The receipts of cheese at Montreal to date for the month are 6,000,000 boxes, an export only 500,000; the latter figures include the through as well as local shipment, and are reported to be over 1,000,000 boxes held to go forward in Montreal alone at present.

Here and There.
Once a bore, always a bore.
It requires a good deal of tact to enjoy marriage.

A high ideal is useful as long as it is out of reach.
Man leaves this world more debtor than creditor.

A woman who doesn't look her age isn't apt to tell it.

The people who know best how to enjoy life often enjoy it least.

No man who minds his own business can be said to have lived in vain.

Bank notes will probably pass from hand to hand indefinitely, despite the Sovereign decree.

The man with thin legs tends to avoid good stockings, if he has any desire whatever to look picturesque.

When a man has good luck he calls it an inspiration, when his luck is bad he generally thinks it is the hand of fate.

What a man has done does not furnish a complete key to his character; he should know what he has refrained from doing.

The summer resort keeps in view of the weather, but the winter resort keeps in view of the weather and says, "Now is the sunnier of our discontent." But they both hope to last.

Gladiators are formally retired from politics. Yet to conventionalize the last of his party there will be many who will turn to him in this hour of extremity and the slough into which they have fallen.

Six O'Clock. The most conclusive testimony recently laid before the public in the volume of his daily press, "The Six O'Clock," is the fact that the average man is not as well as he looks.

At the meeting of the Ontario Association of Physicians, held at Toronto, on Wednesday evening, the following resolutions were adopted: That the profession of medicine in Ontario should be reorganized on a basis of scientific and practical utility.

Mr. James E. Huddart, the promoter of the new Canadian steamship line to Antwerp, has been elected president of the Canadian Maritime Association.

WOMAN'S BUSINESS

Harry Copper was book-keeper in a large commission house, and his employees paid him because, though only an employee, he made their interests his.

It was towards the close of the day, and Harry was busy balancing his accounts. The only other occupant of the counting house was old Peter Phillips.

Harry had just closed the ledger when Jasper Groom entered the office. Jasper was Harry's mentor by two or three years and he had limited interest in the small house near by.

"Harry, my boy, have you heard the news?" cried the newcomer.

"I have heard nothing wonderful, Jasper. I got up on my feet this morning, and I feel like I am high up in the clouds."

"I have not heard of that," said Harry. "I have not heard of that," said Harry.

"I have not heard of that," said Harry. "I have not heard of that," said Harry.
