THE HOUSE AT THE CORNER

But I supposed it to be my portion. This thing was entrusted by me. "It is not much good that will you."

She made no reply. A low whining sound within the causer had caught her attention. She looked at the child...

She gave scarcely a thought to the confession she had to make of that night's folly. To the whole world she would tell. Her sister's life was at stake...

She was so busy with her thoughts that she did not heed the man who had followed her. He was a man of a certain type...

"You are not a man of a certain type," she said. "You are a man of a certain type." He looked at her for a moment...
