

THE BRITISH ADVANCE.

Buller Captures Bergendal After Severe Hand-to-Hand-Fighting.

A despatch from London, says:—The War Office expects that peace will be established in a few weeks, although there is an increase in guerrilla warfare in the Orange River Colony, with the reappearance of Gen. De Wet at Helbron.

Boer commandoes are gathering at Senekal and Bethlehem.

General Buller's capture of Bergendal was followed by two days of severe fighting. The Boers determinedly held their ground. Two hundred Rand police occupied a small rocky kopje, and it required a bombardment with light and heavy artillery to dislodge them. Their commander, named Moosman, was taken prisoner.

The Boers continue to hold positions south of the railway at Belfast. On Monday two heavy guns shelled the British, compelling their transport to retire.

General Buller is advancing slowly along the north parallel with General Buller, while General Roberts is awaiting developments in the centre.

LORD ROBERTS' DESPATCH.

Lord Roberts' reports from Belfast, as follows:—

"Our movements are slow on account of the extent and nature of the country. To-day we made a satisfactory advance, and met with decided success. The work fell entirely to Buller's troops, and resulted in the capture of Bergendal, a very strong position two miles north-west of the main line."

"I met Buller at Bergendal shortly after it was reached by our troops. I am glad to find the occupation cost less than was feared, on account of the approach being across an open plain for 2,000 or 3,000 yards, and the determined stand of the enemy. The British killed and wounded 100 men, and captured 100 rifles and 100 boxes of ammunition. The Boers suffered most."

"I hope the casualties do not exceed fifty or sixty. One officer was killed and two were wounded. A good many Boers were killed, and a pom-pom, quick-firing gun, was captured.

"French advanced on the left to Swartzkopjes on the Lydenburg road and prepared the way for the movement of Poté-Carey's division tomorrow."

"Biden-Powell reports that he occupied Nylstroom without opposition. As the country where he and Fagel are operating is dense bush and veld it is not desirable at the present to proceed further north, and their troops are returning to Pretoria."

A despatch from London says:—The attempted British enveloping movement at Marhadodorp has apparently not succeeded. Gen. Botha has gone north with the Lydenburg road open. Gen. French is nearest to him, with better prospects than he has had hitherto in the campaign, and there may be an exciting pursuit. The country is difficult, and fever is following the rains.

Gen. Botha claims to have 15,000 men, of whom 5,000 will fight until death.

President Kruger is reported to be at Watervaldorp sticking to the railway.

GEN. ROBERTS' DESPATCH.

"Buller's advance occupied Machadodorp this afternoon. The enemy made a very poor stand and retired northward, followed by Dundonald's mounted troops who could not proceed beyond Helvetia in account of the difficult nature of the country and the enemy taking up a position too strong to be dislodged by the mounted troops. It appears that Buller's casualties were very few."

"French continued the movement to-day as far as Elansfontein from which he turned the enemy out with no difficulty. The latter retired very rapidly leaving cooked food behind."

General Buller's casualties August 27 were:—Killed, one officer and 13 men; wounded, seven officers and 37 men."

DEMAND REDRESS.

German Papers Furious Over Expulsions from South Africa.

A despatch from Bremen, says:—The recent expulsion of Germans from South Africa makes the press furious. Demands for Foreign Minister von Bülow's protection and investigation are made on all sides. The Hanoverian Clearer says that if England had not furnished evidence that the suspension of the expulsion of these Germans was well founded she should have made to take the consequences. The Weser Zeitung and Kölnische Zeitung take the same position, forgetting that Germany is almost weekly expelling American citizens with little or no valid excuse.

It is by no means impossible, however, that Germany will demand an explanation from England.

GERMANS WILL ENTER PROTEST.

The Foreign Office confirms the news to the effect that a German deputation from the Transvaal will be received and listened to. It was stated yesterday that the complaints of the deputation will receive careful attention and investigation.

He feared that the guerrilla warfare would drag along for a considerable period since the conditions in South Africa are wholly unlike those of Europe.

Details of the Relief of Peking Arriving.

A despatch from London says:—Accounts from Peking describe the wild enthusiasm which marked the meeting between the besieged foreigners and their relievers. The men and women cheered and shook hands with the officers, soldiers, camp followers—in fact anybody who accompanied the allies. The food supply had not failed, though the people in the Legations had to eat horseflesh. The Tsung-li-Yamen promised to supply them with food, but only sent a few melons. When asked for fresh meat, the Chinese officials replied that a state of war existed, and it was, therefore, impossible to grant the request.
