There are few workmen netter known in Guelph than Chas. W. Waldren, perhaps better known as "Charley Waldren," for he has lived in 'Charley Waldren.' for he has lived in fuelph almost continuously since he was three years of age, and he has now passed the 38th nille post. Mr. Waldren is a moulder, and has worked at that business for 22 years; and besides, being noted as a steady workman, he is a new lap. Knowing that he was again at work a Meneury reporter called at his residence one evening to learn the exact facts of the case. Mr. Waldren, when spoken to on the subject, replied quite freely, and had no hestfation in crediting Dr. Williams' Pink Pilks with his remarkable property. A CIGAR CASE. MISS WILLARD'S FIRST APPEAL Very Pretty Story of the Temperar

A pretty little story is going the round about France's Willard and Mary Liver-poze. Miss Willard, according to the gos-sps, and been engaged to be married to a well-known educator. For reasons hes nown to hersolf, she broke the engagement. They were both teachers in the ment. They were both teachers in the same institution, and he made things so distinct that time that she resigned. At about that time the temperance crissade was beginning and MissiWillard longed to throw horself into the fray. But she had her mother to support and there were other responsibilities which she could not ignore: She wrote to Mrs. Livermore for advice.

"She told me all the circumstances of her life," said Mrs. Livermore, in telling the story a few days ago. "She explained all about her engagement, why it had been broken, and why she had given up her educational work; she told me she had her mother to support, and asked me if I thought she would be unwise to devote herself to the work towards which she felt so strongly drawn. I had known something of her, and of her wonderful power as a speaker, shown in a narked degree by her influence, over her pupils, and with the lany hes tation I sat down and wrote:
