muttered, "who told you?"

"Who is he?"

"I think I shall find out when I

The showman's imagination had never sourced Leyond nor his ears ever, heardsof a larger sum than a thousand crowns. He mentioned it trembling. There might be such a sum in the t sou more," was the answer. The nearer lantern threw a strong ight on Crusty Eyes' face; but that never dreamed of possessing such a man, and went toward it.

will deliver the boy to me there at the mere sound of the sum. Paris livres er exclaimed, peering down at him. let it be. Danae did not more quickly "It is only Taras, the monkey," Jethe mere sound of the sum. False let it be. Danae did not more quickly han said, timidly.

CHAPTER II. which saw the showman pay his second visit to the street before the Chariot which saw the showman pay his second visit to the street before the Chariot Or, there to stand gaping at the lighted windows and peering into the office of the darkness the way he had lighted windows and peering into the office of the darkness the way he had lighted windows and peering into the office of the darkness the way he had lighted windows and peering into the office of the darkness the way he had lighted windows and peering into the darkness the way he had lighted windows and peering into the office of the chariot of the darkness the way he had lighted windows and peering into the lighted windows and peering into the lighted windows and lighted windows and lighted windows and lighted wi house would not fly away and his dy; and perore ne could tell what to golden hopes with it—the twelve-year—expect, the boy was at his side again. The golden hopes with it—the twelve-year—expect, the boy was at his side again. The drawn a parcel of food from his saddle-bag. He gave some to Jehan. He was cold, and the chain galled him, left it here, the dogs and the boys did not dare touch it until he was as, would have killed it."

The man made no comment aloud tell what to time drawn a parcel of food from his saddle-bag. He gave some to Jehan. Even so, the boy, hungry as he was, did not dare touch it until he was as, suced that his companion was really. His face ached where the man had struck him. In the next stall two drunken men were fighting; and the but jerked him roughly to the crupper; and bidding him hold fast, started the devil never eat! Then, with a great sigh of relief, he began to eat too. For be knew that the devil never eat!

But none of these things was so noved the horse, which, setting off at an vel as to keep the boy awake; and sighing and drawing the monkey recamp. As they passed through the until about an hour before noon, they nearer to him, he would in a moment fair-ground of yesterday—a shadowy, have been asleep again if the moon, glastly waste at this hour peopled by the road, half a league short abining with great brightness through wandering asses and pack-horses, and not hurt you. Do you wish to escape, turally with his thought, it scarcely had never seen, stopped. "Get down," surprised him:

If you were loose, could you get breath; but the noise in the next. the one that is nearly through. Do you of it," he said.

Yes, yes," Jehan oried again, grop hole and looked. understand boy !" ing in the straw for the tool, which had fallen at his feet. "I know." When you are loose cover up the continued the other, in a slow, biting tone. "Or lie on that part swered, gravely. of it, and wait until morning. As You will find me outside." The boy would have uttered his trembling thanks, but lo! in a mo- through the forest, however, the ment the aperture was clear again; stranger stopped again. the moon sailed unchanged through an unchanged sky, and all was as be-the chain.

It was clumsy work he made of it in the dark. But the link was so much further verge of the forest. The same worn a man might have wrenched it words passed, but this time the boy open, and the boy did not spare his found a gold crown in the hole. fingers. The dispute next door covered the song of the file; and the upon ogres and glants. Instead, ansmoky horn lantern which alone other fency, almost as dreadful, took lighted that end of the stable had no possession of him. He remarked that effect in the dark corner where he lay. everything the stranger wore was true he had to work by feel, looking black; his cloak, his hat, his gaunt True, he had to work by feel, looking ing; but the tool was good, and the those days were commonly made of un-

"That is a lie," the other answer-stumbled to his place in the straw, ed, in a perfectly unmoved tone. "If the boy lay free—free and trembling, you like I will tell you what you did. All was not done, however. It' You taught him the latter half of the seemed an hour before the man settled atory. The other he knew before; himself—an hour of agony and susdown to the word 'province.'"

