Light and pure air can do more for human vitality than any other outside force. Urygon is the most powerful known itonic to the nervous tissues. We cannot have health without pure air and light. There are very few, if any, of the disease breeding gorms that flourish in the full light of day. Worryments are the ants on the soul.

The laws of health are no less cogent and irrefragable than the laws of the multiplication table.

Nature is a retributive Nemesis inflecting her penalties unfailingly. Our acts are one ownexecutioners, just as righteouness, goodness and virtue carry their own reward with them. The tetter we observe the laws of health the more will we help to advance humanity and the divinity of mankind.
