the grass never grow, and the sunny fields of Italy... Several changes were made in the by-law appointing pathmasters etc.

Cannot the Government do its duty by the job, instead of the day? We would respectfully suggest to Mr. Laurier that Sir Mackenzie Bowell be raised to the British House of Lords.

Upon what has it not put its leprous hand? It has dipped its finger in blood and written disease upon the broad chest and noble brow of thought, silliness and rascality upon the tongue of eloquence and song.

HERE IS WHAT HE SAYS: Gentlemen—My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of mine recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used it for one box effect a complete cure.

NO SLEEP—NO REST. I do not appreciate the words of John A. Roxy, who says, "I have never known a man who has not wanted to sleep."