The other he knew before; himself—an hour of agony and susdown to the word 'province.'"

The other he knew before; himself—an hour of agony and susdown to the word 'province.'" own to the word 'province.'" pense to Jehan, feigning sleep; since at any moment his master might take auttered, "who told you?"

it into his head to look into things. "Never mind. You bought the boy! But Crafty Eyes had no suspicion. From some gypsies at the great chain rattle, and so assured himself fair of Beaucaire," the showman, and that he was there—so much caution he exercised every night, drunk or sober "Who is he?"

Crafty Eyes laughed dryly. "If I when his imagination, heated by hoof," he said. "Or, again, he may be nobody. And the tail patter. You have heard as much as I have. What do yout hir?" ear collops on Sundays.

Even so, the night seemed endless to have bought the boy," the stranger on the sky. Now he was hot, now answered, coolly. "What will you take cold. One moment the thought that the window might prove too straight The showman gasped again. "You the window might prove too straight for him threw him into a bath of per"It is my custom. What is his spiration; the next he shuddered at he possibility of recapture, and saw himself dragged back and flayed by his bru al owner. But a watched pot does boil, though slowly. The first strak of dawn came at last—as it does when the sky is darkest; and with it, orld.

"A thousand livres, if you like Not the sound of a faint whistle outside the window.

Al common mortal could no more have passed through that window was mere shadow beside the light of without noise than an old man can the could get another boy; scores of boys. But a thousand livres? A ground outside he heard the whistle thousand livres! "Tournois!" he said faintly. "Livres Tournois!" In his a score of paces away, beyond a low wildest moments of avarice he had wall, he made out the form of a horse-

It was the man in the cloak, who 'No, Paris livres," the stranger an- stooped and held out his hand. "Jump swered, coldly. "Paid to-morrow at up behind me," he muttered. the Golden Chariot. If you agree, you "The boy went to obey, but as he will delice." cla-ped the outstretched hand, it was noon, and receive the money."

Suddenly withdrawn. What is that the showman nodded, vanquished by What have you got there?" the riders showman nodded, vanquished by a cycleimed nearing down at him. suddenly withdrawn. "What is that?

"Throw it away," the stranger an-swered. "Do you hear me?" he con-time; and connecting it with the mar-A little later that night, at the hour tinued in a stern, composed tone. velous springing up of money where Throw it away, I say."

court-yard in a kind of fascination—come. The man on the horse swore dropped off at the first opportunity or perhaps to assure himself that the under his breath, but he had no remethat offered, and fled for his life—if house would not fly away and his dy; and before he could tell what to the stranger had not in the nick of shining with great brightness through wandering asses and pack-horses, and of the sleepy old town of Yvetot, which the little square aperture above him, a few lurking tigures that leaped up Beranger was one day to celebrate, but not thrown its light directly on ou of the darkness, and ran after Here the magician—for such Jehan them whining for alms- he boy shiv- now took his companion to be-stopered and clung close to his protector. ped. "Get down," he said.

But he had no more than recognized. The boy obeyed, and instinctively God knows what softening thoughts the scene before they were out of looked for a stump But there was no and pitiful recollections the beauty of sight of it, and riding through the op- stump, and this time his master, the night brought into his mind; but en fields. The gray dawn was spread- after scanning his ragged presently he began to weep,—not as ing, the cocks at distant farms were ments, as if to assure himself of his ampton, or any of the other princichild cries with noise and wailing, crowing. The dim, misty country- appearance, had a different order to pal thoroughfares, would have found negligent management at the other- way same way sa but in silence, as a man weeps. The side, the looming trees, the raw air, give. (Go to that farm," he said. little to attract his attention, says an wise more favored barbor. monkey awoke and crept into his the chill that crept into his ill-cover- Knock at the door, and say that breast, but he hardly regarded it. The ed bones—all these, which might have Solomon Notredame de Paris requires misery, the hopelessness, the slavery seemed to others, wretched conditions two fowls. They will give them misery, the hopelessness, the slavery seemed to others, wretened conditions two towis. They will give them to me."

or horne at other times with a hoy's gladness. For they meant freedom.

