

BOMBARDING KIMBERLEY.

Ladysmith Also Is Being Shelled With Heavy Guns.

Arrangements for Gen. White's Relief--Boers Threaten to Shoot Six British Officers if a Spy Is Not Released--Seizure of Wireless Telegraphy Apparatus Consigned to the Boers.

The London Daily Mail publishes this special despatch from its special correspondent Kimberley, via Hopetown, Thursday, despite the siege, which is being raised by the Quarterly Criminal Sessions commenced this morning, several jurors appearing in the town guard uniform.

"It is fortunate that Mr. Rhodes is here, for he takes a practical interest in the greatest problem which the community so far has had to face--that of relieving the destitute without pauperizing them. He is able to solve it as nobody else could."

"Yesterday it was considered advisable to remove a number of families on the outskirts of the town. Three hundred persons have been accommodated in the Exchange building."

BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

A despatch from Estcourt, Natal, says:--A helicopter messenger from Ladysmith, received here, states that the bombardment of that place continues, but thus far no actual damage has been done. The message adds that there is plenty of food, and all are well.

WAR OFFICE SATISFIED.

A despatch from London says:--The War Office is satisfied with the matter of pressing importance is again evidenced by the satisfaction with which the War Office officials heard of the arrival of the transport American at Cape Town on Monday, a couple of days before her time. The non-arrival of her precious freight of field guns and ammunition threatened serious delay in General Buller's arrangements for the relief of General White. It is stated that the first division still lacks cavalry, but in all probability the first arrivals of that arm at Cape Town will be sent to Durban, irrespective of which division they were originally assigned to.

COM PAUL'S THREAT.

A special despatch from Cape Town, dated Friday, says that Secretary Reitz has demanded that General White immediately release the supposed spy, Nathan Marks, who is confined to Ladysmith, coupling his demand with a threat to exaggerate the British officers. It is asserted that Marks entered Ladysmith after the investment of that place, with the supposed object of obtaining information for the Boers.

General Buller replied, according to the special despatch, that he was entitled to retain the man until he should render a satisfactory account of himself.

Nothing is known either at the War or Colonial Offices regarding the statement. The stories, it is asserted in official quarters, bear the imprint of improbability as there is no reason to think the Boers would be guilty of such a complete change from their previous correct attitude and manner of conducting the hostilities.

Nevertheless, the sensational afternoon newspapers here are already demanding that President Kruger send all the members of the Executive Council be ruthlessly hanged, as the only fitting reprisal in the event of Secretary Reitz's threat being carried out.

CAMP DUTCH LOYAL.

A special despatch to the London Daily Telegraph, dated Cape Town, Thursday evening, says:--The Boers are bearing Nantsovo. The line may be cut at any moment.

There are the best reasons for believing that the enemy, who have entered Cape Colony, are disappointed at their reception.

"They fully expected that the Colonial Africanders would join them, but from various reasons, probably including the pressure brought to bear upon them by Premier Schreiner, the Boer fighting strength from the Cape Dutch has hitherto been paltry."

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

A despatch to the London Daily Mail from Cape Town says that complete wireless telegraphic apparatus has been seized on a vessel there. The vessel was bound for Durban, and the apparatus was obviously intended for the use of the Transvaal Government. Suspicion in regard to the package was aroused by the anxiety exhibited by a Boer sympathizer as to its immediate transmission. But from its official connection with a certain European Government, this individual would have been arrested.

WITH FIXED BAYONETS.

A despatch to the London Daily Mail from Bloemfontein says that the Boer lines, because the Boers were unable to traverse the Boer lines, gives an interesting account of the fighting during the last week in October. The correspondent says:--

"After the failure to rush the town, Gen. Cronje had recourse to the tactics employed during the siege of Potchefstroom in 1891, making the advance to the town by a succession of trenches in echelon. Such a move had been anticipated by us for some time,

MARKETS OF THE WORLD.

Prices of Grain, Cattle, Cheese, &c. in the Leading Markets.

Toronto, Nov. 21.--We had about thirty carloads of offerings at the western cattle yards to-day, including 500 hogs, 650 cattle, 100 lambs and sheep, and a few milkers and calves. The only change in the market was that it was even duller than at the beginning of the week, and there is almost nothing doing at mere nominal prices.

Export and butcher cattle is quotable about what it was on Tuesday, but there is no active demand. The few sheep and lambs here were sold at weak Tuesday figures.

There is change in bulls, stockers, feeders, milkers, etc.

Choice hogs, sealing from 160 to 200 lbs., are selling at $4 per cwt., and fifty-four fat hogs at $3.75 per cwt.; stores are not wanted.

THE QUEEN'S FAREWELL.

Her Majesty Reviews Her Household Cavalry Before Their Departure for the Transvaal.

A despatch from London, says--Sunshine so brilliant that it compelled the Queen to wear a sunshade. The Household Cavalry before their departure for the Transvaal.

RESEMBLED A SHAMILESS.

The enemy lost heavily. For hours after their fighting line had been rolled back two wagons went slowly down the ravine, picking up the men who were killed by bullets or shells. The look-out tower was shot at several times, but the Boers were not allowed to approach it. The whole place was simply smothered up by the concentrated fire of seven guns and a thousand rifles.

His Mind Was Embittered by Losses--Thought His Intended Victim Was the Head of a Conspiracy Against Him.

A despatch from Toronto says:--But for his intending murderer's bad aim, Mr. Peter Small, the well-known bailiff, would have been shot and killed by John O'Grady, formerly proprietor of the Hotel Metropole, at the corner of King and Church Sts., on Friday afternoon. The man who was attacked escaped through his clothing and grazed his neck. O'Grady was arrested by P. C. Sackett, and a charge of shooting with intent to kill was laid against him.
