THE IVOY PALACES

Rev. Dr. Talmage Depicts the Glories of the World to Come.

Washington, July 29.—The Rev. Dr. Talmage, of New York, in his sermon to-day, depicted the glories of the world to come. He said that the world to come is a world of peace and joy, and that it is a world where the righteous will dwell in happiness and glory.

He Could Get Another Victim

A middle-aged farmer of German descent suffered the worst of a mix-up with the crossing of a train on the East side of the city.

He appeared at the office of the railroad attorney and after consulting with him, he decided to sue for the loss of his horse. He said that he had been riding his horse to the city, and that he had been crossing the train when it was crossing the bridge.
