THE CEMETERY BY-LAW.—Much indifference was manifested by ratepayers on Monday last in reference to the by-law which was being voted on. Only about one third of the qualified voters visited the polling place or recorded their vote. The by-law was, however, carried by 36 for and only 9 against.

MR. T. J. COLEMAN, one of our enterprising young neighbor farmers, added this week to his herd a pair of superior cows from Guelph, a Jersey and a shorthorn. It gives us pleasure to thus note such evidences of keeping abreast with the rapid progress which is being made in the stock line, especially by our young agriculturists.

SHREWD men who look for snaps usually get them. Such is the case with J. E. Trolford, who has purchased one thousand dollars worth of furniture at a rate on the $ consisting of parlor and bedroom suits, lounges, sideboards, etc., also a full line of window shades and curtain poles. Look out for bargains.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.—Mr. R. W. Ennis has been in Toronto this week selecting and purchasing a stock of harness leather and saddlery goods, and will open business immediately in Hill's block opposite the Markdale House. If the new driver proves to be as obliging as "Big John" he will do very well. We understand Mr. Warling intends moving back to his farm. His friends along the Durham Road will miss him. He was more regular than some of their clocks.—Durham Chronicle

Therefore, I hereby declare that By-law No. 77, has been duly voted upon, and carried by the municipality of the Village of Markdale. W. A. Brown, Returning Officer, Village of Markdale.

Markdale, April 9, 1895.

THE NEW BALLOT.—By an order-in-council passed on Saturday the Dominion Act of Parliament providing for the new ballot is to be brought into force immediately. The new ballot will leave little opportunity, if any, for errors such as frequently spoil votes. It will be black except the blank space opposite the name of each candidate, on which the voter is to place his decisive cross. If mistakes occur under this plan they will be either from wilful ignorance or gross carelessness. The new ballot will be tried in the bye-elections, and that will test its utility for the general elections.

Canadian Horses to go to Belgium.

It is reported that a company has been formed in Belgium having for its object the importation of Canadian horses into that country. If the report is true, it will be welcome news to our breeders and farmers who have on hand the kinds desired. If we can extend our export horse trade with Great Britain, and our horses find favor in Belgium, it will do much to lift the trade out of the depressed condition in which it has been for some time. The Onion.

A physician was seen buying a barrel of onions, and, being guyed about his purchase, said: "I always have boiled onions for dinner for the benefit of my children. I like onions, too. They are the best medicine I know of for preventing colds. Feed onions raw, boiled or baked to the children three or four times a week, and they will grow healthy and strong. No worms, no scarlatina, no diptheria, where children eat plenty of onions every day." Another distinguished physician confirmed the foregoing statement, adding: "Couldn't give better advice."

Flynn wasn't Murdered.

Inspector Rogers of the Ontario Criminal Investigation Department has returned from Shallow Lake, where he went to investigate into the circumstances connected with the death of John Flynn, who was found insensible in a shed near Cruickshank's postoffice and died in a few hours.

The presence of two wounds on the deceased's head and body led to the suspicion that Flynn had been assaulted and rendered helpless, and that he had died from exposure.

It is now believed that Flynn's death was due to accident. He left Owen Sound Friday afternoon. It is thought that, exhausted by his 10-mile walk, he fell while climbing a stone fence near the shed where he was found two days later. In falling he received the injuries found on his body, either of which was sufficiently serious to cause death. Flynn then made his way to a shed and lay there in a helpless condition until found by some boys 40 hours later. A whiskey bottle half filled was found in his pocket; his valise, the contents undisturbed, was lying near him, and there was not the slightest evidence of any struggle in the shed or vicinity.

The fact that Flynn was formerly night watchman at the Owen Sound cement works and was the principal witness against a man indicted for firing the premises in June last may explain the alacrity with which people jumped at the murder theory.

The Late Jas. Allen, Esq.

Death has removed, in the person James Allen, Esq., late Indian Agent of the Saugeen Indian Band, one of Bruce County's well known and universally respected men. After patiently bearing intense bodily affliction for about a year, and for some months prior to his demise anxious to be freed from the body and present with the Lord, his spirit took its departure on Thursday morning last, April 4. The remains were interred in the family plot at Allenford cemetery on Saturday. The Indian brass band headed the procession from his late residence, Chippewa Hill, a distance of 8 miles, and played beautifully at intervals appropriate music. Service was conducted at the house by the Rev. T. J. Smith, Methodist Missioner, and at the church, Allenford, by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Dyke, assisted by the Rev. W. Mowat, Presbyterian, and Rev. J. E. Allen, of Newark, N. Y., eldest son of deceased. Notwithstanding the desperate state of the roads and inclemency of the weather there was a large attendance. Six sons (five of whom acted as pall bearers, together with their Uncle, C. W. Rutledge, the sixth being ill at the time) and two daughters are left to mourn the loss of parents, their mother having passed away three years ago.

Deceased was born near Inishkillen, Co. Fermanagh, Ireland, June 30, 1826, and immigrated at the age of five years, with his parents, to the township of Dunmur, near Peterboro', and in 1849 moved to Holland township, three miles from Markdale. In 1858 he moved to Amabel township, Bruce Co. His first nomination to public office took place during his absence from home before he was of legal age for such position, and being elected he continued in public place to the end, over twenty years of which he served as reeve of Amabel township. He was possessed of a spirit of opulent generosity as to both mental valuations and material aid, of munificent magnanimity touching toleration of a political opponent and in forgoing any wrong. His distinguishing dignity coupled with an attractive sympathy, his commanding grace for set occasions and his easy affability towards the most obscure, his wide range of vision as to governmental matters on all the continents, and his active participation in all questions calling forth public spirited activities will long be remembered as distinctive characteristics of a personality no longer swayed with sympathetic thrill and pulsings among the affairs of men.