The boy went wide-eyed, knocked, led up or down the street, shop-keep-anchored in mid-stream and were tak-ship in research.

Ship in research. But presently, as they rode on, his and gave his message. A woman, ers seemed startled if you went in and en ashore in rowboats. Private com- of the deep straw, he shook with agony. The tears gan to busy themselves, and fearful-her hand, took up a couple of fowls straw, he shook with agony. The tears gan to busy themselves, and learning mer hand, took up a couple of towls would not be restraintly, with the man before him, whose that lay tied together on the hearth, marvel was that there should be any ged permission to erect at their own before it will they hid the face of the sky. Continued silence and cold resolve set and gave them to him without a word necessity for streets and shops at all. and darkened even the moon's pure a hundred wild ideas humming in his led took them—he no longer wonder-light.

Or was it his tears? He dashed them Who was he? Why had he helped back to his master in the road.

Who was had heard of ogres and who wild have a light to read them had heard of ogres and while the control of the latter. away and looked, and rose slowly to him? Jehan had heard of ogres and his feet; while the ape, clinking to giants that decoyed children into for- in his slow, cold tone. "Go into the a faint flutter of excitement round black mass, which gradually resolv- tened to ballads of such adventures, market-place you will find an inn A black mass, which gradually resolv- tened, to ballads of such adventures, market-place you will find an inn sed itself, as the boy's eyes cleared, into sung at fairs and in the streets, a with the sign of the Three Pigeons. few porters would straggle on with ing bribes from merchants. between two tenes of extract- the colait few porters would straggle on with ing bribes from merchants. re.

'Hush!' came from the head in a upon him in this grim companionship, them, that they may not be bought.
While offering them, make an excuse ampton to-day teems with busy life, accumulation of merchandise which recautious whisper. "Come nearer. I will that by and by, seeing a wood before that by and by, seeing a wood before white them through which the road ran, he to go into the stable, where you will and the population appears to be a minded me of goods rescued in haste The boy clasped his hands in an for lost. Sure enough, when they came ed. The question chimed in so na- way into it, the man, whose face he he said, sternly. Jehan obeyed, his teeth chattering, throught this window?" the man his legs quaking under him. He exasked. He spoke cautiously, under his pected the man to produce a large carving-knife or call some of his felstall, to say nothing of a vile drink- lows out of the forest to share his reing song which was being chanted past. Instead, the stranger made a a further end of the sta- queer pass with his hands over his such he might safely have horse's neck, and bid the boy go to the Three Pigeons at Yvetot heard a surprised at the appearance of the tuguese rule. "Yes! Then take this file. an old stump which stood by the way. horseman stop at he door. He a fifth link from the end; "There is a hole in the further side went out to meet him. Now, Yvetot "Look in the hole."

"What do you see?" the rider ask-

"A plece of money," said Jehan.
"Bring it to me," the stranger an-The boy took it-it was only a copsoon as you see the first gleam of per sou-and did as he was bid. "Get light, climb out through the window up!" said the horseman curtly. Jehan obeyed, and they went on as before. When they had ridden half way "Get down," he said. The boy obeyed, and was directed as done. Save for the presence of the lit- on the former occasion-but not until the bit of rough steel in his hand, he the horseman had made the same might have thought it a dream. But strange gesture with his hands—to go the file was there; it was there, and to an old stump. This time he found with a choking sob of hope and fear a silver livre. He gave it to his masand excitement, he fell to work on ter, and climbed again to his place,

> After that his mind no longer ran while for his tyrant's com- lets. Even his long boots, which in

BETHULE OBETHULF BRIDGE OPANGE OLIVE COLESBURG JUNG. KLEINPLATTS KNAODAR PLEWMAN RENSAURG AKATHER IMINILLA HENNING M NAAUWPORT JUNG. CARLTON THEBUS TO RICHMOND SHORTS LOVAN,-PALLSENO KARMBERG CYPERGAT. TOMBALENIE SHERBONIE BANGOR BUSHMANS HOENEY ALANJOALES SOUTHY FOOTE SARULT STERKSTROOM! MOUNT FUN CONWAY TARAISOURG TOP FAILWAY.

SPRINGFONTEIN

DONKERPOORT NORVALS PONT

KIRKHAM

PROVIDANCE

WAR SITUATION IN NORTH EASTERN CAPE COLONY.

TRUSVILLE

PHILIPSTOWN

BOTHAS D

me, do not speak to me. Do you un-

Jehan said he did; but his new maser made him repeat his orders from beginning to end before he let him is on the road to liavin and Har-thought it safer to go out and hold, his stirrup and ask his pleasure. "I shall dine here," the stranger answered, gravely. As he dismounted his cloak fell open: The landlord observed with growing wonder that its black lining was sprinkled with cabaistle figures embroidered in white. Introduced to the public room, which was over the great stone porch, and happened to be empty, the traveler ost none of his singularity He laused a little way within the door, and stood as if suddenly fallen into fingers, hardened by many an hour of landed leather, were black. So was work on the rope, were strong and the furniture of the horse. Jehan nolithe. When the showman at last ticed this as he mounted the third asking what his honor would take. The landlord, beginning to think him mad, ventured to recall him by the fire and remember what find the

"There is something amiss in this house," the stranger replied abruptly, turning his eyes on him. "Amiss?" the host apswered, faltering under the gaze, and wishing himself well out of the room.

CYPRESS GROVE

FISH RIVER

that I am aware of, your honor." "There is no one ill?" "No, your honor, certainly not."
"Nor deformed?"

"You are mistaken,"\ .the stranger answered, firmly. "Know that I am Solomon, son to Caesar, son to Michel Notredame of Paris, commonly called by the learned Nostradamus and the

To be Continued.

WAR BRINGS PROSPERITY.

Two months ago a casual visitor English Exchange. Lazy dogs were the railway station, and presently a ernment of one more means of extract- the coast fernment two see a gray horse. Drop this white good deal too large for the streets. from a great fire or some other disasy clasped his hands in an for lost. Sure enough, when they came with people is looking, and afterward remain at the busy to the wood, and had ridden a little one is looking, and afterward remain trams are laden with people. The ter Boxes were smashed, and stuff of pavements are crowded with men in the most incongruous description lay court no

About an hour later the landlord of ampton for some time would have been tom house of Delagon Bay under Porand yet not town, crowded as it was with the offi- Distracted merchants or forwarding ing that she could not make him out; but he coming a second Liverpools

THE MODISTES.

Little Dot-I dess they want folks makers have big signs sayin' they is BACK NUMBER JOYS.

Billy, wby don't you skate any more ? Well, I find it more fun to sit by

VIEW OF DELAGOA BAY.

TARKASTADO

THE MOST IMPORTANT, PORT, IN ALL SOUTH AFRICA.

Grossly Wismanaged by Dishouest Officials -Principal Articles of Diet Are Quinthe and Whiskey-Merchandise for the band mad Interior Ruined by Handling and Ex-

Delagoa Bay owes its great commercial, and just now strategic, import- dignily on Transcendental, who read the future ance to two important facts, First, it and rode the Great White Horse of is the nearest port to the Transvaal. Secondly, it is far and away the best natural port in South Africa, writes gressive Govern a'ıraveller. Bith these advantages are neutraltion, so that as a matter of fact many cal and so merchants preferred to send their tuguese G goods by the longer route through Na- ed his san Two months ago a casual visits. (a) via Dulban, metal, stated by deed, so but employed the

