here within the residence of the bride's narents at the hour of high Wednesday of last week when Miss Millie VanDusen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. VanDusen, was joined in wedlock to Mr. W. J. Douglas, drug-gist, Collingwood, the auptial knot being gracefully tied by Rev. Andrew Wilson of Rosemont, an esteemed friend and former pastor of the bride. Miss, Maud Richardson of this place performed the pleasing duties of brideshaid and Mr. Geo. Bruce, barrister, Collingwood, those of groomsman. The bride looked very pretty in an exquisite wedding gown of ivory silk, richly trimmed with illusion and ribbons, and carried in her hand a beautiful boquet of bridal roses The brides-maid was becomingly and prettily attired in green and pink silk, and carried a boquet of pink roses. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations the company, mostly immediate relatives of the contracting with parties, surrounded an artistically spread festal board when a dainty wedding breakfast was served after which a very pleasant hour of social enjoyment was spent, toasts to the health of the bride, bridesmaid and officiating clergyman being proposed and responded to in a most felicitions manner. The beautiful array of plants and floral decorations inside were most pleasing and regaling to the senses of sight and smell. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents which testify to her popularity and show the general esteem in which she is held by a large circle of friends. Among the presents was a handsome Newcombe piano the gift of the bride's father. A beautiful piece of silverware was given her by the Presbyterian church choir of which she has long been a member and where the loss of her superior vocal powers will be greatly felt. She has, as well, been for many years a zealous worker and painstaking teacher in the Sabbath School where she will also be very much missed. About 3 p. m. the band appeared upon the scene and paid their warnest compliments to the happy couple who shortly afterwards were escorted by a number of friends to the depot where amid a liberal shower of proverbial rice they left on the 4.45 train for their new home in Collingwood, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends for their future prosperity and bliss ; that their happiness may ever be as complete as upon the day of this sacred ceremony is the ardent wish of the

W. J. McFARLAN & SON Every Need

Anticipated That's the sum and substance of this store news. No occasion for a pyrotechnic display. It's no news to you. Heads of families appreciate the fact more than they can ever tell, and more people are finding us out every day.

Every possible clothing need of man, woman and child has been anticipated. You can't think of a thing that we haven't got, and the prices we ask are a direct bid for twice over the trade we have now.

Things for the Home!

There are other things in the store besides dry goods -things for use and ornament in home. Time and again we have emphasize the fact that no other store begins to do the Carpet and Curtain business as well as we. You evidently find it so, for trade is growing beyond all expectations, and sales justify the efforts made to keep prices below the average.

A little money will go a long way towards furnishing house these days.

These stocks represent untold chances to win comfort and satisfaction at trifling expense:

CARPETS AND FLOOR OILCLOTHS. CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES. WALL PAPERS AND WINDOW SHADES.

Shoppers are becoming more and more critical in their knowledge of goods. We may advise you that carpets are below the retail market, that all classes of house furnishings are quick to adapt themselves to your every need, but what of it? It requires careful, consistent work in the store as well as sensible advertising to mak business successful in the sense of being thoroughly correct. The important fact is this: Every department is very wide awake, and no pains are being spared to make your incerests uniform with our own
