 Don't buy your tea from Peddlars. There is no good product more readily detected and adulterated than tea and the peddler has to do this to pay for teams, long trips and small sales. Besides he always buys his stocks second hand. It pays toll to three or four people before it reaches him and he cannot give you a good article as cheap as reliable established merchants who imports direct from the growers.
 A Casino Minister.—N. W. Campbell, Esq., Public School Inspector for South Grey, is one of the most thorough and up-to-date officials in the province, and an indefatigable worker. He is not only a member of this situation, but would make a competent Minister of Education, which position he would not be surprised to see him occupy. He is a devoted and able address at the Vandalier new school opening last week.

The Bachelors Ball.
 Last Tuesday evening the Bachelors of Markdale gave their annual ball and despite the intensely cold weather, a merry throng gathered in the evening. There was a large attendance, and other outside towns being represented. The dancing was most enjoyable and the music was well rendered. The fair debutantes who were having their first experience, to the strains of sweet music, and the charming waltz or a lively polka, and the young ladies and gentlemen to whom a partner was not available, were joined together in going through the familiar figures of the waltzing lancers. The program contained twenty-four dances and four extra and was a unique and enjoyable one. Music was furnished by the noted D'Alencastro's orchestra, of Toronto, and was all that could be desired. The Lady Patronesses were:
 Mrs. MacPherson
 "Higger
 "Conroy
 "Richardson
 "Staford
 "Mathews
 "W. H. Hackett
 "S. H. Hill
 "Meeker.

The Bachelors Ball.
 Last Tuesday evening the Bachelors of Markdale gave their annual ball and despite the intensely cold weather, a merry throng gathered in the evening. There was a large attendance, and other outside towns being represented. The dancing was most enjoyable and the music was well rendered. The fair debutantes who were having their first experience, to the strains of sweet music, and the charming waltz or a lively polka, and the young ladies and gentlemen to whom a partner was not available, were joined together in going through the familiar figures of the waltzing lancers. The program contained twenty-four dances and four extra and was a unique and enjoyable one. Music was furnished by the noted D'Alencastro's orchestra, of Toronto, and was all that could be desired. The Lady Patronesses were:
 Mrs. MacPherson
 "Higger
 "Conroy
 "Richardson
 "Staford
 "Mathews
 "W. H. Hackett
 "S. H. Hill
 "Meeker.

 Don't buy your tea from Peddlars. There is no good product more readily detected and adulterated than tea and the peddler has to do this to pay for teams, long trips and small sales. Besides he always buys his stocks second hand. It pays toll to three or four people before it reaches him and he cannot give you a good article as cheap as reliable established merchants who imports direct from the growers.
 A Casino Minister.—N. W. Campbell, Esq., Public School Inspector for South Grey, is one of the most thorough and up-to-date officials in the province, and an indefatigable worker. He is not only a member of this situation, but would make a competent Minister of Education, which position he would not be surprised to see him occupy. He is a devoted and able address at the Vandalier new school opening last week.
