MARKDAL, AUGUST 9, 1914
Lily Oak.

Harvesting is fairly started in this neighborhood, but crops prove to be very light.
Quite a number of our citizens took in the railroad picnic to Orangeville on Saturday.

Miss Lizzie Robson, of Detroit, is spending her vacation at her parents' home here. We are glad to see her back again in our midst.

Mr. H. Olmstead is rapidly turning out lumber, and in a couple of weeks will have his entire stock of logs consumed.

Immense Summer Sale

For next 30 Days at McF.'s

We have just received several cases special novelties bought from different manufacturers at their prices. We have also gone through each Department and through our piles of goods for our Grand Midsummer Sale. We have bargained the knife right to the hilt and sliced away profits, many prices cut as much as two.

Our reason for these Summer Sales is because, past experience has taught us the wisdom of cleaning out everything in the season, rather than carrying over from year to year and then making a greater sacrifice.

Another reason for our Midsummer Sale is, that selling goods at such ridiculously low prices makes business men during quiet months in summer.

We are determined to keep the wheels revolving. Trade for the past spring and summer has been extra good—way ahead of our most sanguine expectations.

It is quite common to hear customers as well as travelling men and visitors remark that this is the best time to buy anything you need. We intend the prices quoted for our Summer Sale shall keep business booming for next 30 days.

AN EMINENT MINISTER REV. W. S. BARKER PETERBORO.

Mr. W. S. Barker is a young minister of Peterboro, Ontario. He is a man of great energy and high character. He has been called to the ministry of the Gospel and is now laboring in the field of the Kingdom of God. He is a man of high character and high energy. He is a man of high character and high energy. He is a man of high character and high energy.

It is now a scientific fact that certain nerve centres near the base of the brain have control over the stomach, liver, lungs and indeed all internal organs. It is, therefore, not surprising that they furnish these organs with the necessary nerve force to enable them to perform their respective work. When the nerve centres are weakened or deranged the result is a general derangement of the system.

Mr. W. S. Barker is a young minister of Peterboro, Ontario. He is a man of great energy and high character. He has been called to the ministry of the Gospel and is now laboring in the field of the Kingdom of God. He is a man of high character and high energy. He is a man of high character and high energy.
