Wheat on passage to Europe amounted to 25,780,000 bushels, as compared with 81,400,000 bushels a year

After many weeks of lassitude, the market for wheat experienced a start up-ward, which culminated in a boom on Wednesday that drove the few remaining short traders to cover contracts with heavy losses. Speculation was light on Saturday when the gain' in price commenced but ly the middle of the week sales had mounted to the highest single day's record since November, 21st, just two months previous. The strength was due to unanimity of bullish reports. eculation was light on especially from Argentina, Australia and India, all pointing to decreased yield and remaining for export Argentine shipments last week were only, 56,000 bushels, while India exported but 186,000 bushels, and even Russian outgo was light at 1,26,000 bushels. My little friend wants to know what good it will do to learn the "rule of three" or to commit a verse of the bible or the catechism. The answer is this: Some time you will need that very thing. Perhaps it may be twenty years before you can make it fit just in the right place. But it will be just in place sometime, and then if you don't have it, you will be like the hunter who had no ball in his rifle when he was met by a deer. Lay up things in your brain. You may want them. A small matter, re-Uncle Ned—Nonsense! Fred—But it's not nonsense. His righ leg was left at Gettysburg, wasn't And he has a left leg still, hasn't he The Star Gazer.

Winter laying requires warm and plenty of food. The size of the cow and the am god eatent are no indication of what he will do at the pail or what t vill churn out. It may be a little early to look after the grain supply for next winter's feed-ing, but preparations can now be made to insure securing a good supply of "greens" for the winter feeding. The crop, rutabagas, turnips, beets, onions, small potatoes and calbages, are all especially desirable for winter feeding and are really among the essentials if oggs are desired. This is the turkey killing season, and while the largest turkeys are usually most salable, it is well for those who intend to continue breeding to save the or more of the old turkeys a second and even a third year. Such turkeys will produce stronger and thriftier chicks, less likely to be tender and injured by wet weather.

The wild turkeys always mate with the old and strong gobblers and in this way they attain greater hardiness than has our domestic fewl. The coarse grains are cheap this quite as cheap as hay or straw. They are much better for young stock, which needs to get its nutrition in a form that will not take it all day to digest it. That is the trouble in feeding exclusively on acraw and other course fedder. The animal can do no more than sustain life, and after being stunted all winter its digestion is so injured that it never fully recovers. Keep the young stock grow-ing, and it will be better for it during all its after life. Fowls that are plump and have plenty

There was 118 homicides in Chicago during the year ended December 31, 1895. Whisky and jealousy caused the most of them. For total deprayity and strocity some of them equaled any rimes since the days of Cain. Others, in which despondent or insane parents killed their families and then killed themselves, excite pity more than censure. A number of the homicides roved to be acts of self-defense, and ie slayers were exonerated from blame by the grand and coroner's juries. But one murderer was hanged coroner's uring the year, Harry Lyons, October 11, for killing Albert B Mason. Two are under sentence of death for murders committed during the year. Mr. Hugh McLaren, lighthouse keeper on Wolfe Island, is one of the best known men in this section, and to his vigilance in the performance of his duties is due the safety of the many craft sailing in that part of the St. Lawrence. Mrs. Mo. Laren, his wife, has been an inveiled for a number of years, and in conversation with a reporter recently, Mr. MoLaren stadd that she was rapidly gaining her old-time health under the treatment of that most marvellous of modern media.

matism, and for a considerable time was a helpless invalid. Her joints were swellen and distorted; her nights were swellen and distorted; her nights were sleepless and her appette poor and very tickle. During those years she gaper-ienced exeruciating torture, the pair never coasing day or night. She had the benefit of skilled medical advice, but the treatment afforded no religi, and we began to fear that her trouble had gone beyond human aid. On a number of occasions I had read in the papers of cases of risdumintism being oured by cases of rigumatism being oured, by the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and this at last determined us to give them a trial. She had used some three them a trial. She had used some three boxes before any improvement was noticed; and then we began to note that she stop better and that her appetite was improved. Then the pains gradually began to subfidly and after using about a dezen boxes she was able to get up and walk about. She continued they use of the pills for a while longer, and although occasionally she feels twinger of the trouble in changeable weather, she now unions better health than about. she now enjoys better health than shy has done for years, and can sleep as soundly as ever she did in her life. while her appetite never was better. I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; as a wenderful medicine, for I know thew have done wenders in my wife's case, and I I col certain that if any who are afflicted as she was will give them a good trial, equally happy results will follow, and I therefore give this test-tollow, and I therefore give this tests-mony freely, hoping that it will benefit some other sufferer. Mr. Melaren's strong testimony proved the claim made that Dr. Williams! Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail, and that they deserve to rank as the greatest discovery of modern medical science. The public should always be on their guard against initiations and subactiones which some amormpations deal-ors, for the bake of extra profit; urga upon purchases. There is no other remody "just the same as" or "just as goo ouy just the same as or just as good as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the gonuine always have the full trady mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box.

How Are You Standing It? Sir Andrew Clark, the eminent English physician, once said that he never knew of a case of physical breakdown from overwork alone. He attributed these conditions to the use of alcohol, follaces and habit producing drugs, such as office, morphine, escaine and chloral, is the majority of cases, and he predicted in-evitable collapse sooner or later for those accustomed, to a more or less constant stimulation to overcome the strain of pontinued mental or physical effort. There can be no doubt that the man who maintains his strength by the use of proper nourishment and refrains from stinulants will in every case stand the test of endurance long after the tippler has give up the bottle. Valuable corroborativ vidence of this is afforded by the experi ence of several professional men wh have taken the Lakehurst treatment. have taken the Lakehjust freatment at Oakville during the last four years. They tried hard work plus stimulants years ago; and they are doing hard work minus stimulants now. The treatment has re-moved the poison from the system and with it the necessity for its further use. and they consequently find their powers of endurance multiplied.
