The Canadian who will soon have everything his own way, remarks the Gui-jip Heriot. Nothing stands but two M's "the" and "the". His fortunes for farmers who scientifically encourage him in producing habits. Not only are eggs to be admitted into United States Markets, but there is now a bill before the Local Legislature to exempt poultry from the duty. The Haw, with two combs especially fitted to leave Canada's popular bird from mortal worry of every kind. She neither fears the master house officer nor avoids the health for no one is so bold as to stir up the community. Those favorable conditions ought to be the incubator and incendiary, but manna mustn't go to waste.

Heath, the man in the east of us gets a hand into his home, their neighbor McNauly on the west, he added a few bad boys on the 18th inst. We're in a bind between 'em.

Dude Foster, the bard, and brother LeGard.

Of your thriving town.

On Sunday came down Haywards Fa to see.

By way of a ple-

The story to tell—

The ladies went a-sparling.

Saturday morning last wasn't a very promising one for a barn raising, yet it turned out serene ere eve. Ken Sharp and gang came to Mr. R. Jack's on Monday and the close of the week saw the barn up. Quick fanning! About one hundred and forty men were there, workers too. Messrs. Tracy and P. McNauly led the sides. Geo. Goodwill and Colin McNauly were the two chosen first and worthily they bore their reputations. But there were scores of agile fellows. Twas a most exciting race. No three seconds were, twist the finish and Tom's men doing the cheering. The whole building went together like clockwork. The women folks had piles of the good things. We trust the electric fluid may never be poured on neighbor Jack's possessions again.
