WILL THERE BE NO ESCAPE?

The Rev. Dr. Talmage Discourses on This Life and the Life to Come.

"It Is Appointed Unto Men Once to Die, But After This the Judgment"—Death Will Be the Ending of All Our Earthly Associations—The Dr. Preaches a Powerful Sermon.

A despatch from Washington says:—Rev. Dr. Talmage preached from the following text:—"It is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment."

In this audience, how many throbbing hearts, how many gleaming eyes, how many hopes, plans, expectations...

The three or four eulogists at night on a speaker's desk are more in proportion to the hundreds of passengers sleeping down in the cabin...

There is a very emphatic emphasis on the word "once." I know people who have so much grace that death seems to be attractive to them...

Death will be to us not a comma, not a semi-colon, not a dash, but a period. If our work at this time be uncompleted, it will stay recorded...

Again, I remark, in regard to the first crisis of which I speak, it will be the ending of all our earthly associations. The nicely folded letter of invitation will not reach us, and our foot will not sound in the rambunctious of the dance...

All our religious, all our earthly associations, WE WILL BE SNAPPED SHORT OFF. Again, I remark in regard to that first crisis, it will be the ending of the last part of it going out in fiery storm.

Oh, what a day that will be!—not twelve or four days long, not twenty hours long, but split up into the last part of it going out in fiery storm. I do not know but that the sun may rise as on other mornings, but the light will be in the clouds...

There are many in this house to-night who do not realize that they are in the last part of their life. They have put their case in the best of hands...

FREE TELEPHONES. In some towns in Germany telephones are introduced by tobacco companies as an additional attraction to cigarette smoking...

I remark, again, in regard to that crisis, that it will be one of irrevocable decision. If we lose our case in the court of "Common Edgus," we take it to the "Citizens," or "Supreme Court." If we are tried before a petit jury, and the case goes against us...

THE KING OF THE BEGGARS. In China beggars are organized into companies, regiments and battalions. While we have heard of the kings of many lands, and come to recognize men who have acquired superior power and influence in any particular calling as "kings of trade," and the like, the King of the Beggars will be the most readers a new dignitary...

TEACHING A SOLDIER TO SHOOT. Instructions imparted as to Gravity, Air-Resistance and Other Points. He is taught that the bullet travels through the air in a curved line, called the trajectory, and that three forces act upon it: first, an explosive charge tending to drive it forward in a straight line along the barrel of the rifle...
