock. We came back to the weigh-master for the ticket which showed twenty-nine hundred and thirty pounds. Mr. Graham then produced a weigh ticket from another scale which called for thirty hundred and forty pounds and said unless I would pay on that ticket he would take his cattle. I offered to allow him to do so if he returned the deposit I made on them which he refused to do, but said he would take them. This Mr. Cook and I would not allow him to do. He says he proposed to call down the Inspector; this I intended to, and subsequently did, but I state most emphatically he never proposed to do anything of the kind, but based his claim solely on the ticket he brought with him to the station. He then left in high dudgeon threatening to bring the strong arm of the law to bear upon the case. Being anxious to know if there was anything wrong with the scales I telephoned to Mr. Lyons of Markdale, Government Inspector of Weights and Measures, who came promptly, tested the scales, found them correct and re-weighed the cattle and said if Mr. Hemphill erred at all it was in making them too heavy as Mr. Lyons' ticket showed them some pounds lighter. I also had them weighed in Toronto myself where they weighed twenty-eight-hundred and seventy pounds. For three weeks I heard nothing of Mr. Graham when he came to Markdale and quietly took his money on the Hemphill ticket. Now if he considered he was wronged out of one hundred and ten pounds why did he submit to it? Why did he not place the matter in the courts for adjustment? But, sir, he knew his cattle were weighed right; that he was paid every cent they were worth, and he knew he had no case and simply because he could not get more than they were worth as he did in the case of the hog, he has the consummate gall to mention his only redress was this whimpering wail which he had published after he received his money.

The hog he mentions, was bought from him by Mr. Wes Kelly who resold it to me. When J. I. came to Flesherton Station with his hog he dumped it into the yard having no call for public scales just then, he having used his own that morning to good advantage. He then appeared before Mr. Cook demanding his money for the hog. Mr. Cook very naturally asked for the weigh ticket when he coolly replied he had none, saying, he had the weight in his own book. His own hog. His own scales, himself weigh-master—a little one-sided, wasn't it? But here I must draw his attention to the fact that I was not on the scene at all that morning to help "kick the hog out." When I did arrive Mr. Cook explained what had taken place. I said I would ship the hog for Mr. Kells, and have it weighed by itself in Toronto, where it weighed forty pounds less than Mr. Graham claimed from Mr. Cook and I understood at the time that, rather than have any trouble with him, Mr. Kells paid for the extra forty pounds.

Regarding his request to the public to have the men inspected the public have not yet forgotten another instance in which J. I. Graham undertook to have one of the men in question inspected and if it did not cost J. I. anything it no doubt did, some one else who doubtless today does not thank him for his smartness so he had better be guarded in his statements, for if he commits himself in any way with me he alone will have to bear the responsibility.

The last part of his letter concerning a "farmer" and a "buyer" and a "squealer" is beneath notice, but I wish to say that no buyer, myself or Mr. Cook or any other would think of paying for stock on tickets from any scales other than those where the stock is delivered and buyer and seller are present. If disputes arise then the proper course is to call the Government Inspector and have the scales tested and if he pronounces the scales correct and the stock properly weighed then his decision must be final.

Respectfully,
W. G. PICKELL.

HARRIET E. HALL of Waynetown, Ind., says: I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it the best medicine in the world I cannot recommend it too highly." Sold by W. Turner & Co. druggists, Markdale.