On arrival at that beautiful port we part of the expense, wharves where vessels migh. produces of Even the arrival of the boat-trains foad and unload with facility, but this though he rate with the mails scarcely seemed to eminently practical, if not philanthro- showing it. pic, request had been invariably refused because it might deprive the Gov- and quining

A I made my way from the landing and it serve But now all that is changed. South- stage to the town it was through an of that black. scarlet, men in blue, men in khaki; bel er-skelter as though dropped him a bottle officers, and privates, and tars, with from some mammoth grab bag. Im- out a glass friends and relations. The hotels are agine the army and navy stores lift- ject of his all full, even beds are scarcely to be ed in mid air and plumped upside down the whole all go with the fowls, and the white had, and landladies are reaping a gol- on the swampy, sandy shores of a the girl has made up on the swampy, sandy shores of a condition made up on the swampy. len harvest.

Any one who had not visit al South- tropical port—there you have the cus- cuses to a cers and men of the Sixth Division.

Every one seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will, for instance of the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will, for instance of the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will, for instance of the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will, for instance of the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will, for instance of the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents wandered amidst the ruins of will the seemed to be buying kit agents where the seemed to be buying kit agent where the seeme fleur; and though the jermer of these or keepsakes, The shops have risen what had been valuable ship's cargo, wine fleur; and though the jorner of these or keepsakes. The shops have risen what had been valuable ships; cargo, wines places was then in the latter was dying in land-huge placard reading. Officers outload had had expert the land-huge placard reading. Officers outload had had expert the land-huge placard reading. Officers outload had had expert the land-huge placard reading. Officers outload the bills of lading in their waved the bills of lading in their waved the bills of lading in their the one he four the amount of the amount of the land-huge placard reading. Officers outload the bills of lading in their waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading waved the bills of lading in their the land-huge placard reading wave thought he had never set a shopping going on you would think contents were making a blend which a word never set a shopping going on you would think contents were making a blend which a word never place, the gentleman was the every one had forgotten what even an oscrich might have regarded is spared the first place, the gentleman was the every one had forgotten what even an ostrich might have regarded is sparen to from top to toe in black; and though the wared till they got to south as discouraging. Delicate electrical tion, he had no servants behind him, he ampton.

wore an air of as grave consequence as Nightly outside the town's three mine lay scattered in the open, while though he boasted six. In the next than tree there are long quenes of pro-tinithe heavy sand were countless nuts. theatres there are long queues of pro-linithe heavy sand were countless nuts, place, his trace was so long, that and ple waiting for admission, and scores come and other parts of machinery, are cadaverous that, but for a great black ultimately get turned away. In fact, rendered valueless to the men of capit grapher of cadaverous and, but have been depoted with the control of the railway. In last, tendered valueless to the men of capital fraphics of the expression, people meeting him for wind that blows nobody good," and rels of treache were leaking into goods sible deputed. the war is realizing in some degree marked "To be kept dry;" sewing massible occusion Southampton's cherished dream of be- chines. Typewriters, church organs Southampton's cherished dream of be-chines, typewriters, church organs, public cloching, blankets, furniture, finour fu clothing, blankers, furniture, tin-ware and crockery-all were knocking our far would about in the open air, not merely at the mercy of rain, but of thieves in fited. At 1 and outside of the o ficial lines.

NO NEWSPAPER THERE. Little Dow-I dess they want folks tiful place, and for obvious reasons. If There is no newspaper in this beau- was kept co to know it isn't their fault the dresses it told the truth the Governor would send the editor to jail. If it did not discuss the scandalous state of things it would have no support among the only people likely to give it subscrip- ports of extions and advertisements.

