SELL GOOD GOODS BELOW THEIR MARKET VALUE

Consequently we start to-day, Monday, July 13 with a good keen edge knife to cut away the profits on certain lines in each department.

You will see goods hopping around all over the store with their profits completely lopped off. Yes? and many lines where the knife was inserted too deep minus a part of their original cost also. We have too many goods and are determined to reduce the trade in dry goods don't lose sight of the fact that we also lead in groceries. Because we buy in large quantities to secure extra discounts and special prices, remember we none but the best goods and you can rely on our grocdries always being fresh and good

The large business we do enables us to turn over more goods than the average store consequently we can afford to buy large lots at cut prices, especially is this so in Teas, land we have now in stock extra value in all grades of Tea. Remember we import the bulk of our tea direct in 50 and 100 chest lots. Common sense will tell you that we live for hers money in quantities like this than the average small store that buy three or four, yes, and often only one chest at a time and we always sell as we/buy at the lowest possible price.

Give our teas a fair trial, you will get better value for the than most stores offer
