MARKDALE, MARCH 22, 1894

OVER DONE.

The travelling troupe of operatic concert, show business is getting to be a nuisance. The advance agent, who is generally an adept at the work, waits on a leading spirit in some benevolent society, or church, or possibly the brass band, and pictures to him (or her) the excellencies of his particular troupe or Artiste, exhibits a pocket full of testimonials and pointing specially to the rare opportunity of replenishing the treasury of said society while at the same time furnishing a superior entertainment, which never fails to bring a crowded house. Should the victim still assume indifference, the A. A. confidentially intimates his desire to give you the first opportunity which some other church or society would doubtless eagerly accept. This fetches him sure. Others are waited upon, an agreement signed, a date fixed and the agent takes his departure. The society under whose auspices the troupe or elocutionist is to appear now begins to realize their danger that if they don't utilize all the zeal and energy and tactics in their power in order to secure a good house the expenses will overbalance the receipts. The result has been generally disappointing and not unfrequently a drain on the treasury. Of course the society thus engendered keeps mum. Neither individuals or organizations care to admit defeat, so the next smooth tongued advance agent meets with similar success and thus our people are duped. Citizens generally possess sufficient loyalty to lend a helping hand to local enterprise, church, benevolent society or charitable cause, consequently these entertainments are more largely patronized than would if managed in the proper kind of local interest. Each fact the management of the various concerts are well aware of and therefore take good care to secure under the auspices of some local organization. Markdale has suffered much of this kind of thing and would do well to shut down on them.

COOL SCRATCHES.

As the people of this vicinity are not as fully represented in the columns of your paper as the go-ahead life merits, I hereby take the liberty of noting a few occurances of our neighborhood.

On account of the heavy windstorm last April the farmers of this vicinity have been unusually busy this winter getting out their fallen timber. As a result of this, the mill yards of Messrs. Mitchell and Winlaw have been overstocked with logs. However, since the snow has gone the rush has ceased and the farmers are now having their leisure.

Mr. Jno. Winlaw and his employees have been busily engaged in getting out shingle timber. Jno. is a lively business man and is doing a rushing trade in the shingle line.

The Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Owen Sound, occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church last Sabbath. Those present had the pleasure of listening to an interesting and instructive discourse on "The Second Coming of Christ."

Mr. A. Baines, who has been attending the Toronto University, has of late been attacked by that terrible disease Typhoid Fever, but after careful treatment in Toronto Hospital he is now recovering. Mr. Baines is one of the brightest students of the day, and it is with regret that we hear he has been retarded in his brilliant course of study.

In the budget of news from the Berkeley correspondent we noticed an item stating that Messrs. Stevens accomplished the noted feat of sawing a cord of two-foot wood in 35 minutes. That is very good gentlemen. We admire your pluck and ability, but it is only of late that we have been informed, that our own neighborhood can produce new and superior ability. John Aitkens, Jr., and he hired man Phillip Marshall have of late lowered the record to a cord in 20 minutes. Beat that who can. This is no boast. These gentlemen say they can do it again if necessary.

Mr. Jno. McKennit is busy preparing for the building of a mammoth frame barn. As the work is in the hands of Messrs. Duncan and Abbott a handsome job is sure to be the result.

To further adorn their estates Messrs. Wm. Sowerby and Wat Aitken are both making preparations for the building of straw shed and stables.

The honor of doing the first ploughing of the season in our neighborhood is due Mr. Lasby Dowling who was to be seen gaily turning the sod on Saturday last, March 10th.

In speaking of early spring adventures we might here mention that the first coon killing of the season was accomplished by Messrs. W. Gibson and P. Marshall. The boys say they were whopping big fellows, they must have weighed 40 pounds.

On the evening of the 1st inst. we had the pleasure of attending a taffy party at the residence of Mr. Jno. H. Featherstone's. All present speak highly of the hospitality of Mr. Featherstone and his better part.

What we would like to know:—

What attracts Thos. Sowerby to the County Town. Wonder could it be personal magnetism?

Which of our youths have the most pluck. Some of them are very courageous after dark. Muddy roads seem no hindrance to some of them, especially Bob, Bill, Harry and a few more who will be allowed to go free for this time.

Why our teacher takes such frequent trips to Dornoch. What the matter with the girls of this vicinity? Dornoch can never excel our neighborhood in that respect.

SCOTTY.

In hope that I may convince some one of the benefit of a Windmill who had water to pump for stock out of a shallow well I might say that after testing mine for five months, I must say that it works to perfection.