There is, of course, a Portuguese stated hat Governor at Delagon Bay, a fort, an Melbourne army of petty negroids, officials about 114deg., F. as big as Filipinos, and with ancestry the afternoon splendid pa piazas and excepting and for the pub diriy street mality was call.

nenad pul British Con Stoom arbon-in it hat building e. the the he shouthed. la ubble and pro-cho la nibile and prodents to his er lering the pert. He recolumn for a Porhat borne suspect-Mery Same and tust r uz sese. In-The wis no had be diring he thet the Let bis salary those in chair

hey dot in perds take re. ag n ex-TI GLUS . I.

ppy

art grl

our fuicre to England before of Demark pess Miulia munuia his marriage

IS AUST nier . heat

ermone c: hade

Pale and Languid.

THE CONDITION OF VERY MANY YOUNG GIRLS IN CANADA.

FIELD

RIVER

ch indicated intended

Thore were

and the chang

le male ary

doil ok-

e. There was

Siderable add ion to this come lent-

Elisal. it was i vii. etetit

Jiu ...

Occa

BRIEPAL

ROUXVILLEO

ORANGE BURNER

They are Subject to Hendaches, Heart Trouble, and au Indisposition to Exertion-Parents Should Act Promptly to Such Cases.

Miss Alma Gauthier, daughter

Mr. Adelard Gauthier, proprietor of well known heter at Three Rivers Que, enjoys a vide popularity among her young friends, and they have to cently had occasion to rejoice at ha restoration to health after a serious Illness. When a reporter called to ascertain the facts of the case Me Gauthier was out of the fity on a It, but her father very gladly con ed to give the story of her cure said: "I believe that had it not for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my terAlma might now have been in grave, and I would be ungrated deed if I did not at all times kind foord in favor of the that restored her to health My ter's health first Legen to be several years ago. At first ble did not appour to be set we thought she would soon accustomed health. As they on, however, this proved no case. She grey weaker, w with herdach s, poor appeares and a feeling of almost languor. She was treated doctor, but still there was ment. She seemed fading awayi stairs she would have. times to rest on the w all her color and her inwhite almost as chalk was clearly many young women enter hood, and we feared it into consumption, One of the family urged he) Williams' Pink, Pills, a sented, and procured boxes. Before there was a slight ber appetite and we lo as a hopeful sign. And boxes were procured; it ush she day by day strength and 'r is now as hearthy a In Three Rivers, with her pallor and lancour entirely due to lit. Pills, and Lam rejoin-say so publicly The case of carries with it ents, whose daughters languid, easily headaches, or symptoms that mark progress of appendia, in kind Dr. Williams' France give more certain and than any other mesis promptly and directly. rich red blood, and at nerves, and cotr c' all ties incident to this cri Sold by all dealers paid as 50c. a box or $2.59, by, add essing liams' Medicine Co 1 Do what be aubatituto.

Agricult

MAKING FARMS When a farmer bus of his first thoughts increase its value, and course, increase his ing the soil richer so be the only way. Bu entire farm richer w cropping and selling It is upshill work. In me new land what the file make it more product lessening soil fertility. time the farm may be ing poorer, while it is ducing bigger cropsowner a larger incomnure the farmer applie returned in one or these take also from kinds of fertility that self did not supply to over phosphate and t come so exhaus ad the cannot be grown with tion of these minerals farmers have adopted They manure for the en for the land, and feel . in each crop the money fertilizer it has used is fair profit.

But there making land rich to value. Land will alw what it will pay the int defraying the cost of Sometimes better cuit will do this, though always better cultivation comsoil exhaustion. It is the business to exhaust fer ... is the way he gets his takes fertility as one for that nature furnishes, deinto as many forms ad he of kinds that will most like a profit. If he has enin doing this the farmer and the fact that it is the has made him rich masses more valuable than it for People will always b lie one man has done som on repeat. Thus often the /n' a new crop that proves w the land and the climate is of increased wealth, not in tel individual but to all the the neighborhood. It shou ery farmer's study to fin : profitable orops, so that he cure a much greater incem-In proportion as he be will be successful. But success to the farmer

all more apt to come to